THE MEN'S ASSEMBLY

By Don Webster

The men of the Normal school are to be commended on the interest they have taken this year in the special Wednesday meetings known as men's assembly. The fact that they have been willing at all times to do their part in assisting in programs and other functions is in itself indicative of good school spirit.

The last few assemblies were necessarily postponed because of other programs and student activities. Let this fact, however, increase the interest for next quarter. Let everyone come out and push.

The Men's Assembly should naturally be an organization that will bring the men together for a better social contact and for a better understanding of common school interests. The main purposes of the organization should be to boost for the school, further the welfare of the group and secure harmony among all the members of the student body on matters of interest to all.

Our duty should be to co-operate as an unselfish body on any plan that will better conditions of the school. Think of the other fellow as well as yourself.

Boost! Don't knock!
Co-operate! Don't antagonize!
Let's make next quarter worth while. Come out Wednesday and reorganize.

Normal Pep Band Accompanies Players To Bellingham Game

Leaving Cheney Thursday afternoon, November 20, in a Hudson speedster, the members of the pep band drove to the football game at Bellingham. The whole trip could not be made in the car, and the boys went on by train.

The band was well received by the Bellingham students, and they were sought to head the pep rally the evening before the game. Although they were in great need of boats or rafts during the game, they furnished pep from the Cheney section to inspire the Savages in their efforts to hold the line.

Those making the trip in the car were: Lloyd Shaver, Don Webster, James O'Neill, Wallace Buckley, Paul Soper, and Bob Osborne. Mr. R. F. Hawk made the trip by train, joining the band in the Sound City.

Y. W. MEMBERS WILL CONSIDER WORLD PROBLEMS

At a cabinet meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Thursday, November 20, the members worked on layettes which are being prepared by the Social Service Committee for poor families here and in Spokane.

They discussed topics of interest which might profitably be taken up for study in the meetings next quarter and finally decided on the subject, "Racial and World Problems as Related to the Y. W. C. A."

After a report of the finance committee it was decided to make a payment of $50 as the first payment on the National gift. Ten dollars of this is to go for foreign students' relief funds.

The members voted to have a magazine stand made by the Manual Training department for the organization rooms.

DON WEBSTER IS PRESIDENT OF SENIOR B'S

Don Webster was elected president of the Senior B class of next quarter on Monday, November 4. Lester Farrish is the new vice president and Mabel Arnold is secretary-treasurer. Miss Turner and Mr. Tyler were re-elected as class advisors. The dues collected for the class party which did not materialize are to hold over for next quarter.

Men's Glee Club To Appear Thursday

The Men's Glee Club of the Normal, under the direction of Mr. Fouser, will make its initial appearance next Thursday in the Normal auditorium. The program will begin at 7 o'clock, and besides the Glee Club numbers will consist of Harold Lloyd's latest screen success, "Hot Water."

LOCAL SINGERS WILL PRESENT "THE MESSIAH"

Rehearsals for Handel's Famous Oratorio Scheduled to Begin Early Next Quarter

WILL BE THIRD PERFORMANCE

Membership in Chorus Open to All Interested - No Voice Testing Will Be Required

Regular rehearsals on Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah," will start with the beginning of the winter quarter. The preparation and presentation of music from "The Messiah" is the most important project taken up by the Department of Music during the school year. Last year the chorus numbered over 60 members and the performance was given on Sunday, May 4, to a packed house. The performance this year will probably take place sooner.

Orchestra Is Added

The first performance of "The Messiah" at Cheney Normal was given in 1923, under the direction of Mrs. Grace Hulscher. On this occasion the instrumental accompaniment consisted of piano and orchestra, the latter under the supervision of Miss Marian Lawton. In the performance last year, under the direction of Mr. Fouser, piano and organ were used in the instrumental parts. In the performance to be prepared for this season piano, organ and orchestra will be used, the latter to take part in the instrumental pieces and in the choruses which mark the climaxes of the work. The piano part will be played by Miss Miriam Zimmerman of the faculty.

Rehearsals Are Scheduled

The rehearsals are scheduled as follows: Men's Section, Monday evenings 7:00 to 7:50; Girls' Section, Wednesday afternoon, 3:50 to 4:40; special mixed section to make up absences and for the convenience of those unable to come to the other sections, Wednesday evening, 7:00 to 7:50.

Membership in the Messiah chorus is open to all who are interested. No individual voice test is required for those who enter. Those who take part in this study will be richly repaid in the inspiration they will receive from the vigorous and melodious music of this great masterpiece.

Dramatic Club Gives Welcome to Drama League

Saturday evening, November 22, the Dramatic Club gave a banquet in the Y. W. rooms, in honor of the new members of the Drama League. Kenneth Davis, president of the Club, acted as toast master. The toast of welcome to the new members was given by Miss Grace Wollmuth and the response by Merton McRayde. A few short talks were made during the evening, Miss Isa Brown speaking on "Dramatic Intentions," and Dr. Tiejie on "Dramatic Obstacles and Their Antidotes." Miss Turner spoke on "The Future Plans of the Club."

The decorations were skillfully carried out in green and white, the club's colors. White chrysanthemums, ferns, and dainty green ribbons made charming table decorations.

Those entertained were:

Bernice Haag, Dorothy O'Neill, Hazel Jolin, Helen Whitnell, Letha Crawford, Mae Rice, Ruth Miles, Martha Schubert, Dorothy Brownell, Eva Houtchens, Lyla Gorwell, Elizabeth Herbert, Don Webster, Merton McRayde, Gene Bowman, Paul Soper, Herbert Dunlap, Albert Hunt, Wright Baylor, Arthur Church, Homer Anderson, Grace Wollmuth, Gladys Wilson, Mrs. Kenneth Davis, Mrs. Mildred Gellerman, Kenneth Davis, Ivan Dixon, Julian Robison, Robert Osborne, Omer Pence, Lester Reeves, Wallace Buckley, Louis Watson, Miss Turner, Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Tiejie.

French Club Enjoys Thanksgiving Party

Thanksgiving in the shape of pumpkin pie was celebrated at the Cercle Francais on Monday evening, November 24. After a short business meeting in the music room at which dues, pictures and plans for a coming soiree were discussed, the Cercle adjourned to the dean's reception room where progressive conversation was carried on. When all had parleyed to the full, real pumpkin pie was served.

FINAL GAME OF TOURNEY WILL BE PLAYED TONIGHT

The final game of the boys' basketball tournament will be played this evening. The tournament began last Wednesday with eight teams competing. Eight captains were appointed by Coach Eustis, each one to have charge of a team. The captains and their men are as follows:

Captain Burpee, Moran, Brown, Hattabaugh, Heathman, Hewins, Lyan, McBride, V. Smith.

Captain Jim Davis, F. Holtman, Goldback, Rice, Fhipps, Spilker, Rux, H. Anderson, Watkins, Bond.

Captain Laughon, Simonton, Gieslen, Erickson, Les Johnson, Jenkins, McIntyre, Pickett, Howton, Leifer.

Captain Miller, Robison, Farrish, Harris, Holt, Miner, Heppner, A. Walker, Andrews.

Captain Byers, Mansfield, Main, Wendler, Van Haverbeke, McAlexander, G. Walker, Whitley, Shaver, Ryan, Hackney.

Captain Sheppard, Pratt, Brislawn, Tierney, L. Anderson, Tanke, Nessly, Rumberg.

Captain Bowman, Webster, Showalter, Edge, Chenoweth, H. Davis, Calhoun, Osborne, Gottbehuat.

NORMAL BAND BEGINS WORK NEXT QUARTER

Will Hereafter Be an Important Feature of Musical Activities at the Normal School

The Normal Band will be reorganized at the beginning of the winter quarter and will hold its first rehearsal in the Auditorium on Thursday night, December 11, from 7:00 to 8:30. Regular rehearsals will be held on each following Thursday night at the same hour.

It is intended that from this time on the band shall be an important feature of the musical activities of the school. The music to be played will consist of marches, waltzes and characteristic pieces. Every student in school who plays a wind instrument should be enrolled in the band.

In connection with this work there will be offered free class instruction for beginners in the following brass instruments: Alto Horn, Baritone, Bass, B flat Bass, and B flat Tenor. Private instruction (with tuition fee) will be arranged for those who wish to study the Cornet.

The school has in its possession the following instruments: Two Bass Tubas, four Alto Horns, several B flat Clarinets (Boehm system) and one E flat Clarinet (Boehm system).

The schedule of the beginners' class will be arranged at hours suited to the convenience of those enrolling in it. Those interested in taking the beginners' work in brass instruments should consult Mr. Fouser at once as registrations are now being made in this class.

Students playing saxophones should register in this organization. The heavy reed tone of the saxophone is heard to best advantage in the band, to which it adds a rich organ-like quality which is indispensable for the finest effect.

Women as well as men may register in the band.

HAROLD LLOYD IN "HOT WATER" HERE NEXT WEEK

Harold Lloyd will appear at the Normal next Thursday and Saturday evenings in his big five-reel comedy, "Hot Water." This is a cyclonic comedy of newlyweds and meddling relatives, full of riotous fun and shrieks of laughter.

The other numbers on the program are as follows: Five Orphans of the Storm, Birds of Passage, Pathe News, and a program by the Men's Glee Club under the direction of Mr. Fouser.

The program Thursday starts at 7:00 and Saturday at 7:30 p. m.

Miss Martin Talks At County Institute

Three speeches were given by Miss E. Martin at the Adams County Institute, held last week. Her subjects were: "Geography As Vocational Guidance in Junior and Senior High School," "Teaching the Geography of the State of Washington," and an illustrated lecture on "Beauty Spots of Our Country," including Yellowstone, Glacier and Paine National Parks.

VIKINGS TAKE ANNUAL GAME BY SCORE 13-0

Victory Over Cheney Gives Sound Players Championship of Normal Teams of State

GAME IS PLAYED IN SEA OF MUD

Ted Sheppard Grabs Pass and Sprints 35 Yards, but Is Forced to Run Out of Bounds

The Cheney Normal Savages were defeated Saturday, November 22, by the Bellingham Vikings to the tune of 13 to 0.

The triumph over Cheney gave Bellingham the championship of the Normal schools of the state.

Approximately 1500 "homecomers" saw the game, played on the worst field and in the rawest weather imaginable. The players wallowed through seas of mud and water, making football skill, in the modern sense, impossible.

Punting was largely resorted to by both teams, most of the honors being carried off by Walter Erickson, of Cheney, who booted the ball around 45 and 50 yards.

Contest Not Exciting

The contest was not an exciting one for spectators, only hammer-and-tongs football being possible. Cheney's main attack, their aerial offense, could not be used on account of the mud. Moreover the Savages not being natural ducks like their opponents, the wet weather and mud were great factors in helping to defeat Cheney Normal.

Very few exciting moments offset the steady hammering away of both teams. One came when Sheppard, of Cheney, grabbed a pass that slipped out of a Bellingham man's hand, and sprinted 35 yards down the field. Only one man stood between Sheppard and the goal line, but he was forced out of bounds.

A second thrill came when Winegard, of Bellingham, returned a punt through a broken field for 30 yards before he was stopped.

Ball Is Elusive

At another time Cheney fumbled the ball and at least five men of both sides pounced upon it, only to have the slippery pigskin slide out of their hands. The prodigal ball finally came to rest in the hands of a Cheney linesman, giving Cheney the ball inside of her own 10 yard line.

Both of Bellingham's touchdowns were made by Dick Bruland, a big backfield man, on line plunges. One try for goal failed, but a pass was completed on the other, making the try for point successful.

Next year Cheney Normal hopes to bring Bellingham to the East side to play.

Mr. and Mrs. Haeseler Hosts to Senior A's

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Haeseler were host and hostess at a party for the members of the Senior A class Monday evening, November 24. The members of the class enjoyed the evening playing games.

The party was given at the Haeseler home. Refreshments of cake and ice cream were served.

Faculty Men Enjoy Waffle Banquet

The faculty men and the men of the advanced students class enjoyed a waffle banquet in the Domestic science room Wednesday evening, November 9. It is customary for the men of the faculty and the advanced students to have a gathering once each quarter. Dr. Tiejie, Mr. Buchanan, Mr. Hawk, and Mr. Horrall fried the waffles.

ANNOUNCEMENT CONCERNING USE OF PRACTICE ROOMS

Beginning with the coming quarter the practice room schedules will be put upon a class attendance basis. The student will find in the practice room each day a registration slip which he will sign in the proper space for each period practiced. These records will be checked daily and absence turned in to the instructors of applied music for entry upon the roll books. All absences so recorded must be excused by formal excuse slip signed by the Administration or Health Department.

In each practice room will be posted the following rules governing their use:

1. Use only the space and time assigned to you by the Department of Music.
2. Sign the Practice Room Register in the proper space for each period practiced in order that an absence may not be charged against your credit.
3. Begin practice promptly at the time assigned and continue it for the entire period.

KEMPY AT NORMAL AUDITORIUM TONIGHT

Kempy, the biggest theatrical surprise of the 1922 season, will be presented this evening in the Normal Auditorium by the Normal Drama League, under the direction of Miss Vivian Turner.

The play has only recently been released for the production of amateurs. The New York run lasted two years.

The price of admission is 25 cents.

STUDENTS AND FACULTY GUESTS AT SUTTON HALL

Did you realize that boys were so tidy? From the dainty guest room through the long comfy living room with its blazing fire and on upstairs, a stream of eager visitors made their way on Saturday evening, November 22, When Sutton Hall opened its doors to students and faculty.

There was no lack of ushers to conduct the guests through the Hall and point out the many items of interest. The boys' rooms, with their array of photos, cards, and mottoes, called forth a great deal of comment from the guests, but more so did the rows of neatly-made beds. Some were no doubt agreeably surprised to find out the excellent housekeeping abilities of the men.

In several of the rooms guest registers were placed. Orange punch was served in the dining room.

Some of the visitors seemed to have a hard time pulling themselves away from the radio, which was giving music from some eastern station. Presumably it was the music which caused them to linger, and not the operator.

AMENDMENT RAISING FEE IS ADOPTED

Proposal to Increase Fee to $3.50 a Quarter Is Carried by 18 Over 2-3 Necessary

VOTE 368 FOR, 157 AGAINST

New Arrangement Provides for $750 Additional to Conduct Student Activities

The future looks bright for the Associated Students, in view of the fact that the amendment proposing to raise the student fees one dollar per quarter was passed by 18 votes over the necessary two-thirds majority at the regular student assembly last Tuesday. The vote stood 368 for and 157 against. It becomes a part of the constitution when approved by a two-thirds vote of the faculty members present at a regular or special meeting, and signed by the president.

The affected part of the constitution now reads:

"Article IX, Section 1. Each regularly enrolled student of the State Normal school shall, at the time of his enrolment each quarter, except the summer quarter, pay, in addition to such fees as may be levied by the school, a health fee of fifty cents and an Associated Student fee of $3.50.

"Article IX, Section 2. No part of this latter fee of $3.50 shall, without majority vote of the Associated Students, be spent for any purpose other than that stipulated in the budget of the finance committee."

Action Closes Long Fight

The passing of the amendment marks the close of a struggle that has lasted for two quarters. The student leaders during the summer saw the need for a larger student fee for carrying on the present program of activities. A movement was started at the time to reach that end, and in the closing days of the quarter the amendment was presented to the student body, but it failed to get the required two-thirds majority. As the end of the quarter was so near, no more could be done during the summer.

The movement was given another start at the beginning of the fall quarter when the finance committee saw the futility of trying to continue the various student activities on the old basis. Upon being put to a vote on November 18, the amendment failed again, this time lacking but 16 votes of the required number.

Means an Additional $750

Those backing the amendment continued in their efforts, and in order to have it go into effect in the winter quarter, it was brought up again immediately.

As the amendment has now been passed, giving the Associated Students an additional $750 or $800 per quarter, students may be assured of a better program of student activities in the future.

CHENEY UNIT IS ORGANIZED AT RITZVILLE

At a luncheon held in connection with the Adams County Institute at Ritzville on Wednesday, November 26, a Cheney unit was organized and plans made to hold an annual banquet during institute week.

Ivan McCallum was elected president of the Cheney unit and Mrs. Mary A. Pierce was elected secretary.

The guests of the unit members were: W. H. Grayum, newly-elected president of the W. E. A.; C. M. Blevins, Superintendent of Schools, Ritzville; Mrs. Alice Ripplinger, Superintendent of Schools, Adams County, and Miss Elizabeth Martin, of Cheney State Normal.

A REQUEST

I want the picture which was taken from my room on the first floor of Sutton Hall during open house two weeks ago. This is the photograph of a boy with whom I enlisted and served overseas. While over there he was injured. He died last January as the result of his injury. This picture is of great value to me, and this is to beg the person who took it to return it in some way—by mail or in person. No questions will be asked.

A GOOD MOVE

THE students have shown good judgment in passing the amendment to the constitution. They have finally come to the conclusion that the extra dollar is badly needed, and have shown their school spirit by giving the amendment their approval. The additional dollar added to the cost of enrolment will not be missed by anyone.

The good accomplished for the Associated Students is of inestimable value. Each department fostered by the Association will receive a portion of the increase, the ratio being the same as in the budget for the winter quarters. With the portion given to them, each department will be enabled to have more activities in the future, and there should be no deficit in any department, as has occurred in the past.

Conditions are certainly favorable for a bright future for the Normal School.

FLOWERS FOR THE LIVING

MUCH credit for the maintenance of our school spirit during the quarter just passed is due to our pep band, which, although hurriedly organized for Homecoming Day, has worked faithfully in supporting the football team during the entire season.

Of course, we should not forget the subs who turned out every night during the season to scrimmage against the first team. Without their patient efforts, we could not have had as successful a team as has just closed the season.

The efforts of the coach, too, should not pass unnoticed. Although unable, because of illness, to be with the team in their last few weeks of practice and playing, his work during the earlier part of the season was of great value in organizing such an efficient team.

The spirit shown this quarter by the students is commendable. Not once during the season have they failed to support the football team. Even on their return from Bellingham, after an unfortunate defeat, the Savages were met by a crowd of four hundred students who accepted the defeat in the same spirit as they would have accepted a victory. It is an evidence of good sportsmanship when a defeat in the season's crowning game can be taken in such a spirit.

Let's give the basketball team the same wholehearted support during the coming season.

GOLDEN RULE SUNDAY

ACCORDING to a statement issued by the Near East Relief committee, President Thwing of Western Reserve University is heading a committee composed of prominent educators throughout the country, to enlist the immediate co-operation of the colleges in the support of Near East Relief, the organization chartered by congress to provide relief for the refugee and orphaned population of the Near East.

There are 40,000 children now in Near East Relief institutions for whom no other possible provision exists and for whose support funds must come without delay. There are about 100,000 more living in refugee camps without education or training or proper living conditions, for whom some help must be secured. The organization needs money for this work at once.

The first objective of Near East Relief at present is to secure the observance of Golden Rule Sunday, on December 7th, the day set for making practical application of the Golden Rule in our relations to the orphan children of the Near East.

On this day the people of America are asked to eat an orphanage dinner such as the children in Near East Relief homes eat every day. The menu includes Turkish pilaf for which a recipe has been prepared by the chef of the Hotel de Bergues in Geneva, Switzerland, and can be served for very much less than the most frugal of Sunday dinners. As the people of the twenty nations participating in this observance gather about a common table, they are asked to make contributions measured by the Golden Rule, for the support of these Near East orphans. Those partaking of the simple meal eaten by these children should have a more acute sympathy for those little ones to whom this fare spells luxury.

Enthusiastic co-operation is expected from college people inasmuch as it is young college people for the most part who are carrying on the work of Near East Relief overseas. In Armenia and Syria and Greece these younger alumni are undergoing real privations to carry on the work for which Golden Rule Sunday asks support.

In the orphanages of Near East Relief there are now 40,000 children. This figure is about ten per cent less than last year. Some twenty per cent of the children were sent out from the American institutions either to support themselves, or to go into homes of countrymen able to provide for them. Some ten per cent more of very little children were taken into the orphanages from the refugee camps where they had been left entirely without care, due to the death of their parents who succumbed to hunger and disease.

Three years of schooling and training for self-support are part of the Near East Relief program. Every boy and girl who leaves its care is equipped to look after himself and so far as is possible with the limited funds, each of these children is educated to take a place of leadership in the new life that his people are building from the wrecks of the old.

Among those serving on the educational committee with President Thwing are President Hibben, of Princeton, President King of Oberlin, President Wooley of Mount Holyoke, President Coulter of Purdue, President Pendleton of Wellesley, President Wilbur of Leland Stanford and President Park of Bryn Mawr.

AN ESSENTIAL IN COLLEGE

(From "The Evergreen")

COLLEGE training includes more than the acquiring of facts, theories, aspects and information through courses of study offered in a school's curriculum. An education is not complete without social training.

Viewed by parents as expensive and luxurious, by instructors as detracting from student work and by the students as the spice of college life, social functions are indispensable in an institution of learning.

Not only do campus affairs of pleasure provide essential recreation facilities, thus enabling the student to return to his work with freshness and enthusiasm, but they contain the faculties which give a person poise, initiative and confidence which enable him to bring his text book knowledge into play.

* THE SAFETY VALVE *

To the Editor:

There is quite a bit of talk being passed among some of the students regarding the wearing of our red and white rooster caps. Due to the fact that there is reasonable foundation for this talk, it has been deemed advisable to call the matter to the attention of the rest of the students, through the courtesy of The Safety Valve.

In most other institutions, the rooster caps are worn only at the games, or other student activities where students will be represented in groups. Our school, which is now growing in all respects, and which is petitioning its students for an increased student fee, should in our opinion take on an attitude resembling that of the larger institutions. We believe that the colors of our institution should be respected just as are the colors of the United States of America. It is very common to see the students who are doing janitor work wearing their rooster caps, where every opportunity is offered to soil them. In fact, they are worn where other headwear would be too good. The caps are given rough usage, and many are discolored to such an extent that the once red and white are now brown and gray.

The caps should be kept clean, and worn only at games or at other student activities where the students are in groups. I therefore urge that due attention be given to the matter by those in authority. MARCUS M. KENYON.

To the Editor:

The Editor of the average small town paper receives the blame for not having the news of his immediate vicinity printed in the paper, while the fault lies with the subscribers of the paper. A small paper is in no position to hire a large corps of reporters to cover the territory, so it is the duty of the people to see that the news is in the hands of the Editor.

This situation embraces the Normal Journal. Everyone wishes to have his name in the paper, but no one has interest enough to tell the reporters about it. GET BUSY! Write up any news you have. We all like to read it.

The old saying applies to newspapers as well as other business, "I can get along without you, you can get along without me, but we can get along so much better by helping each other."

Gee Ma, how do you get interduced to a girl?

Say ma a gy got fresh yesterday and ducked me when i was tryin that new stroke in swim-in. I breathed at the rong time and—i didnt no they give us salt water to swim in, but it shure feels like it when you get it up your nose. Last night ma i couldnt go to sleep for a long time and when i did i drdeamed there was six girls an they wuz all Delishuses in the swimin tank and they wuz all drownin and callin fer me to help em and i couldnt move a finger. I wuz jest a statu standin there Gee it wuz awful ma.

An, ma today in readin class I hadta get up and read a poem. I stuttered like a allus do you know ma when I get fussed, and Miss Turner says, say is your name Pete or repeat I don't no what she ment, ma.

I gotta stop now an copy Bills outline before he lets Joe have it. Your loving son, Pete.

Mr. Oliphant is reported to have said at the beginning of the quarter that the course he was about to offer was not to be considered as "an intellectual honeymoon." We somehow didn't have the impression that honeymoons were intellectual affairs. Can some one please set us right on this matter? Not that we are considering anything of the kind, but— you know—we just wondered.

A Sutton boy
And a Senior girl
In an ecstasy of glee—
Said the Sutton boy
To the Senior girl,
"Oh, will you marry me?"
The girl drew back and did reply, "You are far too wise for me, and I will only be your wife when I get an A in psychology."

The boy felt very Sad at heart;
His love for her was true.
The girl felt just
As sorrowful—
Oh, dear, what could she do?
But bright and early next day
The boy
Went Mr. Hawk to see.
He told him his sad tale of woe,
And—she got an A in Psychology.

Junior C to editor of Journal, "I sent you some suggestions telling you how to make your paper more interesting. Have you carried out any of my ideas?"

Editor, "Did you meet the janitor with the wastepaper as you came upstairs?"
"Yes, yes, I did."
"Well, he was carrying out your ideas."

Visitor in the Manual Arts department, "What's the matter with that boy?"

Mr. Lane: "Well, I was going to help him put the stain and varnish on that table and he said he would put it on himself—and—he did."

Maurice Brislaw and Louis Balfe left Wednesday afternoon for Sprague.

Leslie Johnson and Cletus Madison left with them but continued on down the line to their respective homes, Hatton and Lind. Les had a dollar six bits and lacked one penny of having enough to get home on. His obliging roommate was kind enough to supply him with the extra cent.

Leon Gurney talked (in his sleep) with his folks at home over Thanksgiving.

Ross Pickett drove home to his folks at Thornton.

Homer Anderson spent Thanksgiving vacation at his home in Keystone.

Wallace Buckley spent the week-end with friends in Spokane.

Senior Hall was the center of excitement Wednesday evening, November 19, when a farewell party was given in honor of the Senior A girls who live there.

The Senior A's showed that in spite of the fact that they have survived the strenuous ordeals leading to graduation, they are still quite agile as well as being light-hearted and gay. Anyone who still remains in doubt as to this is privileged to ask those spectators who witnessed the entrance of the notables being wheelbarrowed into the middle of the room.

The program consisted of the following numbers:

Piano solo—En Route, Godard, Marjorie Main.

Violin duet—Union March Forever, Blanche Post and Esther Nystrom, accompanied by Marjorie Main.

Quartet—Down the Trail to Home Sweet Home, Land of My Sunset Dreams, Georgia Bennett, Fannie Ross, Violet Gerhauser, Mildred Fox.

After several waltzes and fox trots the Senior A's closed the program with an impromptu stunt.

The refreshments consisted of doughnuts and cider.

Walter and Leslie Chase were guests of Dorothy Chase and Pearl Curtis, Sunday afternoon.

Quarterly Tests Feature Week In Training School

William Wilson, from Chehalis, has entered the seventh grade.

Miss Whitnell's art classes in the seventh and eighth grades have made some very pretty letter openers and pennants out of celluloid.

The 8A and 8B Spelling classes are planning on having a contest soon.

The pupils in the eighth grade are making progress charts to show the progress they have made during the quarter in all subjects.

Mr. Nessly, who is teaching in the eighth grade, was absent from school for a day on account of illness.

Mr. Berry had his tonsils removed and could not meet his classes for a week.

The 4A class won the championship in the accuracy contest in arithmetic, which Miss Lambert conducted in her room. Next week the contest will include speed as well as accuracy.

Miss Lambert and her pupils are busy planning a Christmas program, and a few of her group are to be in the Y. W. C. A. entertainment which is to be given in the Normal.

The sixth grade pupils are writing for Palmer certificates and buttons in penmanship.

The fifth and sixth grades had a joint program last Wednesday. The 5B group gave a play and the C. of W. Club surprised the rest of the class by contributing a wee program.

Some of the sixth grade girls are organizing a club called G. R. O. or the Golden Rule Organization. The members are: Ruth Bechtel, Leona Casteel, Evaline Straughan, and Frances Lane. Their supervisor is Miss Rogers. They are planning Christmas work for the next few weeks.

The Monroe Arithmetic Tests were given last Tuesday and the results will be ready by the end of this week.

Maxine Miller and Franc Miller from Rodna, entered the sixth grade this week.

Near East relief pamphlets were distributed to all the pupils last Wednesday.

Tests were in order this week and the report cards will be out today.

Pupils who have been promoted will enter their new groups next Monday.

Miss Martin Gives Illustrated Lecture

Miss Elizabeth Martin gave an illustrated lecture on Glacier and Yellowstone parks on Thursday evening, November 20. She gave an interesting description of her recent visit to the parks, and urged every one to visit them.

Farewell Dinner Given For Hall Graduates

The farewell dinner for the Monroe and Senior Hall graduates was served on Tuesday evening, November 25. The Senior A's present were Helen Dasch, Pearl Dowd, Margaret

Manual Arts Special

JAMES CARLYLE, EDITOR

Vol. II

Wednesday, December 3, 1924

No. 1

Do You Know?

That the Manual Arts Division offers a two and three year course.

That the two year course has a major in education and minor in Manual Arts.

That the two year Manual Arts, Intermediate, Grammar and Rural students receive the same type of diploma.

That the two year Manual Arts students are trained to teach academic work in the elementary schools as well as manual arts.

That the Manual Arts student is permitted to do one half of his five credits of practice teaching in manual arts.

That College Algebra is required of the Manual Arts students in place of Arithmetic.

That a special course in Senior English and Expression is provided for the Manual Arts men.

That the two year Manual Arts students receive Junior standing at the State College and University.

That over thirty students are now taking the two year Manual Arts course.

That over eighty, two year men, have been sent into the field during the past six years.

That if you are working for an Elementary, your electives can be taken in manual arts subjects.

That the Elementaries can change to the Manual Arts Course during their second year.

That the Manual Arts Course does not include Methods, Music and Art.

That the First quarter is the best time to start the Manual Arts Course.

That the two year course leads to a third and fourth year Manual Arts course.

That the Manual Arts Division offers courses each quarter for the women of the school.

That over ninety women have taken one or more courses of drawing and shop work during the past six years.

That a number of elective courses are offered each quarter as personal benefit courses for students in other departments.

Joinery

Three basic courses in hand tool work in wood are offered during the first two years of the manual arts course. The first, Rural and Elementary Woodwork, was given during the fall quarter. It consisted of problems suitable for the fourth and fifth grades.

During the Winter quarter the second of these basic courses, Joinery will be offered. This course covers the making of sketches, simple mechanical drawings, designing of problems to be made, half lap and housed joints, upholstery and inlay work. Oak, gum, walnut and mahogany are the woods used.

Joinery is taught in a way that will familiarize the student with a well organized course suitable for a sixth grade class.

Auto Mechanics

We have been fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Lindley, of the Brown and Holter garage, to take charge of the Auto Mechanic Course.

This course will be given the first and second periods of the day during the winter quarter.

The work has been divided into two sections: The first section, Auto Mechanics I, will meet Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Following topics will be taken up: the gas engine, timing, engine balance and firing order, cooling system, fuels, carburetors, power transmission, clutches, transmissions, drives, differentials, engine troubles experienced on the road, lubrication, care and adjustment.

The second section, Auto Mechanics II, will meet Thursdays and Fridays. The following topics will be taken up: magnetism, elementary electricity, batteries, starting and lighting systems, and magnetos.

The first section carries three credits and the second section two; students may sign up for both sections.

Owing to our limited space for this work only twelve students can be enrolled in each section. See us early.

If you own a car this will be an opportunity to learn something about its mechanism and repair the car at the same time. If you don't own a car, cars will be provided for you to work on.

According to records, most of the greatest baseball players in the major leagues have been developed on college diamond or town lots, with no professional experience.

Practice Teaching

The manual arts shop is an exceedingly busy place afternoons from 2:00 to 4:00. If you don't believe it ask one of the second year men who are taking practice teaching. Do you know that 62 boys from the training school are taking work regularly in manual training? This quarter the work given is elementary woodwork, joinery, and sheet metal work.

Here theory and practice go hand in hand. It is commonly supposed that if a man can do a good job himself he can teach a learner how to do it. This is not actually the case however. Many men who can do a first class job themselves cannot teach anybody else how to do that job. The average good man, if he knows how to do the job, can acquire the ability to instruct through an effective training course where ample provisions have been made to put the theory of teaching into actual practice.

Practice teaching is one of the finishing courses for those who are to go out as manual arts teachers. Practical teaching experience is given under conditions very similar to those to be encountered in the actual field. Only those who have completed the shop work required in the two year course are eligible for practice teaching. The knowledge and skill gained in the two years of work are here given the final test. Teaching under supervision, working out lesson plans, round table discussions, and constructive criticism tend to give the confidence and poise that will be needed when one enters the actual field of teaching.

Advanced Furniture Making

Excellence in design and workmanship and in the final appearance of the finished article gives the workman a just pride in his handiwork. Some of the greatest satisfaction in life comes from doing something and doing that something well. A piece of furniture well designed, skilfully made and properly finished is something of which one may justly be proud. Advanced furniture making is a shop course that requires considerable skill in the use of wood-working tools and machinery. This course is required of everyone taking third year work, but is also open to all who have had sufficient training or practical experience to keep pace with the third year men.

Mortise and tenon, drawer, panel and veneer construction are taken up. Turning, band saw work, fluting and inlay may be used in the pieces constructed. Period furniture, spinet desks, office furniture and work of similar nature is taken up either as class or individual projects.

In connection with advanced furniture making wood finishing has its place. A study is made of the various finishes. Lectures and demonstrations are given in making and applying stains, fillers, varnishes and enamels. In addition to finishing the projects made in class each student is required to finish a set of panels. Many of the stains used in other woodworking classes are made in this class.

Cheney Manual Arts Man Makes Good

Among the men who returned from France at the close of the war, came one who was destined to become one of the most successful men who have graduated from this school. This man is Earl L. Fairbanks, now head of the Manual Arts Department in the Montana State Teacher's College at Dillon.

Mr. Fairbanks entered here upon his return from the service, took one year of work, then taught for two years at Opportunity, Wash. He then came back to Cheney, and after graduating from the two year course, was employed as part-time instructor in this department, while finishing his third year work. After completing his third year of work here, Mr. Fairbanks entered the Washington State College at Pullman where he received his degree in the spring of 1922. From there he was called to Dillon to head the Manual Arts Department there.

Mr. Fairbanks is only one of the successful men who have taken work in this department. We are proud of the records of the men who have majored in Manual Arts here, and we like to feel that this department is in some measure responsible for their success.

Manual Arts Special Is Work of Students

The articles on the last page of this issue of the Journal are taken from the 1924 edition of the Manual Arts Special which has recently been published by the students of the Manual Arts Department. This paper is published every year. The recent edition was edited by James Carlyle, who deserves much credit for the work he has done toward making the paper a success. Lester Reeves was editor of the paper in 1923.

All of the type for the paper has been set up by the students in the printing class. The course in printing is required of all two-year Manual Arts students, and is also open to others. The grades received by the members of the class will largely depend upon the work they have done in setting up material for the paper.

The members of the class who have done work are Helen Hochtritt, Louis Gamon, Theodore Sheppard, Ross Emhoff, Wendell Laughon, and Ralph Hubbard. The work has been done under the direction of Mr. Hochtritt.

Y. W. Girls to Sell Christmas Gifts

The finance committee of the Y. W. C. A. has planned a sale of Japanese traps, pictures, baskets, vases, bowls, stationery, and other novelties. These articles will go on sale at a booth in the rotunda Monday, December 8, and will be there until the beginning of Christmas vacation. The articles which are to go on sale have been selected carefully and are suitable for Christmas gifts.

Camp Fire Members Entertain Miss Martin

Akiuhapi Camp of Ritzville gave a delightful dinner for Miss Elizabeth Martin Tuesday evening of the Adams county institute week. All the work in preparation for the dinner was done by the Camp Fire girls. Mrs. O. H. Greene opened her home to the girls for the occasion.
