Rechanneling Of Funds Suggested

Proposal Encourages Athlete Financial Aid

AL gate receipts from the men's intercollegiate athletic program plus donated funds for athlete's financial aid may be deposited in the student financial aids account. The funds will be directly administered by the Director of Financial Aids for aid based upon need to individuals recommended by the Director of Athletics if Dr. Emerson C. Shuck's proposal should be accepted as college policy.

The proposal for the said program, drafted by President Shuck, is in line with action taken by the 1971 session of the state legislature which made athletic gate receipts legally available as financial aid to students in athletics.

Receipts Draw Fire

The gate receipts presently go into the student services and fees account, not the A.S. budget, said Shuck and therefore may be reallocated for budget use.

A.S. Treasurer, Mark Lobdell, contends that the student services and fees account was created by the A.S. and previous to that the gate receipts were deposited into the A.S. general fund budget.

The A.S. presently funds the athletic program to the tune of $30,000 a year, Lobdell said.

The A.S. is presently allocated $20 from the tuition of each Eastern student. Nine dollars goes for payment on building bonds, according to Lobdell. The other $11 is split with seven dollars going to the Associated Students general fund and the other four being dedicated to the student services and fees account.

The account also received such additional monies as those generated by athletic gate receipts, concerts and ads in the Easterner, Lobdell said. These funds have traditionally been reserved for use the following year.

The four dollars and miscellaneous generated revenues which comprise the student services and fees account are managed by a six-member Student Services and Activities Board consisting of the A.S. treasurer, the A.S. president, one A.S. legislator selected at large, Eastern's vice-president of Academic Affairs Dr. Philip Marshall, vice-president of Student Services Daryl Hagg and Vice-president of Business and Management Fred Johns.

The board, Lobdell stated, is charged with the funding of departmental related items.

Funds Unrestricted

The proposal states that "it is understood that the financial aid to students who are in athletics is not to be restricted to the money from donations or gate receipts; and it is further understood that financial aid supported by gate receipts shall not be known or referred to as "athletic scholarships."

"When an athlete has financial need," stated Shuck, "the college will try to meet this need out of its normal funds." This is in line with not discriminating against athletes, according to Shuck.

Lobdell opposes the proposal because it established a precedent whereby funds are earmarked into a financial aids account that can be drawn upon solely by athletes. He said this is the only place where an earmarked fund would exist.

"If we're going to give money to Financial Aids, let's just put it in the total pot and give every student an equal shot at the buck."

Secondly, Lobdell opposes the proposal because of the economic state which exists within the whole realm of student services and activities. The proposal would take the revenue from the budget back into what is essentially a college general funds account rather than returning it to an A.S. operating account. Monies from that account are used to refinance the next year's activities.

Lobdell added that if this proposal should pass it would hamper the other departmental related budgets because of less total money to allocate.

The office of the A.S. Treasurer has written letters to the other departmental heads stating why the A.S. officers are against the proposal and requesting a response from those departments. Lobdell said several responses of varying strength favorable "toward my viewpoints" have been submitted.

President Shuck drafted the proposal in February after conferring with people in the HPERA department and with the Director of Athletics Dr. Robert Anderson.

The president said it is an effort to support and maintain an intercollegiate athletic program which has become expected of the institution by tradition, membership in the Evergreen Conference, and request for expansion of the intercollegiate athletic program especially in the area of women's intercollegiate athletics, as well as sports not previously included in such programs.

Shuck said, "I am proposing, in addition to the specifics of the athletic proposals of the legislature, that the net gate receipts of athletic contests go to student financial aids office which will use the money for student financial aid based on need as for all student's aid, but with the opportunity for students who are in athletics to have use of those funds especially during the period of school from fall until spring.

The financial aids office commits every cent it has during the summer, Shuck said. The problem is that students who would like to come here in the middle of the year cannot because they need financial aid which just isn't available, Shuck added.

There would be no special treatment for athletes, the president said. The proposal simply gives opportunity for students interested in athletics to have access to the funds and it should be beneficial to the entire student body as it increases the total amount of money available for financial aid, Shuck said.

Concession $ Viewed

Another proposal on the presentations is that all income from vending machines in the HPERA facilities, net income from concessions sales at athletic contests and net income from sales and advertising-related to programs and broadcast rights will be deposited in a special account to be used only for non-recurring budget expenditures for the men's and women's athletic programs and intramural programs under the direction of the HPERA department.

The president stated that he would be willing to consider deletion of the proposal in line with the possibility that all vending machines on campus including the dormitories would go to the PUB operating budget.

This is an "expression of the judgement of priority needs," Shuck stated, and most everyone would "support the viewpoint that the problems of the PUB are indeed very serious."

Mike Baker, the newly elected Associated Students (A.S.) Executive Secretary, announced today the establishment of a new social activities governing board to be called the Social Activities Review Board. The A.S. Legislature, during a winter quarter, 1972, approved and endorsed the proposal for a Social Activities Review Board to assist the Executive Coordinator of Activities in the development and implementation of a campus-wide cultural and social activities program.

Baker stated that the Social Activities Review Board (SARB) will be designed to help establish the out-of-class program of social activities for the social entertainment of the student body. The SARB will act as the selecting board for concerts, films, dances, and other special programs that have traditionally been offered by the A.S. activities office. Each SARB member will be appointed to serve for the coming academic year. Any student enrolled for the 1972-1973 academic year at Eastern may apply in the A.S. Offices for an interview. Baker stated that, "I'm looking for students genuinely interested in developing first-rate social activities programs for the coming year." He hopes that all types of students representing many different viewpoints will apply for SARB positions.

SARB will meet once a month to discuss program possibilities presented by the E.C.A. and to review the E.C.A.'s budget. Each member on the SARB will be expected to assist in the development and implementation of activities programs designed to meet the entertainment needs of the student body, according to Baker.

Baker expressed the hope that the Social Activities Review Board will become a permanent addition to the A.S. government and will allow for broader representation in the development of each year's activities programs.

Blind Get APO Help

Blind students may have a better opportunity to explore the world of books thanks to the Alpha Phi Omega, honorary service fraternity.

The fraternity, in conjunction with the Washington State Services for the Blind (WSSB), is recording test books and other material for distribution to blind students throughout the nation.

"We will record whatever they need," said Larry Richards, project chairman. "We hope to complete about 25 books within the next six months. It depends on the size," he said.

The chapter has 12 members recording now and Richards said it hopes to utilize more volunteers, both members and other interested students.

The organization produces a master of each book or periodical and sends it to Olympia to the WSSB for copies which will be distributed throughout the state as well as the nation.

"Right now, we are working on books of philosophy and Electronic Data Processing," reported Jim Lee, chapter publicity chairman. He said the chapter will record newspapers and periodical upon request because of the timeliness of the subject matter.

Richards said the chapter will train interested students as readers. He said the training period would include formats and methods for producing the tapes to maintain uniformity in production.

He said interested volunteers may contact him in room 202 Kingston Hall, or by telephoning 359-787.

Orchesis Presents Musical Themes

This year's Orchesis presentation is entitled "Themes from Hollywood and Broadway," and will be on the stage Thursday and Friday night at 8:15 p.m. in the Music Building Recital Hall.

The program is free to students and the general public and will include popular themes, love songs, fox trot, and folk themes.

Orchesis is an internationally-known group which consists of members of groups on college and university campuses. The group here at Eastern consists of 23 dancers, whose experience ranges from that of beginners to that of professional level.

Under the guidance of Mr. Edith Bucklin, the group have all worked together to make the show, and have worked on various aspects of production in addition to dancing.

The members of the group have done all the work on the show, including choreography, costuming, lighting and sets, according to Terry Dick, a spokesman for the group.

Some of the highlights of this year's performance will be dances to music from the classic opera Tommy, and such popular shows as The Sound of Music, My Fair Lady, Fiddler on the Roof, The Music Man, Paint Your Wagon, My Fair Lady, and Born Free.

NOW ON DISPLAY - Student artwork, in various shapes and forms is now on display in the Gallery of the new Art Building in the Creative Arts Complex. The show includes not only paintings, but also sculpture and other handicrafts.

ANSWER: There is a noticeable seasonal variation in the type of treatments I receive. Within a few days, I received several letters similar to this one, which I can only assume was due to rainy weather driving people indoors. As you might imagine, some of the questions were more difficult to answer than others. I really do not know if men are noisier than women or what the difference is between a silent fart and an explosive one. Fortunately, the present letter is answerable.

The vast bulk of gas that is passed by rectum is produced in the small intestine and large intestine by bacterial action on various foods. The volume of gas and the composition of the gas is determined by the nature of the food material worked on, as well as by the type of bacteria involved. In fact, the bacterial population changes somewhat in response to different foods ingested.

The legumes (including navy beans, soy beans and lima beans) are pretty wicked gas producers. This seems to occur because they are broken down into low molecular weight carbohydrates and are acted on by a certain type of anaerobic bacteria (they work in the absence of oxygen) that live in the small intestine and colon. Careful experiments have been done to demonstrate the particular part of the bean and the specific bacteria involved.

Gas production from these foods can begin in about six to eight hours after they are ingested and last for as long as 24 hours. Diets high in meat contain produce heavy gases in larger volumes and are not recommended.

Please understand that you shampoo the olive oil out of your hair before you appear in public (or appear in public at your own risk).

Dry weather also results in dry skin for a lot of people. Frequent use of strong detergents on the hair results in an increased production of flatulence. What is it about these foods that cause this?

QUESTION: My wife and I have heard many strange stories about the can-do attitude among students. Can you comment on what you can do for the education system in the State of Washington?

In the State of Washington, students of high standards are faced with a future without the proper education.

Please understand that you shampoo the olive oil out of your hair before you appear in public (or appear in public at your own risk).

Between olive oil treatments, wash your hair only as often as necessary. Shampoo the olive oil out of your hair before you appear in public (or appear in public at your own risk).

As you can imagine, some of the questions were more difficult to answer than others. I really do not know if men are noisier than women or what the difference is between a silent fart and an explosive one. Fortunately, the present letter is answerable.

War Rally Shows Interest

Amid signs of “Dictators Rise To Power Through War” and “Fascism Will Come to America - Wrapped in an American Flag,” several EWSC faculty members spoke at a protest rally held at noon April 20 on the PUB steps. Sponsored by the Concerned Faculty and Students for Peace Now, the rally was, according to spokesman Phil Brown, designed to “test the increased bombing and escalation of military operations in Viet Nam, and give insights to concerned students about President Nixon’s military policies there.” One of the tertiary purposes of the rally, Brown mentioned, was to promote more student participation in the presently faculty-led committee.

Nearly 150 students and faculty members were on hand to listen to the speeches. Among those at the podium were: Lyn Triplett, professor of history, specializing in Japanese culture; Henry Kass, political science instructor, who emphatically said that “We have lost this war - we must rid ourselves of it;” Cameron Weekes, wife of faculty member Ted Weekes; Cedric Hepler, member of the campus ministry; and Andy Parnes, economics instructor.

Parnes, in speaking out against the Viet Nam war, exclaimed, “We have been bamboozled too long. The war is not winding down. It is still with us.” Reverend Hepler also added that “we cannot let ourselves be duped by anyone’s seemingly simplistic approach to the world’s problems,” and that President Nixon seems to have several “false prophets in residence.”

Mrs. Weekes, who has long been active in the anti-war movement, urged that anyone interested in the cause should act now. “We need action, and more creative action, than ever before,” she commented.

Spokesman Brown, a Viet Nam veteran, ended the hour-long rally by again encouraging more student participation in the organization.

War’s Ecological Effects To Be Rapped By Pfeiffer

Dr. E.W. Pfeiffer, professor of zoology at the University of Montana, will be on the E.W.S.C. campus Monday May 1st, to address a convocation on “Some Ecological Effects of the War in Indochina,” at 11:00 a.m. in Kennedy Auditorium. Dr. Pfeiffer will also present a more technical talk for students and faculty in the sciences, and all other interested people the same day at 2:00 p.m. in the Science building, room 207.

Dr. Pfeiffer has long been an outspoken critic of chemical and biological warfare in Vietnam. On March 3, 1970 he was among the scientists featured on the NBC-TV program, “First Tuesday,” in which he criticized the ruination of Cambodian rubber production in the aftermath of defoliation air raids in Cambodia. He was one of the scientists permitted to spend ten days in the Cambodia area to review the alleged damages.

Learn to be a pilot. Fly in your spare time.

Flying…what a great way to spend your spare time. Undergraduate Pilot Training (UPT) is the Air Force Reserve’s program that trains those who qualify to become Air Force pilots with a minimum of interruption from job, home life, etc. Qualifications include: being between 20½ and 26½ years of age; in top physical condition; hold a bachelor’s degree (or in your last semester); and satisfactory scores on the Air Force Officer’s Qualification Test.

The program begins when you go to Lackland AFB, Texas, to attend Officer Training for 12 weeks. Upon being commissioned a 2nd lieutenant in the Air Force Reserve, you go directly to an Air Force flying school for classroom and flying instruction. After one year of training, you will return to your own hometown, follow the civilian career you’ve chosen, and fly with your local Air Force Reserve unit, during your spare time and on weekends. Student Strikes Set Around The Country

(CPS) After a two-year pull America's college campuses became active with strikes, demonstrations and teach-ins prompted by the escalation of the U.S. role in the Indochina war.

The strike, backed by the National Student Association (NSA), the National Student Lobby (NSL), and the Student Mobilization Committee (SMC), grew out of an emergency NSA-NSL conference. Forty student leaders met in Washington to discuss the air war and to lobby for passage of the Mondale-Gravel-Drynan bill to cut off funds for the war. The eight Ivy League student newspapers agreed that same. We tend to print a joint editorial criticizing the war's escalation and calling for a students' strike. Two students of Columbia University responded with a call to all students to strike on Friday, April 21.

Several demands were issued last Monday, April 17, including: an immediate halt to the bombing of North and South Vietnam; the withdrawal of all American air, naval, and ground forces from Vietnam; the final renunciation of the Thieu regime by the U.S. government; and a return to the peace talks by the U.S. government.

NSA also issued an appeal to anti-war forces to bring massive pressure to bear on Congress in support of the Mondale-Gravel-Drynan "cut off the war funding" amendment.

Response to the call was immediate. On Monday evening several thousand Columbia University students staged a march down Broadway in New York City, three hundred students smashed windows at Stanford University, California, and Amherst College in Amherst, Mass., went on strike immediately.

In San Francisco 2,000 people stood in support of the NSA strike central in its offices in Washington, D.C. Three NSA members of the Vietnam Veterans Against the War. The demonstration was aimed at the U.S. flag from the flagpole in front of the administration building as students stood demanding the closing of the school.

University of Maryland-College Park students again attacked the ROTC building and, 1,000 strong, blocked U.S. Highway 1 into town.

Student demonstrations expanded to other campuses across the nation protesting increased activity in the war.

By Tuesday evening between 40 and 50 schools had confirmed their intentions to strike, with numerous others planning to hold strike votes on Thursday, April 30.

The ROTC building at the College of the Holy Cross in Worcester, Mass., was reportedly hit by a bomb blast Tuesday night while students from the University of the Americas rested outside the Naval Security Station in Washington, D.C.

To coordinate information flow, the NSA set up a strike central in its offices in Washington, D.C. Three regional strike information centers have also been established: the Colorado Established University of Colorado in Boulder; Rollins College in Winter Park, Fla.; and the University of Illinois at Champaign. Additionally, College Press Service in Denver, Colorado, is working with NSA to coordinate news for the duration of the protests.

Strike Groundwork Laid in February

(CPS) Although not planned as such, the groundwork laid by several antiwar groups for a series of spring protests was used to build the sudden mass support for the student strike on Friday, April 21.

Cooperation for the separate protests planned by the normally divergent groups coalesced as the "Paris World Assembly for the Peace and Independence of the Indochinese Peoples" held in Versailles last February.

In the largest demonstration almost ten thousand anti-war demonstrators marched through the streets of Paris on April 13, 1972. The rally was one of hundreds on campuses around the country between April 11 and May 15. April 1, regional actions at Harrisburg, Pa., (Bergrain Trial) and at San Jose, Calif., (Angela Davis Trial); April 15, Nationwide local actions against the costs of the war.

Besides those demonstrations a number of local anti-war demonstrations have added fuel to the present situation.
A Bit of Trivia

If you are looking for this column to be anything like last week, you might as well turn the page since this space is still cooling off from Jeff Jordan's ramblings.

Jeff revealed the behind-the-scene occurrences of Eastern's soap opera or what you always wanted to know about Savage athletics —— but were afraid to ask. Since he didn't leave much for me you'll have to suffer through some trivia.

As you probably know, yours truly was enjoying the warm smoggy atmosphere of Southern California. Despite a hectic schedule (well, sometimes) I managed to attend a couple of baseball games. If the player strike would have continued no one would have missed the season.

The only teams that will win at the gate are the ones who triumph on the field and those will not profit much. At San Diego the Padres and the San Francisco Giants drew an average of 4,500 the two nights I attended.

I had the pleasure of attending two of the more exciting contests of the young campaign. It seems to happen every year to Willie McCovey as he was struck by misfortune again. This time he suffered through some trivia.

The Eastern Washington Savages salvaged a rather bad week with a 7-4 victory over the University of Idaho in the nightcap of a doubleheader played in Cheney Saturday. Fortunately for the Savages they return to conference games this week on Friday night they face Eastern Oregon College in a doubleheader and then again on Saturday they play a twinni game starting at 10 in the morning.

In the first game against Gonzaga the Bulldogs, Steve Hertz struck out thirteen Savages in the process. Before Pros-souts come rushing to the man's door, however, he should be pointed out that Hertz was the beneficiary of a terrific windlass which added express to his pitches. Even Savage slowballer, Rick Holt, seemed fast on this day when few balls were struck beyond the confines of the infield. Gonzaga scored a run when Steve Waite singled and then went to third on another single by Dave Dewey. Thereupon a pop fly was struck back into the infield for the second baseman, Daryl (Casper) Parsons. In Parmain's defense it might be said that on a normal windless day the chance would have been handled routinely by the rightfielder. That was the ball, 1-0, Gonzaga. The second game was 1-1 and called after the 10th inning because of darkness. In a bizarre incident the game was held up 20 minutes by moths flying into the outer reaches of center field. Gonzaga scored their run off Tommy Thompson in the seventh inning on a combination of fielding, i.e., walk, sacrifice, and pair of mistakes by Eastern infielders. Savages batted it when Ken Conlin walked and was singled and then went to third on another single by Dave Dewey. Thompson was then tripled home by Steve Blake. That was all the scoring although the Zags did threaten in the ninth.

On Saturday in the double-header against the University of Idaho the Savages were completely swamped 10-0, in the first game. The Vandals clubbed out 11 hits off hereof ace, Don Freeman and Tommy Thompson and were themselves able only to collect three hits off Vandale ace Joe Kamps.

The second game was more like it, which the Savages won 7-4. Big Randy Kramer pitched reasonably good ball in holding Idaho to four runs and nine hits while the Savages were able to mount something of an offense in cracking out eight hits, evenly distributed, and collecting seven runs. A fine team effort.

Coach Ed Chisum felt Eastern's chances for the Evco title and an NAIA playoff berth were very good but the second half of the schedule would not be nearly as easy as the first. Included on the second half are games with Eastern Oregon College, Central Washington and Oregon College of Education. Not a patsy in the lot. OCE has lost just two games so far and is in good shape. Indeed, may even just improve from another.

The format for the NAIA tournament is that the top two teams from this district qualify. Presently Lewis-Cliark college and the team able to come out on top of the Evco stand the best chance of providing Northwest representatives. That is why it is so vitally important that EWS front well in upcoming conference tills.

Maplestone to Drake Relays: Thinclds Host East. Ore.

By Mike Mellor

Eastern's Bob Maplestone prepares to travel to Des Moines, Iowa, this weekend to meet a strong international field of milers in the Drake Relay. The Drake Relays, in which one may compete only by invitation of the relay committee, will give Maplestone the opportunity to compete against a big international group of milers, all looking forward to the 1973 Olympics in Munich, Germany, this summer.

A warm-up for Maplestone's entry in the Drake Relays was last Saturday in competition with Whitworth College, in which the Savage squad edged Whitworth 79-75.

Maplestone, a predominately miler and 5000 meter runner, joined teammate Barry Jahn in the steeplechase and the two placed first and second.

The surprise entry and victory in the steeplechase by Maplestone, plus Eastern's mile relay victory, was enough to overtake the Buck's and clinch the dual meet victory.

Besides winning the steeplechase, Maplestone eliminated the two mile by sprint past Whitworth ace Tom Hale and Bob Jahn, with 330 yards to go, to gain the victory.

Other standout: for Eastern were Barry Jahn's second place in the steeplechase, in which Jahn's time showed improvement each week by Jahn, according to track coach Gerry Martin.

Dave Baker, a young Eastern shot putter, threw the shot 30-4, first time ever over 50 feet, to gain first.

Placing second behind Baker was Scott Garske, also of Eastern. Garske, who has only competed twice this season since having a shoulder operation, has shown much improvement and Coach Martin feels Garske will toss the shot over 50 feet before very long.

Nick Lanneau's victory in the 800, another strong showing by a KWSC trackster, showed Lanneau's ability by running the event under two minutes, a first for the runner.

Coach Martin was very pleased by the mile relay time, in placing first at the dual meet and helping to gain the meet victory.

While Maplestone will be at the Drake Relays, the Eastern track squad will be host to Eastern Oregon College this Saturday at Woodward Field. Starting time for the meet is 1:30 p.m.

Coach Martin feels the Savage squad should be able to overpower the Oregon school.

Flea Market Set For Eighth Of May

Although the origin of celebrating on the Eighth of May is unclear, Eastern students refrain from questioning the validity of celebrating on this date, as they eagerly await its arrival.

This year, Monday, May eighth, the community of Cheney will encourage Eastern students to honor this festive occasion.

Because the Eighth of May commemorates the beginning of spring outdoor activities, the Cheney Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with interested Eastern students, dorm clubs, and organizations, is planning an outdoor Flea Market and street dance.

The festivities are scheduled to begin at noon with the opening of the Flea Market on the sidewalks of Main Street in downtown Cheney. Two or three blocks will be barricaded to keep traffic out and any Eastern students or Cheney residents invited to set up booths or sell hand-made (or otherwise) salable items right in the street.

If you are interested in participating in the Flea Market, there will be a sign-up booth open in the PUB from 9:30 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. Thursday, April 27.

Live music will be another attraction at the festival while teams compete for trophies and keys in such games as a leg-rolling contest, bicycle races, waterfights, tug-of-wars, and a road rally. There will be prizes for the winners of each contest and the team with the most points at the end of the day will receive a key.

All dorms, fraternities, clubs, softball teams and any other interested groups should start planning now to form teams that can begin getting in shape for these "physically taxing" events.

Tickets will be selling refreshments of hotdogs, pop, and ice cream throughout the day and any group is urged to set up any kind of money-making booth that they would like to have.

The climax to the day will be a free outdoor dance sponsored by the dorms, featuring the band "Running Bear." The dance will be held Monday evening at the Student Services Center.

Any students interested in helping plan the day can contact Ed Anderson, coordinator for the festival, or come to the meeting at 4:00 p.m. today in room 1E of the PUB.

If you cannot make it to the PUB, you're opening the door for every group to go to their conventions," stated Skip Smy ser. Jim DeWalt held a similar opinion - "I'm totally opposed. I don't think we should set this up.

Most legislators felt that some sort of precedent should be established and that the legislature should be consistent in every case. It was suggested that the Legislative Review Committee submit guidelines for allotting money for group conventions.

The Distributive Education Clubs, DECA, also required money to send someone to their National Leadership Conference in California. It was pointed out by Mr. Hopkins that attendance at this conference would put Eastern on the map and give it a lot of prestige." He also mentioned that DECA is a recruiting organization for Eastern and that attendance at the meeting would probably bring 50 people to Eastern, which would obviously benefit the school. "You can see the benefits that would be gained in the long run - you can't help but be successful." Some legislators felt that recruiting was the job of other organizations, as the Alumni Association. "I don't see where A.S. should be in the business of fund raising," commended Jennifer Davis.

Charles Knots was in favor of the request. "I would like to know how this legislature expects Eastern to get any kind of recognition if they won't let anyone attend national conferences," he said.

The request was voted down but a motion was made to refer it to the Student Services and Activities Fee Committee which funds department related programs. This motion was voted down also.

The last item of business at the meeting was the appointment of Mike Baker to the Lyceum committee which books administration-sponsored entertainment.

Campuswide celebrations will feature the band "Run Bear." The dance will be held Monday evening at the Student Services Center.

These three young men just made the discovery of a lifetime. The oldest is 34.

Remember when a young man could get ahead in business simply by growing old? It was a good system for those with a little talent and a lot of patience, but today's technology moves too fast to wait for seniority.

At Kodak, our extensive involvement in basic research has made the need for fresh, young thinking more pressing than ever. So we hire the best new talent we possibly can. Then we do both of us a favor by turning them loose on real problems, and giving them the freedom and responsibility they need to solve them.

That's how three Kodak scientists in their early thirties just made a breakthrough in liquid lasers, developing an organic dye laser with a continuous beam. Their discovery means more than just a new kind of laser. It means a whole range of new laser applications, in fields from medicine to communications.

It was the kind of discovery most men work a lifetime for. Yet these young men still have most of their lifetimes ahead of them.

Why do we give young men so much freedom and responsibility? Because it's good business, and we're in business to make a profit. But in furthering our own business interests, we also further society's interests. And that's good.

After all, our business depends on society. So we care what happens to it.
