Columbia Contest by Beating Whitworth College

Cheney Normal scored its second straight win over Whitworth yesterday afternoon. Whitworth lost its best league game last Friday by 13, on the local board.

The first few innings were coloring and Alexander began the scoring for the gals in the second. The balls were well taken and no errors were committed.

The entire second inning

Two. From the third to the sixth inning both teams were hitting but the white team was scoring more runs.

THE NORMAL YOUNG WOMAN

MISS AGNES R. WAYMAN, head of the Department of Physical Education of Barnard College, has described a "Normal young woman" as being able to jump 2 feet 6 inches, throw a basketball 25 feet, run 35 feet in 4.4 seconds, climb 4 feet, and vault a height of 3 feet 8 inches.

Barnard College recently had a health week, which was divided off into special days to stress the various necessities of health. There was a "food" day when the college women's minds were turned entirely toward the sustaining foods. The soda-fountain men and confectors were driven almost to desperation. Then there was a "wash-day," calling for a ten-mile hike, a "sleep-day," calling for a series of nap, a "honey-day," calling for an hour stretch on the mat, and a "posture-day," on which all the girls were turned entirely toward strength-building and "posture-day," on which all the girls requirements, the world is hers. If she doesn't front or back or side and she must have clear feet, and vault a height of 3 feet, and vault a height of 3 feet 8 inches.

She must have or win a husband.

According to tests conducted at Barnard, the average young woman is three times as healthy as she used to be. A few statistics from Cheney Normal, published on the first page of this issue of the Journal, will show that the women of this school are fast approaching the record of some of the largest schools.

The above figures with those of last quarter, Do they not also indicate that Normal school work is comfortable to think that even if we can't all be scholarly inclined.
