9-20-1970

Easterner, Vol. 21, No. 1, September 20, 1970

Associated Students of Eastern Washington State College

Follow this and additional works at: http://dc.ewu.edu/student_newspapers

Recommended Citation
http://dc.ewu.edu/student_newspapers/391

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the University Archives & Special Collections at EWU Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Student Newspapers by an authorized administrator of EWU Digital Commons. For more information, please contact jotto@ewu.edu.
Students not previously involved in student government, either here or at other schools, often find it hard to break into the organizational structures. The present constitution of the Associated Students restricts the new student even more. There are hard to break into the Associated Students which serves as a registered student government organization, homecoming, which organizes and promotes committee, which coordinates all social activities for the various student organizations, and coordinates social activities for the various student organizations.

Welcome to Eastern

It is a privilege for me to welcome you to Eastern. I sincerely hope that you will find here both encouragement and satisfaction in reaching your goals of educating yourself further. Eastern is a college which has traditionally placed a great deal of confidence in the ability and willingness of students to make responsible choices, both for themselves and for the campus community. The College in turn makes every effort, within the resources available to it, to make the choices meaningful and relevant.

The personal experience of starting at a college anew has always been challenging. It means new habits and responsibilities, new personal and social decisions, new opportunities and new frustrations, all coming at the same time. Today the experience is complicated by the growth and changes taking place in colleges themselves.

Good sense, and the maturity to be "your own person" will be important to you. Also important will be your willingness to seek directly and openly, in class and out, the consideration of opinions you may have.

True education does not very often provide pat answers, especially to the most disturbing human questions; but it does make available the means for each person best to seek his or her own answers.

Emerson Shuck
President, EWSC

Opportunities Abound

It is indeed a privilege to be able to welcome you to Eastern, if you are new to Eastern. It is also my sincere hope that you will take very opportunity afforded you while here to explore the knowledge of the world around you. These opportunities are not merely limited to those in the classroom, but extend into the areas of social activities, student government and athletics.

In order to make these activities and experiences meaningful, they have to be shaped by those of you who really care. All of this shaping can and hopefully will be done from within an acceptable system.

Your livelihood and the livelihood of the coming generation depends to a great extent on your energies and drive.
The easterner

Published at Eastern Washington State College, Student Union Building, College and 4 Streets, weekly during the school year, except vacation and holidays and periodically sent free by the Associated Students of Eastern Washington State College to all residents of Eastern Washington. Second class postage paid at Spokane, Washington, and additional mailing offices. Entered as second class matter at the Post Office at Cheney, Washington, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Copyright by the Associated Students of Eastern Washington State College. All rights reserved. Authorization to photocopy materials for internal or personal use, or the internal or personal use of specific clients is granted by the copyright holder, subject to the following conditions: (1) the copying is not for a fee, (2) the copy is not made or distributed for profit, and (3) the copying is for internal or personal or professional use, or for use by specific clients. All other copying is prohibited without the written permission of the copyright owner. Rights reserved.

PAGE 2

Sunday, September 20, 1970

EW NEARS EDGE

Student dissent at many schools has come to be synonymous with student riots. From Berkeley to Columbia and back again to the University of Washington, violence as a bargaining position for students has become commonplace.

So far, Eastern students have been content to air their displeasurers in a more civilized, rational manner.

Spring quarter of last year, Eastern came the closest to violence to date. A march on the ROTC building erupted into a fist fight over whether or not the American flag should be raised or lowered.

The conditions that make violence possible are present, especially when each side tends to over-react to the other during the height of the moment. "The Friends of Uncle Tom," an anti-black group organized on campus two years ago for the purpose of "nigger hunting," is such an over-reaction.

So is the gun one woman student admits she carries in her purse, "just in case." Weapons kept in dorm rooms, fires started around the campus, periodic eruptions of racial fist fights—all are indications of an uneasy period form Eastern.

Whether or not violence does occur here depends primarily on the students. If they remain willing to calmly discuss their grievances in a rational manner that shows they are of the calibre and maturity required to pursue a college education, there is no cause for alarm. But if they are not—if they are intent on disruption, if they are unable to act their age, if they are below the level of intelligence—then we will have war on campus.

K-House Has Open Door Policy

From the outside, it looks like any other white, wood-frame house in Cheney. But once inside, you realize immediately it is not just an ordinary house. The purple, green and orange striped walls of the front room, the wearing and going of several different students, none of whom live there, even the sign on the front door inviting you to walk right in— all of these elements combine to tell you this is a different kind of house.

It is Komen House, home of the "freely structured, non-sectarian group, Campus Christian Fellowship." Under the direction of the Reverend Cedric Hepler, K-House is open to any student. Any ideas are welcome, from religion to politics to the radical left.

"The constitution of the student organization says, 'There shall be no qualifications for membership, and no formal membership lists will be kept.'"

"The bulk of the students get their jobs directly from the departments," Dolan said. "We have no control over who is hired. We act as a referral agency.

There are two programs under which a student may work on campus, he said. These are the institutional and the work-study programs.

Under the former, the student is paid out of college funds and may work up to 20 hours a week. Under the work-study program, students are supported through federal funds, and payment is based on each applicant's financial need. The maximum hours a student may work is 15 per week.

Dolan suggested the student looking for work contact the various departments in addition to filing an application with his office.

"Usually the larger employers of student part-time help recruit and fill positions independently without using the referral service of the Office of Financial Aid," said Mrs. Shackette.

CAMPUS JOBS AVAILABLE

"This year, the institution will spend more than $500,000 on student employment," said Kenneth Dolan, financial aid officer for the college.

In addition to the college paid employment, there are more opportunities for work through the federally-funded work-study program, he said. Wages for campus employment start at $1.60 per hour and go to $2.84. Certain specialized jobs pay up to $2.48 per hour, Dolan said, but these are few and require special skills or experience.

"In most cases, the experience and employment skills required for the various campus openings are minimal," said Mrs. Shackette, Dolan's assistant. "Most of our openings are in the areas of clerical typists, food and kitchen workers, library assistants, tutors, teachers' assistants, laboratory assistants, athletic and recreation assistants, receptionists, and building and grounds maintenance."

"The bulk of the students get their jobs directly from the departments," Dolan said. "We have no control over who is hired. We act as a referral agency.

There are two programs under which a student may work on campus, he said. These are the institutional and the work-study programs.

Under the former, the student is paid out of college funds and may work up to 20 hours a week. Under the work-study program, students are supported through federal funds, and payment is based on each applicant's financial need. The maximum hours a student may work is 15 per week.

Dolan suggested the student looking for work contact the various departments in addition to filing an application with his office.

"Usually the larger employers of student part-time help recruit and fill positions independently without using the referral service of the Office of Financial Aid," said Mrs. Shackette.
Las Vegas Night Life Comes to Eastern

Parents Get Their Weekend

Bridging the generation gap can sometimes pose a problem, but everybody, young or old, understands a carnival.

Members of both generations have in past years joined together at Eastern to participate in Parents' Weekend, sponsored by the Associated Men and Women Students. Bob Simpson, past president of AMS, announced during the Spring quarter last year the dissolution of his group, but he said AWS will "probably continue to hold the traditional event."

No spokesman for the women's group was available during the summer -- for the moment.

Past years have seen the parents brought to campus for a weekend of Las Vegas type gambling—with phony money, of course. Floor shows were held in different parts of the Student Union Building, offering anything from chorus girls to strippers (within limits, unfortunately) to old-time "nickel-nasties" (silent movies, nickel to get in.)

Although the fate of Parent's Weekend is not known at this time, plans for it should be made sometime at the beginning of the quarter, if there is to be one. Invitations will be sent out at that time, possibly through the students.

Orientation Sked Given

(Continued from page 1)
Transfer students meet in Kennedy Library Auditorium.
10:30 a.m. — Associated Women Students, Tawanka (south dining room). Men's rap session, Showalter 109.
11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. — Lunch.
2 p.m. — Orientation group meetings, assigned rooms.
3 p.m. — Panhellenic cake party for all women students, Dresler Hall lounge.
5 p.m. — Banquet (served by VIP students), Tawanka.
9 p.m. — Freshman Mixer, Tawanka.

Tuesday, September 22
All Day — Fieldhouse registration.
7 to 9:30 a.m. — Breakfast.
9 a.m. to 12 noon — Discussion centers-open to all interested.
11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. — Lunch.
1 to 5 p.m. — Outdoor concert, watermelon feed, and meet "Eastern's organizations."
4:30 to 6 p.m. — Dinner.
8 p.m. — Movies — "The Ghost and Mr. Chicken" and "Blindfold."

Kennedy Auditorium.
Wednesday, September 23
7:40 a.m. — Classes begin.
9 to 12 p.m. — Street dance, downtown Cheney.
11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. — Lunch.
3 to 5 p.m. — Classes.
8 p.m. — Movie — "The Ghost and Mr. Chicken." Kennedy Auditorium.

Thursday, September 24
All Day — Classes.
1 to 5 p.m. — Outdoor concert, watermelon feed, and meet "Eastern's organizations."
5 to 6 p.m. — Dinner.
8 p.m. — Movie — "The Ghost and Mr. Chicken." Kennedy Auditorium.

Friday, September 25
All Day — Classes.
8:15 p.m. — Freshman talent show — Showalter Auditorium.
9:30 to midnight — Orientation Mixer, Tawanka.

WILCUME STUDENTS
Owl's Pharmacy
Cheney Gift Headquarters
120 F - Cheney

The Place to Go
Mosman's
In Beautiful Downtown Cheney
College Clothes At Popular Prices
Gov’t Involves Students

(Continued from page 1)

Writers Have Outlet

All are written, edited and guaranteed. Space available and whatever he has produced,

Teachers and Students Learn Radio Broadcast

You, too, can be a star.

All you need to achieve such fame and glory is sign up for a radio-televison class and fulfill the lab requirements.

Ron Hannes junior R-TV major and program director for KEWC-AM, said, "It makes no difference what year in school you are, we want freshmen and sophomores, people who aren’t yet involved in anything," to become involved in the R-TV program.

The DJ’s for both KEWC-AM and FM are R-TV students. Department Chairman Dr. Howard Hopf requires lab hours for all his classes, Hannes said, and these are fulfilled by working on one of the two stations. Although KEWC-AM is not broadcast over the air, it is hooked up by land line to the dorms.

Hannes said. The FM station can be heard as far away as Spokane at 89.9 megacycles.

The FM station plays what Hannes termed “middle of the road” music—classic, some blues and jazz. The AM station, which can be picked up at 665 KC, plays progressive and hard rock, he said, with a periodic news show.

In addition to the Associated Students, there is opportunity for involvement in a variety of specialized organizations.

More information on the various organizations such as the A.S. office: 26 Student Union Building.
Eastern Tries to Get Bus Route

How do you get into Spokane from Cheney if you don't own a car? Or, better yet, how do you get to Cheney and school from Spokane if you don't have a car?

At present, students are left to their own resources to find transportation between the two areas. But by the end of the year, if all goes right, the college and the Spokane Transit Commission will provide a regularly scheduled bus service between the two areas. But by the end of the year, if all goes right, the college and the Spokane Transit Commission will provide a regularly scheduled bus service without charge to students, said Frank Amman, assistant dean of students.

Amman and Dr. Bernard Taylor, director of the counseling center, are currently awaiting word from the United States Department of Transportation and the Housing and Urban Development committee concerning a proposal for federal funds for such a program. They have submitted to Robert Harter of the STC a rationale of how such a program would benefit the entire Spokane area.

The most obvious benefit to the college would be to the commuters, Amman said. If adequate facilities could be found in Spokane (such as the unused area under the new freeway), students could leave their cars in Spokane and ride a bus to Cheney. Since the bus would run on an hourly basis, each student could come and go at will, rather than rely on the needs of a car pool.

He would have no trouble finding a parking space near the campus, a problem that has been a constant in the past few years. But more than just commuters would benefit, Amman said. Students living in the dorms could rely on the bus to Spokane and be assured transportation back to the college.

Spokane residents could visit the college easily, and make more use of the programs the college sponsors. "It would provide greater use of the college," Amman said. The grant from the government could be as small as 100 per cent of the cost, he said, and could be for as long as two years. This would give enough time for the system to be fully tested. It would also allow enough time for the students to become used to it and make full use of the program.

After the two years, when the STC will have to take over, Amman said the college might be able to pay for the service out of student fees.

Although students would then be paying for the service, it would be indirect payment, he said. When the service will begin is not definite, said Amman. "We're thinking optimistically winter quarter. More realistically, though, it will probably be spring quarter."

In the mean time, students will have to rely on the old methods of getting to Spokane and back. If you don't have a car, there is always the thumb.

Bill's Tavern

Welcome Students

Drop In And See Us*

Pool, Snacks, Etc. . . .

On First in Downtown Cheney

---

Exclusive Designs

Hand-crafted 14 K. antique gold wedding sets in nine exclusive Weisfield's designs. Their beauty increases through the years.

2 FREE GIFTS

As an introductory offer, you will receive free a teakwood jewelry box and a diamond and pearl or antique pearl pendant with the purchase of any diamond at $150.00 or more.

"Downtown or University Shopping Center"

WE GLADLY GIVE CREDIT TO STUDENTS OF PROMISE
Eastern Sports

Varied All Year Around

FOOTBALL

Eastern's personnel at the forefront of Western's football recruiting trail to strengthen team. The Evergreen Conference has a strong football team. The Savagettes will participate in the meet at Provo, Utah, six weeks before the conference championships.

FOOTBALL COACHES

Eastern's football coaching staff will consist of two returning and two newcomers.

FOOTBALL REPORT

Eastern's football team is very strong and has the potential to win its first conference championship this season.

BASKETBALL

Eastern's basketball team is expected to do well this season, with returning players and a strong recruiting class.

GOLF

Eastern's golf team is expected to do well this season, with returning players and a strong recruiting class.

GYMNASICS

Eastern's gymnastics team is expected to do well this season, with returning players and a strong recruiting class.

TENNIS AND SWIMMING

Eastern's tennis and swimming teams are expected to do well this season, with returning players and a strong recruiting class.

By DAM NICHOLAS

Eastern Washington State College

Copyright 1970

Eastern Washington State College

Sports Editor

PH. 235-4655

301 W. 1st Ph. 235-4655

REMEMBER - Our

Knowledge of Things

is in Service.

Smith Jewelers

PH. 235-6312

408-1, Cheney, Wash.

OUR CLOTHING STORE

- Our Clothing Store

301 W. 1st Ph. 235-4655

Sunday, September 20, 1970

Page 6

Sunday, September 20, 1970

Page 7
Tradition Served

Homecoming is to college what apple pie is to Mom—one would not be considered complete without the other, and Eastern is no different from the thousands of other colleges across the country.

This year, during the week of October 12-17, Eastern students will be treated to the antics and activities of this celebration, ending with the traditional Homecoming football game and formal dance.

The game will be against Eastern's long-standing foe, Whitworth College in Spokane. The dance will be in the Davenport Hotel.

Activities Vice President Herb Jones, speaking for Homecoming Chairman Mike Moore, who was not available for comment, said the theme for the week will be "Scarborough Fair."

Although the schedule of events have not been determined, Jones released a tentative outline of the activities.

Instead of the usual parade through downtown Cheney, Jones said, there will be a carnival in the field behind Kennedy Library. This will include "about 6 carnival rides," he said, "like loop-the-loop, a ferris wheel, and things like that."

Providing music for the dance Saturday night, Jones said, will be the rock band Springfield Rifle, with the Variety Pack playing more subdued music.

A concert with the Classics Four is planned for Tuesday of Homecoming week.

SCENES FROM yesteryear (top) show the Savage mascot riding on Dryden Hall's float in the discontinued homecoming parade. In the bottom photo, two would-be vandals pay for the privilege in the car-bash. Then comes Eastern's answer to the Indianapolis 500, the tricycle race.