4-2-1969

Easterner, Vol. 19, No. 28, April 2, 1969

Associated Students of Eastern Washington State College

Follow this and additional works at: http://dc.ewu.edu/student_newspapers

Recommended Citation

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the University Archives & Special Collections at EWU Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Student Newspapers by an authorized administrator of EWU Digital Commons. For more information, please contact jotto@ewu.edu.
An advisory task force has been created by the academic senate to "involve the students, faculty members and administrative personnel of Eastern in decisions concerning the future of the college," announced Dr. Stan Robinson, chairman of the group.

Composed of ten faculty members and four students, the task force's job is to evaluate position papers presented to it by any interested party, concerning the future of Eastern, Dr. Robinson said.

To date, between 10 and 15 such papers have been received from faculty members and one from a student organization, the Students for a Democratic Society.

Associated Students President Mike Murphy, a committee member said, "One of the aims of the task force is to arrive at a conceptualized view of the function of the college what kind of student is desirable and what kind of education should be offered."

Dr. Robinson emphasized that the group would have no decision making authority. "It will be the committee's job to correlate the material contained in the position papers we receive and then make that information available to the academic community," he said.

Although the committee reports directly to the Academic Senate on progress, Dr. Robinson and Murphy said a series of open forums were planned for later in the month to acquaint interested individuals to participate in the program.

Concert Due April 4

The Wrennach "Bel Canto Singers", Concert Choir and Orchestra will present a concert here April 4, at 7:30 p.m. in University Auditorium. The "Bel Canto Singers" and Concert Choir are conducted by Ron Jones, a recent graduate of Eastern. The concert will be open to the public.

The BEGINNING of spring quarter also marked the advent of spring weather, encouraging the practices of lawn-laying in front of Eastern's SUB. Activities caught by The Easterner's photo, too numerous to present, included everything from kite flying, lawn-raking and on down to the less publicized practices associated with the time of the year.

The Board of Trustees met over Spring vacation and approved the sale of B. M. million worth of revenue bonds at 6.349 per cent interest to pay in full the construction of the new SUB.

The bonds were purchased by John Do & Co. in syndicate with Seattle First National Bank and ten other finance houses, according to John Loftuspeich, secretary of the Board of Trustees.

The name of the future SUB was described as the "Onyx Plaza," Student Union Building to honor the former faculty member who taught here from 1925 to 1954.

Bids for the sale of the bonds was accepted by the board one day before the sixty-day limit for the sale of the bonds to pay for the SUB construction contractors, Hoffman Construction Co., said Loftuspeich.

If the bid had not been accepted at the Board meet there would have been readvertisement of the issue would have been made with added expense to the cost of the project.

Registration on the project is slated to start this week and completion is set for fall of 1970.

In addition to the $1.8 million sale of bonds, the government purchased $500,000 of series B bonds to help finance the future SUB's architectural project.

The Board also approved the renaming of two other buildings now beginning construction. The Regional Science Building was named in honor of the late Mrs. Zelma Reeves Morrison, who was secretary of Board of Trustees from 1957 to 1968.

The future Central Utility Plant will be named in honor of the late Paul W. Rossell, head of the college heating system from 1936 to 1961.

Loftspeich said the campus is expanding so fast, there is a possibility of ten building projects going on by this summer.

The Board also granted extensions with ten to fifteen Easterners Memphis.

Draft Counselor Approval Seen

The name of Virginia Chambers will be submitted by the five executive officers to the AS Council today for approval as Eastern's draft counselor.

With no reason to expect that Mrs. Chambers won't be the first choice, "there's always value for her work to begin", according to Gary Rentel, vice president, Office of Student Life.

She will be ready to help expand SUB service requirements and local board practices this week.

Memorial Funeral Slated in Remembrance of King

A memorial funeral service for Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., assassinated April 4 of last year, is scheduled for Friday, 11:30 a.m. in Highland Memorial Missionary Baptist Church.

Al Sims, president of the Black Student Council, organized the event, said the memorial service will be a complete re-enactment of Dr. King's funeral. "The thing only that will be missing is the body of King," he said.

In addition to the $1.8 million sale of bonds, the government purchased $500,000 of series B bonds to help finance the future SUB's architectural project.

The Board also approved the renaming of two other buildings now beginning construction. The Regional Science Building was named in honor of the late Mrs. Zelma Reeves Morrison, who was secretary of Board of Trustees from 1957 to 1968.

The future Central Utility Plant will be named in honor of the late Paul W. Rossell, head of the college heating system from 1936 to 1961.

Loftspeich said the campus is expanding so fast, there is a possibility of ten building projects going on by this summer.

The Board also granted extensions with ten to fifteen Easterners Memphis.
Memorials on Friday

Two thousand years ago Friday a man was martyred for speaking of truth, justice and love. The man was Jesus Christ. One year ago Friday another man, a follower and student of Christ, was martyred for speaking of truth, justice and love. The man was Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Both of these men were murdered because they shared with mankind the truths of God. They told us the hard fact that if man is ever to rise from this dung-heap of hatred, selfishness and violence, if man is to continue to evolve, if man is ever to be such a race as we could dare to call sons of God, then man must be willing to share with mankind the truths of God.

Good Friday is a day on which each of us should take time out from our- selves and consider what we, as men and as individuals, are striving for. Is this a race in which we can receive the inspiration needed to work for what we believe is true and good. Eastern is fortunate in having an opportunity to be reminded of tragedy. The Black Student Union's memorial funeral for Dr. King is a chance for all of us to remember—and to resolve.

Dr. King and Jesus Christ were both murdered, in a way, by each of us, but it is up to us to decide whether or not they will die in vain.

We can let them, as their ideals and goals, continue to live in each of us, or we can let them die in each of us.

To each student, faculty member, campus employee, and member of the administration, Good Friday meditation is a matter of conscience.

Let all of us be concerned enough about mankind to look into our own souls. For we will, perhaps be judged through organized ritual. Some will meditate in a personal way by themselves. Others of us, students and profs, will cut classes, in an effort to probe our consciences into action, and join with the BSU in the memorial service for Dr. King.

Letters to the Editor

The Sky is Falling! The Sky is Falling!

As a riderless horse—a man who lived 78 years on this earth. Hear the batteries of cannon hark the inspiration needed to work for what we believe is true and good. Eastern is fortunate in having an opportunity to be reminded of tragedy.

The Black Student Union's memorial funeral for Dr. King is a chance for all of us to remember—and to resolve.

Dr. King and Jesus Christ were both murdered, in a way, by each of us, but it is up to us to decide whether or not they will die in vain.

We can let them, as their ideals and goals, continue to live in each of us, or we can let them die in each of us.

To each student, faculty member, campus employee, and member of the administration, Good Friday meditation is a matter of conscience.

Let all of us be concerned enough about mankind to look into our own souls. For we will, perhaps be judged through organized ritual. Some will meditate in a personal way by themselves. Others of us, students and profs, will cut classes, in an effort to probe our consciences into action, and join with the BSU in the memorial service for Dr. King.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor

Concerning the article in the last issue of the Easterner about Colonel Pribnow’s presentation. He was asked to speak at the Inter-varsity Christian Fellowship chapter meeting (not Campus Crusade for Christ as reported). Also, we invited a retired Air Force chaplain to speak. It was unfortunate that your reporter failed to report the entire meeting. You see, your paper only gave the readers part of the news.

I.Y.C.P. is here on campus to present to each student the challenge of Christ’s life. We also try to discuss current happenings and how each of us as Christians should meet them. Therefore, your story only reported the happening but failed to report what was said concerning the Christian’s meeting of the problem.

Hopefully, next time you cover one of our meetings you will report what ALL happened. I wish you would have stayed for the real challenge of the meeting rather than just a segment that introduced us to the thing we were trying to relate.

Thank you for listening.

Gary Bush
President, Inter-University Christian Fellowship

Cards, Letters

Editor:

If you’re definitely feminine, you are an important part. You can brighten the day of a servant in Vietnam, make a new friend, and enjoy the pleasure of receiving interesting letters. Send an introductory letter with a picture enclosed if possible, to

Operation Mail Call
175th RR Co.
APO SF 96227

Sincerely,
Dave McKeever

The Easterner

Women's Edition

The Sky is Falling! The Sky is Falling!
Releases Baby for Adoption hatred, disgust and misery, I decided to enter a California home that the girl, let's call her Jill, had entered because there was no one else. Deep Purple's hits have been "Kentucky Woman," "Hush," and "Deep, Deep, Mountain High." They are currently on a tour of the western states, but they come from England.

Tickets for this show will go on sale in the S.U.B. and Tawanka April 8.

May 13, 14, or 15 is the date of another entertainment. Bids have come in from agents on Boyce and Hart coupled with Pete Barbutti, a comedian, and also on The New Christy Minstrels. No decision has yet been reached, and more groups are expected to be available.

Also missing from the Calendar is the beginning of the Coffee-House Circuit at Eastern. That date is May 5, when Mary Ellen Smith will appear in the S.U.B.

The Coffee-House Circuit, based in New York, sends performers on week-long engagements of college campuses throughout the nation. Miss Smith will be at Eastern May 5-10, one show nightly. She'll live in campus housing (hopefully, as soon as someone offers a single room), and she'll eat in the Commons (she'll be served... hopef ally a service organization).

The exact location of the performances are not set yet, but will be well advertised.

Another change, this one a deletion, is May 1. The Backporch Majority cancelled out of a scheduled appearance at the Spokane House, and therefore can't appear here either.

Poet's Presentation

Throbbing, Driving

Poetry Slam

By PATI MUTTON

“I am pitchin' the silence a prior to song.” The effect of Terry MacCormack, both the man and his poetry, was felt to be this way, as expressed in the line from his poem "Nightlight", written for Donald Justice, a man reaching out to the silence and giving vent to music. In a poetry reading in Ball Lounge Friday, his words which in some were sometimes bursting quiet, “beauty of nature and human faces...this silence in the end of the world”), sometimes throbbing, driving with staccato notes, almost in a monologue ("beneath rockets we breed a howl...you can't be a part of your birth...you can't feel the first breath. He read some with a pulsating vengeance, others struggled out in the voice of sorrow.

Listening to him read his works was an experience of longing tinged more than lightly with anger. A man was the searching cry of unbelonging, of being lost and unable to see, of being hated and bombarded by all that surrounds. He gave a voice to the cries sounding echoes within as all. He put words to the sounds he heard throbbing inside.

MacCormack, an English instructor at Oregon State and resident “radical poet,” seems deeply committed, deeply disturbed by the young man. Under him who profess concern and fear over the growing din of disorientation, he makes his feelings known and vocal. He tells

$725.00 Maternity Benefit now available to married students of (Name of school)

This is BIG BENEFITS maternity coverage that helps take the sting out of costly hospital and doctor bills. Doesn't quite when you leave college either. Pays as much as $50.00 a day when any member of your family is hospitalized plus additional big benefits for other bills including up to $15,000.00 for In-hospital Expenses other than Room and Board and up to $5,000.00 for Doctor Call and Home Care Expenses.

To find out how little this outstanding coverage costs you, complete and mail the coupon below today.

G E N E E U C K E R T & Associates
E. 120 WELLSEY

Bill McKen
E. 120 Wellesley
Spokane, Wash.

For more information see details under Maternity of Omicron's Big Benefits Hospital Plan.

Name:

Address:

City State Zip

The Jeff Beck Group and John Mayall, two British Blues bands, will make the Coliseum scene, 8:00 p.m. Saturday night, April 5. Tickets are $3.00, $4.00 and $5.00; an on sale now at P. J. Acey's, Bon Marche Record Shop and Valley Record Rack.

ANGUISHED UNMARRIED MOTHER RELEASES BABY FOR ADOPTION

By SHEILA MALLOY

"After nine months of self-hatred, disgust and misery, I looked at the perfectly formed baby in my arms and I realized that something good had resulted from the mess I'd made."

Imagine a 17 year old, and Jill has not told anyone about her pregnancy. "It's my baby, all the time. It's so hard. I think about it, and about my baby, all the time. It's so important to be able to talk to someone about it."

I asked a Spokane social worker who has worked with unwed mothers for several years what she considers to be the greatest problem that pregnant, single girls face. She answered without hesitation, "The intense emotional strain. Pregnancy is a strain on any woman, married or not, and the added anxiety faced on an unmarried mother by society makes nine months seem like an eternity."

I think the frequency of illegitimate pregnancies on college campuses demands a more realistic approach to the problem. Perhaps a social worker and - or an obstetrician could be deployed part-time as counselors. Girls in trouble, have to talk to someone who understands the problem, to someone who has information about what to do next.

The real problem is what to do with the baby. The real problem is what to do before the girl becomes pregnant. "I'm not necessarily against free love, but I am against free sex. People have got to stop using one another solely for what can be selfishly gained."
WASHINGTON College Queen Kathleen M. Kay will represent Eastern in the National College Queen Pageant in Palm Beach, Fla., this month, competing with finalists from each state. A sophomore at Eastern, she is a member of Chi Omega sorority.

Kathleen Marie Kay, a sophomore at Eastern, has been chosen to represent Washington in the National College Queen Pageant held in Palm Beach, Florida, in April, and will be competing for the title of National College Queen.

Based on her scholastic accomplishments and her leadership in campus activities, Miss Kay was chosen as State Winner from among approximately 300 college girls in Washington.

The twenty-year old Miss Kay is a member of Chi Omega sorority and is majoring in English. She is presently the AWS secretary, vice-president of her sorority, and secretary of Dressler Hall. Miss Kay will leave on April 11 traveling by plane to West Palm Beach. There, she will participate in a series of forums and will face nearly 40 national judges—educators, journalists, celebrities, who will score each finalist on her knowledge, academic achievements, personality, poise, and record of service to her college and her community.

Miss Kay said she entered the contest through her sorority and added "I'm very grateful to be chosen. I am really looking forward to the trip."

The entire Pageant will be filmed for television, in color. Miss Kay will appear throughout the film, which will later be presented as a TV Special on stations throughout America. The Coronation of the new "National College Queen" will be on Sunday evening, April 12, at 3:40 in the Student Union—Williamston.

For the past year, hundreds of college newspapers across the nation have encouraged students to enter this competition. Each contestant has been dominated by sororities and campus club groups. The final judging was completed recently in New York City, where the 50 finalists were selected.

While in Florida, the contestants can win more than $15,000 in prizes, including a trip to Europe and a Pontiac "Firebird" convertible.

The college girls will spend ten days in Florida, living at the Palm Beach Towers. During a series of seminars and competitive events, each of the young women will be asked to voice her opinions on a wide range of subjects. Forums will be conducted on education and campus life, general knowledge, current events, fashions, and career goals.

As future homemakers, the students will also be tested in the field of Home Economics. They will prepare their favorite recipes during a cooking competition conducted by Best Foods Division.

Academic Senate Discuss Gap

The Academic Senate discussed the possibility of installing an administrative coordinator to supervise and advise the students in financial need at Eastern at the cost of $40,000 over a two year period, but BUS President Al Sims stated better use of the existing offices would serve the student adequately.

Sims said help for the needy students on partial or full financial free rides at school "can be found at the Financial Aids offices and the Dean of Academic Affairs."

"The BUS itself helps the black students it recruits in financial and academic readjustment," said Sims.

Discussion of a "credibility gap" between the number of black students at school and the number of black instructors also arose. It was concurred by the Senate that the difficulty in finding available black instructors because of their field of Home Economics. They were working together for a system of more on an individual basis the people as a whole will live on a standard." Voluntary labor is as high as 60-70 per cent, said Reissner. There is no private ownership and people feel that volunteer labor profits society as a whole. "Cubans have a concept of trying to eliminate money progressively." They "have a sense of building a new ethic—a new man," Reissner said.

Also he said that the rationing of food does take place..."but the rationing must be understood in American terms. Things were rationed before the revolution by rationing money."

The Cuban population is still in the process of revolution. Revolution of economic policies, social policies, military and international policies. Integration of people into the revolution is accomplished by organizations like the Committees in Defence of the Revolution (CDR). These committees have duties ranging from detection of anti-revolutionary groups, or persons, to street cleaning.

The revolutionary spirit expressed in the slogan, "With the Revolution, everything. Without the Revolution, nothing," has solidified the Cuban people and given them hope for the future of their country, Reissner said.

Cubans have the right to free speech as "far as bitching and dissent with government ideas and activities. And the arts are much freer than in the Soviet Union—they are very abstract."

"Cuba looks toward the future with pride and with confidence," said Reissner. "The Cuban people are working together for a system that they believe is better, and they believe they will accomplish their goals."

Knowledge about Cuba and the Cuban Revolution is so lacking in the U.S. that most people know Cuba only as "a stop-over on the way to Miami," said Will Reissner, U. of W. graduate student, who spoke here at the end of last quarter.

Reissner recently returned from a six-week tour of Cuba and, in an effort to shorten the existing "communication gap," caused largely by the press," told students of the "new Cuba—Cuba since the revolution."

Arriving in Havana during the anniversary celebration of the revolution, Reissner said he lost his inhibitions and joined the Cubans in the gala, fiestas, and dancing in the streets. Most of the year, however, "Cuba is a frenzy of work."

"What one thing has changed most since the revolution?" Reissner asked a number of Cubans. The majority replied, "Everybody is working steadily now."

In Cuba, work is oriented toward the development of the economy by the people as a whole. Moral incentive is stressed, said Reissner. "If a person produces more on an individual basis the people as a whole will live on a higher standard."

U. of W. Traveller Defines New Cuba

While in Florida, the contestants can win more than $15,000 in prizes, including a trip to Europe and a Pontiac "Firebird" convertible.

The college girls will spend ten days in Florida, living at the Palm Beach Towers. During a series of seminars and competitive events, each of the young women will be asked to voice her opinions on a wide range of subjects. Forums will be conducted on education and campus life, general knowledge, current events, fashions, and career goals.

As future homemakers, the students will also be tested in the field of Home Economics. They will prepare their favorite recipes during a cooking competition conducted by Best Foods Division.

Academic Senate Discuss Gap

The Academic Senate discussed the possibility of installing an administrative coordinator to supervise and advise the students in financial need at Eastern at the cost of $40,000 over a two year period, but BUS President Al Sims stated better use of the existing offices would serve the student adequately.

Sims said help for the needy students on partial or full financial free rides at school "can be found at the Financial Aids offices and the Dean of Academic Affairs."

"The BUS itself helps the black students it recruits in financial and academic readjustment," said Sims.

Discussion of a "credibility gap" between the number of black students at school and the number of black instructors also arose. It was concurred by the Senate that the difficulty in finding available black instructors because of their field of Home Economics. They were working together for a system of more on an individual basis the people as a whole will live on a standard." Voluntary labor is as high as 60-70 per cent, said Reissner. There is no private ownership and people feel that volunteer labor profits society as a whole. "Cubans have a concept of trying to eliminate money progressively." They "have a sense of building a new ethic—a new man," Reissner said.

Also he said that the rationing of food does take place..."but the rationing must be understood in American terms. Things were rationed before the revolution by rationing money."

The Cuban population is still in the process of revolution. Revolution of economic policies, social policies, military and international policies. Integration of people into the revolution is accomplished by organizations like the Committees in Defence of the Revolution (CDR). These committees have duties ranging from detection of anti-revolutionary groups, or persons, to street cleaning.

The revolutionary spirit expressed in the slogan, "With the Revolution, everything. Without the Revolution, nothing," has solidified the Cuban people and given them hope for the future of their country, Reissner said.

Cubans have the right to free speech as "far as bitching and dissent with government ideas and activities. And the arts are much freer than in the Soviet Union—they are very abstract."

"Cuba looks toward the future with pride and with confidence," said Reissner. "The Cuban people are working together for a system that they believe is better, and they believe they will accomplish their goals."
Of Human Bandage

By Bill Stimson

I must have been about six, if I remember correctly, and I'm sure that is true since my father always remembered it. In fact, he said it was the best thing that ever happened to him. But even so, it was a long time ago, and I'm sure he would have forgotten about it if I hadn't written it down a few years ago. So let's get to it:

The school was a rough and tumble place where sex and liquor ranked high on every student's list of interests.

Now, people assume that Eastern has always been a place where the search for knowledge was the over-riding business of everyone, and where truth was held supreme in the hearts of student, administrator, and teacher alike.

But when I was a youngster (four years ago), students sometimes came to college just because they thought it was a good way to get a high paying job. Other students just showed up in college because they thought it would be a lot of laughs, or to avoid the draft (this was before the Vietnam War), and the teachers were always hounding them for criticism of their work.

I can only imagine what things were like back then, and I'm sure that if I did have my way in the legislature I would have done things differently. But I also realize that teaching was part of their jobs.

Benevolence or not, there were documented cases of teachers entering classrooms completely unprepared to teach the subject at hand (however they were able to fill the void left by their lack of preparation by holding genuinely interesting free-exchange discussions about their grandchildren, Vietnam, and other such subjects dangerously discussed).

These were the days in which teachers regarded teaching as "tenure" to keep their jobs. The details of this strange custom have been lost to history, but it is known that the term was coined by an old saying: "I got my ten years in — they can't touch me!"

Happily it was not long until this state of limitations for firing incompetents was abandoned, and teachers simply had to be good teachers if they wanted to keep on the payroll.

I sometimes wonder if I could have made this campus so perfect without the help of the State Traffic Court.

Traffic Court To Open Soon

Eastern's own Traffic Court will soon be ready to hear all cases regarding campus parking tickets in which recipients feel they are being unjustly fined.

Provisions for the new traffic court are contained in the revised Judicial Code of February 6, 1969, and provide for a judge with an assistant clerk. "The judge is supported by the Executive Vice President," said Gary Rentel, "and subject to the approval of the AS Council. The most likely candidate," he added, is Jim Mead, a senior with 2 year's experience in the Army Judge Advocate staff, including 1 year on the traffic court."

The date of the first court session hasn't been established, but by April 15 a list of those students who haven't paid their fines will be compiled by the Business Manager. The judge will be the Attorney General. The Attorney General will in turn issue summons to those students, who may either pay their fine or appeal it to the traffic court. The students then have 10 days to decide what to do before the case is turned over to the Cheney Traffic Court.

"The student traffic court has met with great success in other states," said Rentel. The court was set up at the University of Idaho handled over 500 cases last year.

"The court is also one more significant step in the progress toward student control of student affairs," he concluded.
That ultra-bad news winter has affected all spring sports teams, perhaps baseball more than others. Coach Ed Chissus has been unable to evacuate his troops from the confines of the Fieldhouse, first because of the snow and, though Chissus is pleased with the team's conditioning. Jim Chubb, senior righthander, developed a sore arm at the Banana Belt Tourney, where he was very impressive, and hasn't been effective since. Chubb was gotten into condition after his long layoff. Don Matson, Chissus prescribed more work to straighten out his ace of remedying the situation. He suggested calling a meet- ing of all the players with the coaches to discuss another problem. He hasn't been able to find the proper rhythm in his motion, causing him to be extremely wild. Arlington alleged that although his age (26), Arlington's only gripe is the fact he wouldn't go on the trip. Said Mayor, George Boxley, Jim Mua, John Mayther, Fred Brown, John Nash. "The council only has the authority to rule on matters where the recommendation has been given. It cannot over-rule a direct vote of non-confidence in our program," Wooten said. Board's request for a "council's only has the authority to rule on matters where the record," Wooten said.

Council Nixes Arlington's Letter Appeal

Jerry Arlington, who appealed head basketball coach Dr. Jerry Krause's decision to refuse him a letter to Eastern's athletic council, was turned down by that body in a 6-1 vote, it was announced.

Arlington, honorary mention All-Eastern Conference, and second leading scorer for the Savages for the 1866-67 season, was denied the letter on the grounds "that he did not meet all the requirements for receiving one," said Krause.

"Each player must play in 26 halves and have the recommendation of the coach; a recommendation I withheld," Krause said.

"The council only has the authority to rule on matters where the recommendation has been given. It cannot over-rule a direct vote of non-confidence in our program," Wooten said.

Council Nixes Arlington's Letter Appeal

Jerry Arlington, who appealed head basketball coach Dr. Jerry Krause's decision to refuse him a letter to Eastern's athletic council, was turned down by that body in a 6-1 vote, it was announced.

Arlington, honorary mention All-Eastern Conference, and second leading scorer for the Savages for the 1866-67 season, was denied the letter on the grounds "that he did not meet all the requirements for receiving one," said Krause.

"Each player must play in 26 halves and have the recommendation of the coach; a recommendation I withheld," Krause said.

"The council only has the authority to rule on matters where the recommendation has been given. It cannot over-rule a direct vote of non-confidence in our program," Wooten said.

Council Nixes Arlington's Letter Appeal

Jerry Arlington, who appealed head basketball coach Dr. Jerry Krause's decision to refuse him a letter to Eastern's athletic council, was turned down by that body in a 6-1 vote, it was announced.

Arlington, honorary mention All-Eastern Conference, and second leading scorer for the Savages for the 1866-67 season, was denied the letter on the grounds "that he did not meet all the requirements for receiving one," said Krause.

"Each player must play in 26 halves and have the recommendation of the coach; a recommendation I withheld," Krause said.

"The council only has the authority to rule on matters where the recommendation has been given. It cannot over-rule a direct vote of non-confidence in our program," Wooten said.

Council Nixes Arlington's Letter Appeal

Jerry Arlington, who appealed head basketball coach Dr. Jerry Krause's decision to refuse him a letter to Eastern's athletic council, was turned down by that body in a 6-1 vote, it was announced.

Arlington, honorary mention All-Eastern Conference, and second leading scorer for the Savages for the 1866-67 season, was denied the letter on the grounds "that he did not meet all the requirements for receiving one," said Krause.

"Each player must play in 26 halves and have the recommendation of the coach; a recommendation I withheld," Krause said.

"The council only has the authority to rule on matters where the recommendation has been given. It cannot over-rule a direct vote of non-confidence in our program," Wooten said.
for the third straight year with his performance, claimed fifth in the all-around and finished in the top ten in four events. His third place in floor exercise was his highest individual finish.

Carruthers’ senior cohort, Mare Cook, finished fifth in the all-around. Brady was in the top five on both long horse vault and still rings.

Benson blamed a bad showing in the side horse for preventing a possible third place finish for Eastern. Only one point separated the Savages from the fourth place team and only four from the third.

“We were hindered by a poor draw,” said Benson. “All our best events came up on day one and judges tend to low rate earlier performances.”

“It was a tough, tight meet as I predicted it would be,” Benson said.

The mentor added that the team

Nutters Host 2nd Matches

Eastern’s tennis team engages in its first meet of the season tomorrow when they host the University of Montana in matches beginning at 2:30 p.m.

Jim Brinson and Terry Martin will open the doubles and the number one and two men, tied with Montana State at Marksbury. Frank Martin and Dave Lanza.

Coach Bob Carruthers looks for a hard battle with the Grizzlies as they always produce good men’s teams.

The Savages swing into conference action April 11/12 on the road against Central and Western. The team has 13 matches leading up to the NAIA championships May 16-17 at Bellingham.

Brinsley commented that the new conference rule requiring six singles and three doubles matches per meet will hurt Eastern because of weaknesses in the lower brackets. Previously, five singles and two doubles were held.

Eastern’s first meet of the season was yesterday against Idaho at Cheney, the results being too late to get in this week’s Easterner.

Winter Athletics Letters Awarded

Thirty-two Eastern Washington State College athletes participated in winter sports have been awarded letters.

Brent Wheat, FWU athletic director, said 11 letters went to basketball players Wayne Gilman won a fourth-year award; third year awards went to Dave Founda and Joe Sims; George Anderson and Jim Botley received second-year awards and first-year letters went to Joe Bullock, Bill Broderick, Albert Gale, Dave Lofton, Mike Maloney and Cleo Ray. Ron Howe won a letter for two-year’s service as a manager.

Mace Honored

Mace Brady received a four-year gymnastics award, and Randy Carruthers, John Hens and Walt Prue three-year’s ones. Second-year awards went to Mikk Jolly, Jerry Kraft and Bill Sanford and Bob Holner and Jim Botley finished third-year awards.

Swimming awards went to eight, with Lincoln Bryant getting a four-year award. Don Lux and Paul Whiteham won three-year awards; Bruce Whiteman won an award for one year and five year letters went to Bob Henager, Bob Ingram, Ron Koch and Scott Thompson.

Mike Wright won a second-year award in wrestling, and four-year letters, went to Jerry Byrnes. John Latham and Steve Sarwatari.

as well as himself deeply appreciated the confidence and encouragement given the students in making the trip possible.

Prior to the NAIA championships the team had taken second to the Banus Gym Club at the Inland Empire Tourney in Richland, Washington. Carruthers was barely edged for the all-around title in that one by Mike Flansees of the Huskies, 52-651-80.

Central’s Wildcats, again favored for the conference title, will host their all-veteran diamond team to Cheney Saturday for the season’s first league games against Eastern.

Game time is 11:30 for the doubleheader.

Coach Ed Chissus has named seniors Bob Fox and Jim Chuck to start the contests for the Savages with freshman Randy Kramer in reserve.

Central returns all but one pitcher from last season’s Evergreen champs and third place NAIA finishers. In all, 15 lettermen return.

Chissus terms the ‘Cats a good, solid bush league all over, particularly outstanding defensively.

“We must do well here,” Chissus pointed out. “If they win on the road it will be tough to take away the championship.

Today Eastern travels to Lewiston, Idaho for games with Lewis and Clark. Chissus plans to use the contests as a conditioning exercise for his pitchers, as he will rotate freshmen Tom Thomopoulos and Randy Kramer, both football quarterbacks, and seniors Dick Roussou, Chuck and Fox.

Next Tuesday the Savage varsity travels to Pasco for a singleton with Columbia Basin.

Eastern settled for a belated third place finish in the Banana Belt Tournament Friday when they were denied by the University of Idaho, 8-1. The Vandals took second by virtue of the victory, finishing behind Washington State College.

The Cougars were the only team to have beaten Eastern up to the Wildgame, and they did try a convincing job of it, ousting the Savages in three games, 2-0.

Among Eastern’s victims was Walla Walla Community College, 8-1; Gonzaga, 13-6; Puget Sound, 6-4; and Idaho State, 4-0. The last three wins came in the Banana Belt and put the Savages into the semis where WSU was favored to reach the final.

On Friday the rains-delayed game with Idaho School was not played.

Prior to the Idaho contest Rocco Macarone, junior catcher from Walla Walla had the batting honors for Eastern with a .429 average.

The three wins brought Eastern’s record to 14-7-1 for the season. Dick Horch from Lynden, junior outfielder, sported a .35 average for five games.

Fresh pitcher Randy Kramer led the varsity pitchers with a zero earned run average for 11 innings. Eastern threw a two-hit shutout at Idaho State in the Banana Belt.

Bowling Leagues Going To Wire

Competition remains keen in the three divisions as the final round robin preceding the championship round nears completion in intramural bowling.

With the top two teams from each division scheduled to compete in a final round robin, the National League TKA No. 1 and Sutton Animals tied for first only two games ahead of the Sigma Nu Cleavers.

In the American League TKA No. 6 has a substantial nine game bulge over Sigma Nu Trojans. The sixth place Fisher Pearcy by only one-and-a-half games.

You Find The Girl—We’ve Got the Diamond!

The kind of girl you want to marry is not concerned with the size of the diamond you can afford. We’ve been in the business since 1887 advising young people like yourself. Explaining that a small stone with ‘fire’ is worth more in the long run than a larger less-perfect one. Come in to DOSSONS. Have a talk with one of our diamond experts. He’ll help you select a gem you’ll treasure. For all of your tomorrows…

DowNTOWN SHADY CENTER

FA 5-3289

MOSCOW, Idaho

MAKE SURE ITS A GEM

1.27 MONTHS TO PAY
Style Show Emphasizes Girls' Inconsistencies

"There Is Nothing Like A Dame," the annual style show, was presented Thursday evening in Kennedy auditorium.

"The selection of styles emphasized that, when clothes are involved, women are only consistent in their inconsistencies. Clothes were bright, elegant, experimental, and color was king. They ranged in personality from ragged to gentle, from sporty to ultra-feminine. Some of the spring styles were light and airy as the wings of a hummingbird while others were dark and heavy.

Red, white, and blue were the dominate colors. With soft pastels, such as mint green, pale pink, and tafford yellow, occasionally thrown to soften the faces, colors were used to enhance the scene.

Pants, in many styles, played an important role in the show. Legs were flared to varied degrees of futility or hung straight from the hips. Absent from the scene were tight-fitting pants, as in avant garde designs. Hemlines varied depending on the occasion and the weather. The sporty look has a shortest hemline reaching up to the knee. The knee-length, more elaborate dresses had hemlines that nearly reached the floor. No one wore a hemline below the top of the knee.

"A quartet consisting of Mel Barnes, of the history department, George Johnston, of the English department, and William H. Bush, of the psychology department, present the spring fashions furnished by Taylor's, a favorite of Spokane citizens."

Filing Opens for Positions

Every spring, the incoming officers of the Associated Students are responsible for appointing people to council committees for the following year. Any student may serve on all the committees that the AS Office has to be filled.

Faculty members on the task force are: Dr. Robinson, Dr. James Smook, Jim Prekeges, Dr. Phil Martineau, and Mary Jane Miller. Pete Hagelin, Orland Killin, Elroy McInerney, and Ed Zane are the student members. Miss Lorena Holshoy. Student Officers of the Associated Students."

Legislature Acts On College-Oriented Bills

Eastern is the only school among state colleges and universities that didn't lose money in either the Senate or the House of Representatives. Both bills, however, will now be heard by the Senate since Eastern is the only school on either campus that elected more than the original Governor's bills recommended. In addition, the Senate has passed two resolutions aimed at controlling the legislature's "concern over people being adequately dealt with."

"Much talk and debate has been done on the parliamentary maneuver concerning the obscenity bills, but no bill is currently being passed directly dealing with the subject, although many are pending. Some of the resolutions are saying that nothing will pass, due to the difficulty in coming up with a bill correctly defining the problem. The bill against the distribution of obscene material has not been successful."

"Perhaps the closest thing that would put a student on the Board of Trustees, proposed by Governor Dan Evans, which would give voting rights to a college student on each institution's board of trustees, is still alive, as is a bill concerning scholarships (Financial Aid). Both bills are under consideration, but nothing is currently being done about either."

"The above resolutions were discussed during recent sessions of the state legislature, attended by K.K. Kennedy, Director of Development and Planning."

Organon Effort: Near Excellence

The first issue of Eastern's "Organon," a journal of the arts and sciences, achieves a degree of excellence rarely found in any but the finest, long-established, scholarly publications.

"The journal is a challenging experience in learning. Articles in the first issue include three book reviews, critiques of two plays, and studies dealing with anthropology, the humanities, history, and English."

Five Chosen

Eastern entered five students in the five-day Pi Kappa Delta National Forensics tournament at Arizona State University this week.

Organon "will be published quarterly. It is sponsored by the Graduate Council and funded by the Board of Trustees. The journal is currently on sale in the college bookstore.

Pre-Marriage Meets Set

A series of four Pre-Cana conferences for all engaged couples will be held in Kennedy Library Auditorium beginning April 7. The conferences are designed to stimulate thought and communication relative to marriage: the values and questions of which are often left unexplored.

Attendance will fulfill part of the instructional requirements for a mixed marriage by the Spokane dioceses. A church official said.

The April 7 conference will feature the Rev. James F. Kuhn, director of family life education for Spokane dioceses. April 9. Dr. Hodjquist will speak on the medical aspects of marriage.

Mr. Michael Brewer, credit union manager associated with Kaiser Rubber, will discuss the "World free speech fight, as a trade union" in his critique of George L. Stinnett's "World in America.""

"Organon" editor, Bertram Lewis of the English department, and associate editors, Dr. William A. Greene of the psychology department, and Dr. Vincent L. Stevens, professor of chemistry, should be encouraged, and commended on the excellence of this first, scholarly, journalistic effort."

Pre-Marriage Meets Set

A series of four Pre-Cana conferences for all engaged couples will be held in Kennedy Library Auditorium beginning April 7. The conferences are designed to stimulate thought and communication relative to marriage: the values and questions of which are often left unexplored.

Attendance will fulfill part of the instructional requirements for a mixed marriage by the Spokane dioceses. A church official said. The April 7 conference will feature the Rev. James F. Kuhn, director of family life education for Spokane dioceses. April 9, Dr. Hodjquist will speak on the medical aspects of marriage.

Mr. Michael Brewer, credit union manager associated with Kaiser Rubber, will discuss the "World free speech fight, as a trade union" in his critique of George L. Stinnett's "World in America.""

"Organon" editor, Bertram Lewis of the English department, and associate editors, Dr. William A. Greene of the psychology department, and Dr. Vincent L. Stevens, professor of chemistry, should be encouraged, and commended on the excellence of this first, scholarly, journalistic effort."

Pre-Marriage Meets Set

A series of four Pre-Cana conferences for all engaged couples will be held in Kennedy Library Auditorium beginning April 7. The conferences are designed to stimulate thought and communication relative to marriage: the values and questions of which are often left unexplored.

Attendance will fulfill part of the instructional requirements for a mixed marriage by the Spokane dioceses. A church official said. The April 7 conference will feature the Rev. James F. Kuhn, director of family life education for Spokane dioceses. April 9, Dr. Hodjquist will speak on the medical aspects of marriage.

Mr. Michael Brewer, credit union manager associated with Kaiser Rubber, will discuss the "World free speech fight, as a trade union" in his critique of George L. Stinnett's "World in America.""