Associated Student President Clint Hill has challenged Vice-President Bruce Ellis to a public boxing match early spring quarter.

The match, which will pit the two political foes against each other in the ring, will be held to raise funds for the winner's favorite charity.

"The students know we are the best candidates for a grudge match," said Ellis. "We want to get money for charity. Maybe Bruce and I can relieve some hostilities at the same time, finally doing something together for a cause.

Responding to the challenge, Ellis said, "I'm not afraid of Clint." The fight was confirmed, if Hill "is not afraid to show up." Hill said his experience was limited to between-round entertainment during amateur fights while he was in grade school. Presently weighing 160, he plans to go "into training immediately.

Ellis, with no previous ringside experience and weighing 145, said he did not need "to train to beat Clint."

The fight grew out of a casual suggestion by Administration Director Bob Anderson and will be refereed by Business Manager Bob Wright, assistant director of student activities. Activities Vice-President Herb Jones will announce an alternates committee.

Sports Funds Allotment Clarified

Dr. Robert Anderson, director of athletics, strongly objected last week to inferences that the Intercollegiate Physical Activity Council (IPAC) proposal to raise tuition would cause students to reduce their non-sport activities.

Reports came out of A. S. February that the legislature had allotted the athletic department $1,460 to maintain present athletic programs, when the athletic department was supposed to be paying off a debt of $8,171. Clint Hill, A. S. president, drew the conclusion that "after juggling the figures the net result was that athletics only paid about $1,000 of debt."

The debt was incurred by many people, although certain individuals were responsible, said Hill. The director of athletics, A. S. treasurer Wooten, former athletic director and present head football coach, was currents to $2,556 last year and over above the budget, he said. Giving a statement of financial aid for Eastern. A. S. treasurer Wooten guaranteed $360 per three-quarter year for the state colleges, $432 for the two universities.

The governor's budget request made during his annual State of the State address to the legislature, Gov. Evans proposed tuition to be increased to $447 per year for the state colleges next year, $465 for the universities.

The IPAC proposal would raise fees to $465 and $484 for next year.

Fees would be increased again the following year under both plans. IPAC would raise fees to $465 and $587 for the four state colleges, $495 for the universities.

Out of state tuition would be the same under both proposals, raising from $720 to $1,259 for the state colleges and from $1,080 to $1,841 at the universities.

The additional $1.9 million would go for in state tuition and fees would amount to $84.9 million, with $7.2 million slated for Eastern. IPAC's proposal would raise $81.1 million, with $6.8 million for Eastern.

The total difference between the two proposals, $0.6 million, would be raised through an increase in one-third of one cent on the state liquor tax. This tax increase would actually raise $0.5 million, according to IPAC's estimates.

The additional $0.9 million would be used for interest for student loans, Krueger said.

At the meeting, Dean of Men Daryl Mage said the raise in fees would hurt the average student more than those on financial aid.

"To the student on 100 percent financial aid, it won't hurt much. The amount of financial aid will be increased to cover the additional.

Change Made

Due to a coliseum sale the Spokane Coliseum parking lot will be closed for commuter parking next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Bruce Murray, assistant director of student activities, said Spokane Transit Authority will have their lot at Boone and Madison available for student parking on those two days.

Students needing material for environmental term papers or other projects concerning ecology, may borrow material from the Environmental Center library. The center is located in the basement of the Student Services Building at the corner of Perry and Fourth Street.

The center also has environmental petitions and a calendar of coming environmental events. Students wishing to reach "To the student on 100 percent financial aid, it won't hurt much. The amount of financial aid will be increased to cover the additional.

Robert Anderson, director of department, and even then only as and is on a "crusade ... to crucify athletic department." (See sports Students. column, page 6.) On November 25, the entire front page was devoted to a story about the cross country team not being able to attend the national meet in Kansas City.

Anderson's lament that no reporter from The Easterner has ever contacted him in an official capacity is not true. John T. is the sports editor who handles the majority of the news from that department maintain constant contact with the athletics department. and with Anderson personally, the editor of the paper has talked with him, before an official capacity, as has the associated editor.

In every one of those 17 issues, the sports program has reported at least two pages of the paper. On one—February 3, when they received one and one-half pages out of an eight page paper. No other department on campus receives that kind of coverage from the Easterner. However, the athletic department complains of a crusade against them.

Charges have been made by Dr. Robert Anderson, director of athletics, that The Easterner is "either incompetent or prejudiced" and accused of having "a crusade against the athletic department." (See sports page, column 6.)

He bases his complaints on a story which appeared on the front page of last week's paper concerning the athletic budget.

If relying on sources other than Dr. Anderson concerning a story on finance and budgeting procedures is incompetent, then perhaps we do not have the budget department. It is more likely that it is an attempt to get both sides to any controversy, a story of all the possible additional funds would hardly be considered controversial except by an overly sensitive and defensive department.

Sport is a recognizable kernel for a complaint on the basis of a discrepancy in the amount granted. See story page 6.

But his charge that The Easterner is on a crusade against the athletic department with the intent of crusading absolutely totally not supported by fact. Our record, in fact, shows just the opposite. The Associated Press said it preferably.

In 17 issues of The Easterner, only one article (last week) has even remotely implicated the athletic department, and even then only as a contributing party to what The Easterner considers poor budgeting procedures by the Associated Students.

City Nixes Street Course

Cheney City Council has said, no to Eastern's petition to vacate Ninth Street where it separates Patterson and the PUB, and F Street between Kennedy Library and the proposed inner campus.

"Surprised, disappointed, and a poor loser—you can say that was the way I felt about the refusal," Kenneth Kennedy said when commenting on the refusal.

Kennedy, director of planning and development, is also a member of the Cheney City Council and presented the petition with a motion for acceptance.

"We had discussed this project in a joint-city-college committee and I thought there was no question of its going through," he said.

"We want the streets closed for two reasons: Safety of pedestrians and the area can be included in the landscaping plans to be developed for the inner campus."

"Kennedy explained that closing the streets to through-traffic would allow more and safer room for student foot traffic between classes, and that its addition to the inner campus area would result in more grass area being developed."

In other council action, a bill to remove Hill from the legislative as chairman and only giving the president veto powers, was defeated after lengthy discussion.

The bill was presented as a constitutional amendment and would have needed two-thirds of the legislators' approval to be placed on the ballot.

The bill was defeated after lengthy discussion in the meeting last week, making passage of the bill impossible.

Another bill that asked that positions of the executive secretary, treasurer, and activities vice president went down in defeat.

Poets For Hire

Thomas H. Aslin, Eastern junior, and Michael J. Kiefel, Gonzaga University junior, offer an unusual service through their new firm, "Rent a Poet."

They presently take orders at their parents' homes at 4607 E. Fifth and E. 2309 Everett in Spokane.

"We usually ask some general questions about the occasion, biographical notes and so on to get a good idea of what the customer wants," said Aslin. The cost is usually $2.50 for a 15 to 20 line poem, he said.

The poets have had two orders their first week in business. One took Aslin about twenty minutes to write; the other one would take a little longer. "It depends on the content, but we can produce pretty fast on the whole," they said. They also work for some humorous poems.

Kiefel has composed 53 sonnets and 100 other poems. Aslin estimated his production at 200 poems.

Aslin was on the staff of the 1970 "Reflections," the annual literary publication of Gonzaga University, where he was a student. Both students had poems in the 1970 issue.

The money-making part is not the only aim of the business. Their hope is that their business experience will "give us footholds on the way to our literary careers."

Lease Offered Frat Council

Inter-fraternity Council and Panhellenic groups on Eastern's campus have been offered a 99-year lease on property southwest of the school on which to organize a "Greek Village.

The land is College-owned but will be offered for private bid next month if the property is not accepted by the Greeks.

There is some hesitation on the part of the fraternities that already possess land and housing but it has been concluded that this land has re-sale value and the money derived from rental, lease or sale of the property would constitute funds to promote the new project.

There has been general agreement among the Greek Groups that the Acceptability of such an offer because it will unite the organizations and promote student welfare, but it will be a formulated system.

Three standing committees were formed by the legislature. Established were the finance committee, to consider all financial matters relating to the welfare committee, to consider all financial matters relating to the welfare of the students and the political science department and offering jobs for a few students."

Hill asked:

"Are we serving the students, or just a serving student of the political science department and offering jobs for a few students?"

"After deciding the direction we are going, we must structure a system to use, a system that everyone can work with and in."

Hill's third category for consideration was to establish the relationships of the people involved. "We need to determine who has what authority. There is a large conflict now."

Hill will offer a list of proposed objectives and alternatives to the legislature within a couple of weeks for the council's opinion and consideration.

Many are wondering in what direction the student government at Eastern is going, and its late move by Hill appears to be an attempt to establish some kind of guide for his government. He hopes whatever they establish this year will be followed in years to come.

Drug Tapes Shown Today

Three video tapes on drugs will be presented today at 2:30 and 7 p.m. in Pence Union Building's multipurpose room at no charge.

Bruce Murray, assistant director of student activities, said the program, entitled "Drugs, Use and Abuse," gives the most factual and up-to-date information available on drugs. There are no scare tactics used in the tapes," said Murray. "People are allowed to make up their own minds after viewing the tapes."

The three tapes, produced by the Berkeley School of Public Health, are entitled, "Marijuana," "LSD" and "Speed and the Amphetamines."

Murray said all students and faculty are encouraged to view the tapes which he has previewed and found "very good."
Mountain Hike Included
In Nature Study Course

Including a trip to Glacier National Park, an intensive two-week program of courses concerning wilderness geography, ecology and recreation will be offered this summer, said Dr. Michael M. Folsom, of the geography department.

"A comprehensive eight-week on-the-job training in dealing with the geology and geomorphology, local mountain weather and climate, soils, and vegetation of the Glacier National Park area will be offered for five credits," he said. "Also available is one course concerned with the wilderness recreation by Dr. Patrick Whitehill of the HPERA department.

Following the regular summer session, the two will conduct a back-packing trip on the North Star Route in Glacier National Park, which will last about 11 days and cover 60 miles, Folsom said.

"Three geography credits and one PE credit are available for this post-season experience," he said. "A student completing all of this program will earn 10 hours of credit.

Additional costs for the trip will be minimal, though students will need for their own food and will share transportation to the park. Most of the camping equipment, except for personal items like adequate boots and sleeping bags, will be available for a nominal rental fee from the college.

Students interested in the program are invited to contact Dr. Dr. in Room 1810 of the Science Building, or Dr. Whitehill in the Fieldhouse, he said.

Family Picture Is Excellent Film

by Rick Wiggins
Tribune Staff Writer

Columbia Pictures' "I Never Sang for My Father," opens today, is the father-son relationship that "Lonesome, Holloway, and Man in the Moon," and is just as it should be.

"My Father" is the story of a young widow (Gene Hackman) who starts a family for her still-patriarchal father (Melvyn Douglas), but struggles to keep this dynasty going. After his mother (Dorothy Malone) die, she marries and sets off on her own.

This is a highly amusing story of the trials and tribulations of this average American family, and is outstanding and believable essay on adult family relationships.

The acting is impeccable, and there will be lines that are as magnificent as the aging father. Gene Hackman, Estelle Parsons (man and wife in "Bouie and Clyde"), and Dorothy Malone prove once again that they are one of the best casts.

As for the story, the generation gap is not only confined to the family, but also to the way of life. The Army will pay for all the recreation, but the latter dies, or returns to his job, and leaves the widow, father and son to make a new life.

Drill Team Begins Practice

The ROTC department is recruiting a drill team for interested men. The team will perform at some sporting events and will compete in the regional competition.

Commandant Dale Anderson will be instructing drill exercises from 8:40-9:30 daily in the Fieldhouse. The twelve member team will march for about 15 minutes in coordinated formations during the drill sequences. Inspection is also a part of the competition.

The Army will pay for all the uniforms and the Fieldhouse rifles for the drill team.

European Lit Courses New

In the spring quarter four courses will be available to students interested in the literature of Europe, said Dr. Richard O. Whitcomb, chairman of the foreign language department.

These courses all carry five hours credit toward Humanities requirements, while offering the student an insight into the literature of Europe, said Dr. Whitcomb.

The courses are: Ger 346, German Literature in English; Ger 369a, German Drama; Frn 346, Foreign Literature in English: The Search of Identity, at 10 a.m.; Fnn 46, Spanish Literature in English: Selected Masterpieces from Spain and Latin America, at 11:40; and Fnn 346, French Literature in English: Modern French Drama, at 12:40.

TRYING OUT ONE OF SEVEN new pool tables, Walt Zable, director of student activities, shows A.S. Secretary Verdie Jenks how to play the game. The tables are available at one dollar an hour, Zable said, in the recreation room, second floor of the PUB. Hours of the rec room are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and 6 to 9:30 p.m.

AA Acceptance Requested

Robert E. Teschner, a Moses Lake senior, has been accepted for enrollment by the University of Washington School of Medicine. Teschner is the first Eastern graduate to be accepted into the UW medical school since 1964.

Eastern is the only state four-year college which still does not accept the Associate Arts (two year college) degree as satisfying general college requirements. "There has been considerable pressure on Eastern to accept the AA degree," according to a memo from Dean of Academic Affairs, Phillip Marshall and Dean of Undergraduate Affairs, Henry- York Stein.

The per centage of enrollment by transfer acceptance applicants from junior colleges is declining. Eastern's representation is told repeatedly by community college counselors that they will not recommend Eastern to their graduates unless the requirements, the memo said. Eastern now loses less transfers from community colleges than any other state four-year institution.

Marshall and Steinei concluded that "they do not want to recommend a change in policy simply because of such pressures," however they pointed out that the recommendation from the Undergraduate Affairs Council has been under consideration for more than a year.

The recent findings concerning transfer student led to their request for immediate consideration by Academic Senate and Undergraduate Affairs Council of two parts of the general education proposal, they are that: 1) Social Science, Humanities, and Natural Science are areas for general education requirements. The student will elect 20 credits in two of the three areas and 15 credits in the third.

Courses available for election under this requirement will be named, and each designated for its most appropriate area, by department faculty and recommended for approval, as soon as possible, to the Undergraduate Affairs Council. 2) No single course may be specified for all students as a general college area requirement.

In addition, Marshall and Steiner requested consideration of a policy proposal in dealing with transfers who have earned the AA degree.

In general, the community college transfer to E WSC who possesses the AA degree will be required to complete a number of academic credits (a minimum of 90 at Eastern) equal to but no more than that required of any student who attends E WSC.

A priority will be established for each AA degree student in selecting courses to satisfy E WSC graduation requirements.

1) Courses to meet major and/or supporting course requirements. (It should be noted here that a particular choice of major or courses to meet certification requirements for teaching might cause the total number of credits required for graduation to exceed the established minimum).

2) Credits necessary to meet proficiency requirements, if any.

3) Credits necessary to meet distribution requirements not previously satisfied in the AA degree program. As many as possible of these courses are to be taken at the upper division level.

4) Credits as necessary to reach the total minimum required for graduation.

"Students who have not chosen a major upon entering E WSC will immediately move to priorities 2 and 3 in their first quarter of attendance."

French Musicians Appear Here

In a season marked by declining audiences for big time pianists and violinists, Jean-Pierre Rampal, flutist, and Robert Veyron-Lacroix, harpsichordist, go on happily as always attracting full houses.

This is a portion of the New York times review of the Duo Rampal/Veyron-Lacroix's sell-out performance in New York's Philharmonic Hall in early 1969.

Rampal and Lacroix, a flute and Keyboard duo, perform Tuesday, February 23 at 8:15 p.m. in Showalter Auditorium.

Rampal was born in Marseilles, France and his fellow musician, Lacroix, was born in Paris, France. Both men studied music at the National Conservatoire in Paris. Six of Rampal's records have been awarded the Grand Prix du Disque while five of Lacroix's have achieved similar distinction.

In the United States their joint recordings have been issued by Sony, Philips, Westminster, Columbia, and Musical Heritage.

Interview your interviewer

Interviewing isn't just a chance to display your talents. It's a chance to get information about employers. Don't waste it. Ask questions. To help you, we've listed some things that could affect how much you enjoy your future job. And finding work you enjoy is what it's all about.

1. Do you have a training program? Describe it.
2. What specific responsibilities are trainees given?
3. What percentage of your management ... are products of a training program? (come from a specific area or school? hold graduate degrees?)
4. What percentage of your management openings are filled from within?
5. If I join your firm and decide to change fields, can it be done within your firm?
6. What's the cost of living and the housing situation where I'd be employed?
7. Does your company have any additional benefits such as cost of living adjustments, employee group life and medical insurance, company-paid retirement plan?
8. How does your company's size and growth compare with other companies in the industry?
9. What is your company doing in the way of public service?
10. How does your employee turnover rate compare with other companies?
11. There must be some negative aspects of the job you're offering. What are they?
Cuts were made in football by having the football team take two 24 hour round trip bus rides to Boise, Idaho, and Ashland, Oregon. Also, $500 was saved out of the junior varsity officiating budget.

Anderson said he could not understand The Easterner’s objective. “The thing that I object to most strongly is the apparent crusade by The Easterner to crusify the athletic department. They are either incompetent or prejudice against the department.”

Anderson felt the facts had been misconstrued and second hand. “No reporter,” stated Anderson, “made any attempt to get the right information and no Easterner reporter was present at the A.S. meeting. The front page article was second hand. There was no accurate information and no Easterner reporter was present at any meeting.”

Summing up Anderson felt that the problem boils down to: What kind of a varsity athletic program does Eastern want? To carry out the current ten sport program a certain amount of insurance and equipment expenditures cannot be helped.

The recent allocation of money by student council to the athletic department brought an outcry from students and the editorial staff of The Easterner. A news article appearing on the front page of the February issue and the editorial on page two brought a disgusted reaction from Dr. Robert Anderson, director of athletics.

Referring to the statement on page one that reads, “Knowing of a $8,000 debt incurred by Brent Wooten, former head football coach, the athletic council turned down Anderson’s request,” Anderson stated “The debt had nothing to do with the athletic council turning down my proposal to eliminate golf and tennis. They just opposed the elimination of two sports in order to salvage the rest of them.”

“Secondly,” Anderson went on, “Mr. Wooten did not incur any $8,000 debt. The overexpenditure for 1969-70 amounting to over $8,000, the athletic council turned down the request by university officials after seeing the financial picture.”

Gymnasts Rest After Loss To U. of Oregon

The Eastern Men’s gymnastics team lost to the University of Oregon last Friday, 120-119. In spite of the team loss to the Pac-8 powerhouse, Paul Jensen and Randy Buss earned first place in the long horse for the Savages.

After the conference meet with WSU, the Savages will close out the regular season in the Evergreen Conference championship, March 4-5, at Ellensburg against Central Washington and Oregon College.

The Savages made the long trek to Eastern Oregon of La Grande the following night and once again displayed tremendous defense. Similar to Friday, Eastern was plagued by cold shooting and, with 6:17 remaining to play, the Savages trailed by nine. Led by sparkling team defensive, the Savages were able to fast break and cut the opponents’ margin to one. A steal by Darryl Harris and his pass to Randy Buss undermined the basket for a lay-in. The Savages lead at 61-60 and they were never headed.

George Gamble led Eastern with 18 points, 14 in the second half, and reserve center Jim Cowan played outstanding on defense during the Savage surge.

“We were extremely pleased with our team play and effort over the weekend,” Krause said. “It was a difficult time to play on the road and we played well enough to win both games. The defense was outstanding and we ran the fast break at its proper opportunity.” Krause added.

Savages Return Home Friday

Aiming to produce the most wins by an Eastern basketball team since 1957, Eastern will host Oregon Tech Friday night in the Fieldhouse at 8:05 p.m.

The Savages, who were all but eliminated from the conference race with a tough defeat by Western, rallied from a nine point deficit to down Eastern Oregon the following night 60-63. The split left Eastern with a conference record of 12-12 for the season. The Savages need two wins to equal the 14 victories by the 1957-58 squad.

The Friday night game with OTI and Saturday’s contest with SOC should be tough. In the previous meetings the Savages traveled both teams from before coming from behind to snag victory.

Jerry Krause head basketball coach expressed pleasure with his club’s performance last weekend and said his team is looking forward for the remainder of the season. “We have four home games left and I hope the fans will reward the players for their fine, exciting season,” Krause said. He also added, “If our defense will be as effective as it has been of late we’re going to score a lot of points. We have four seniors who want to finish out in winning fashion.”

Against Western, Eastern demonstrated the tenacious defense that is the EvCo lead, but a shooting percentage of 31 per cent hindered the Savages on offense.

Eastern led by five points with 12:46 left to play, but 17 Viking points went unanswered until Randy Buss sank two free throws with six minutes remaining, giving Western 62-52 advantage. At that time Western went into a delay game and Eastern never caught up.

Women Skier Race Tomorrow

The newly organized women’s intercollegiate ski team will participate in its first race tomorrow, competing against Washington State University at the North-South Ski Bowl near Pullman.

The team, which numbers about 20 girls, is looking for more members, regardless of expertise. Beginners and advanced women skiers are welcome, said team member Emily Nolan.

Other events planned by the new team include a race at Schweitzer Basin, February 20-27, and the Mount Spokane Ski Festival, April 15-17.

The girls have been working out since the beginning of the quarter, but anyone interested can still join the team by contacting Beth Parsons, PE instructor and ski coach.

RAY MAGGARD, the Kentucky Snake, goes up for a shot in a recent ball game. Maggard, senior co-captain, has been hampered by an ankle injury all year but has played outstanding defense lately for the Savages. He’ll prove of action as Eastern entertains Oregon Tech Friday night in the Fieldhouse.

Gymnasts Remain Unbeaten

An outstanding performance by Jeannie Wayerski led the women’s gymnasts to a resounding win over Pacific 8 members Washington and Washington State and Evergreen Conference rival Central Washington.

Miss Wayerski recorded blue ribbons in competition on the balance beam, free exercise and all-around. Team captain Janice Kato scored a first on the uneven parallel bar and Annie Moorman notched first on the vault.

Other high placers for the Savagettes included Ginny Bishop, second on the balance beam, and Sue Shinkle, third on the uneven.

Maxine Davis, coach for the defending National Champions, was pleased with the girls’ performance, especially that of Janice Kato. “Annie has really come on of late,” said Mrs. Davis. “She threw a giant cartwheel with a 9.0 turn which is a 10.0 move, the highest you can get!”

The Savagettes now must prepare for the regional championships at Eugene, Oregon, February 26 and 27.

The top ten girls in each event and the top two teams will qualify for the national meet.

Skiing-Bowling Results Given

Intemational basketball action came to a climax last week as all but two league championships were decisively resolved.

Eric Ellsworth’s Palanders finished regular league play with a perfect 6-0 record, capturing their third straight title with a 94-24 victory over the Roach Clippers and clinching the American League A title.

The snowy conditions at the Teton Village, four nights, meals and lift tickets are separate.

Skii enthusiasts (or lodge enthusiasts) can sign up for one of a dwindling number of bus seats on a first come, first serve basis by contacting Emily Nolan, one of the trip organizers, at 356-4542.

EW Ski Club Sponsors Trip

EW Ski, Eastern’s ski club, is sponsoring a trip to Jackson Hole, Wyoming, for three days of skiing March 20-24.

The cost for the “end of the quarter” excursion will be $49.90, which covers round-trip transportation and lodging at Crystal Springs, Teton Village, for four nights. Meals and lift tickets are separate.

For more information, contact Emily Nolan at the above number.

The ski meet was held at the National Championships at Eugene, Oregon, February 26 and 27.

The winning men’s team was Lambda Chi while in the women’s division the Snow Bunnies captured the team title.

The bowling league saw the Commodities and Split Finders tie for the American League title and in the National League TCU with a 10-2 record was the undisputed champion.

With the overwhelming success of the commuter bus, Glenn A. Grafe, chief of Campus Safety, was asked what effect the buses would have on the parking situation on campus. He said, "The buses will have no real effect."

Grafe said the commuter bus has "helped" in that there are apparently fewer problems since the Magic Bus system was put into operation. He said there has, however, been no real discussion of the effect the buses will have.

In the near future Grafe said he knows of one parking lot that will be put into use. "As soon as the weather becomes better a 400 space lot will be surfaced across from the receiving warehouse and Sutton Park on Washington Street. It will probably be a free lot for the remainder of the year."
