DAVID SPENCER enjoys an international reputation of excellence as soloist and conductor that crosses musical genres from orchestral and chamber music to jazz and pop music performance. Fanfare magazine has written: “There must be trumpeters as fine as David Spencer but listening to him play you would never think so.”

Spencer is one of the few musicians that have made Carnegie Hall appearances as both a classical and jazz soloist. He has served as principal trumpet with numerous orchestras worldwide including the Seoul Philharmonic, Manhattan Chamber Orchestra (NY) and the Orquesta Sinfonica de Asturias in Spain. He is a founding member and principal trumpet of The Memphis Brass Quintet and tours frequently as soloist and guest artist throughout the world. Most recently, he has appeared with trombone virtuoso Christian Lindberg in Brazil and presented the Chinese premier of Rhapsody in Blue for Trumpet and Orchestra with the Jiangsu Symphony in Nanjing. Dr. Spencer has earned degrees from The Florida State University and the University of North Texas.

Much in demand as a soloist, his recent performances have taken him throughout the United States, South America, Mexico, Europe, Britain and Asia, performing with at the Brevard Music Center, Dallas Wind Symphony, Virtuosi Festival in Brazil, Memphis Symphony, Seoul Philharmonic, Jiangsu Symphony and the Grand Junction Symphony. He is currently professor of trumpet at The University of Memphis School of Music in Tennessee, U.S.A. and has also been appointed Visiting Lecturer at the prestigious Music School of the Shanghai Conservatory. As a jazz artist, he has performed with legends, Freddie Hubbard, Michael Brecker, James Moody and Marvin Stamm among others and is a former member of the internationally acclaimed North Texas One O’clock lab band.

His recorded work has been praised by critics and can be heard on the New World, Summit, Pro Organo, Jigu and Meari labels. Spencer is a four-time nominee of the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences Premier Player Award and is a past member of the academy’s Board of Governors.
