Pearl Harbor Day’ Banquet Tomorrow

KABAT RESIGNS

“...I challenge all of you to contemplate very seriously the great educational opportunities that are yours and the vital role you have to play in this rapidly changing world of ours. Your rights and privileges are many and they are limited only by the amount of responsibility you are able and willing to assume. Be selfish and access only the best from yourself because only the best is good enough.”

EWSC Opens Cage Season With Two Wins

The EWSC Basketball team got off to a flying start last weekend as it picked up a pair of wins in its season openers against Whitman College on Friday 67-60, and Nevada Whitman team and could gain more than an 11-point worth 72-58 on Saturday.

Ronfeld and Tony Embrey and a weak foul line. Danielson also collected both teams in this department.

With the exception of Dave Danielson, who got into the scoring column, the first half was a repeat performance of the first half as Hannan then got hot second half was a repeat performance of the first half as the lead changed hands no less than five times during this period. Big Larry Gunn and Dave Danielson led the Eastern pullers to a single point lead at 36-35. They jumped off to an early five straight buckets gave the advantage back to the Savages at 20-19. The lead see-sawed up and down until midway in the second half when Eastern pulled to an eight point bulge, a lead which saw Eastern retire with 20-19. The lead see-sawed up and down until midway in the second half when Eastern pulled to an eight point bulge, a lead seen on Channel 4, at 6:30 p.m. in December 23, for a special Yuletide program.

Last year's program was excellent in quality and was well received, and this year the program promises to be even better. Some extra premium so it would be advisable to come early for the 3:15 p.m. concert. The concert is open to the public.

Freedom Fighter Cites Dangers of Communism

Says Nation Is On The Brink Of Disaster

BY BOB SWEENEY

Dr. John P. Ghigleri, Spokane dentist and President of the Spokane Freedom Fighters, Inc., spoke to a full house of Eastern students, faculty, and townsmen at his November 30 presentation of “The Naked Communist.”

Cubs and more recently, the Kataz, a province in the Communist tank, is employing anti-communist propaganda. A question and answer period followed the talk which was taped by Ghigleri, and all individuals asking questions were required to write down their names.

Much criticism arose from the audience, concerning the “Red” propaganda and tactics and their possible damage to the country.

Ghigleri told the audience that his own children had been criticized by the John Birch Society because of his statements “vague” and “misleading.”

In outlining the purpose of the “Spokane Freedom Fighters,” Ghigleri said, “Study is the only method of combating the Communists.” The present program of the Spokane Freedom Fighters consists of an eight-week intensive course on the different aspects of the Communist conspiracy.

According to Ghigleri, the most effective weapon employed by the “Reds” is propaganda. In quoting from a 1958 report by the American Bar Association, Ghigleri stated that the Communist movement is spending over three billion dollars a year in propaganda, much of this being printed in our own country.

The anti-Communist leader criticized recent actions taken by the State Department concerning China, Yugoslavia, and a few incidents, Ghigleri remained non-committal throughout his talk. Some sources termed his statements “vague” and “misleading.”
From The Editor

By Bob Stevens

Recently, I have had the fascinating experience of listening to contributors to the anti-communist hysteria which is now sweeping the country.

With great appeal to emotion and to ignorance, dedicated anti-communists inform audiences of the creeping disease called "Communism" which is now in our very midst waiting to clutch us in its glowing red tentacles. According to them, our country is on the brink of disaster.

How do we prevent this inevitable disaster?

According to the Right Wing extremists, study is the only effective method of combating the communist threat—not an objective look into the problems of our present condition, but a slanted and super-critical attack upon so-called "Communist Sympathizers," meaning anyone who contradicts their simple "either-or" choices. They are fundamentally Aginners.

The rightists have no solutions to the problems that plague us; indeed, they offer no solutions at all. They are immensely discontented with things as they are and furiously impatient with almost everyone in public office who can in any way be held responsible for their frustrations. They have no clear-cut objectives. As New York Times writer Alan Barth so aptly put it, "They are fundamentally Aginners."

The typical rightist or "pseudo-conservative" shows a deep distrust for people in general. He tends to see complex problems simply and to define problems in terms of "either-or" choices.

The right wing extremist never regards himself as gullible or susceptible to Communist subversion; but he appears to be convinced that all his countrymen are outright simpletons, ripe for a shift of loyalty at any moment from the Capitol to the Kremlin.

One gentleman I observed went to considerable trouble in attacking foreign policy. There was no apparent uncertainty, for example, as to why "we" lost China, as though it were "ours" to lose. It is out of the question for him to acknowledge honest differences of opinion or to consider the possibility that problems may arise in foreign affairs either through some skilful action by the enemy or through innocent error by conscientious, though fallible, public officials.

Why is it that all at once these people who before took little or no interest in such problems are now placing their judgment above that of men who have dealt with such matters for years?

The rightist is willing to sacrifice truth and ethics in an effort to expose the so-called "ulcerous" infiltration of Communism. He will employ the same tactics as those very people whom he is fighting if they will aid in "alerting the people." When asked to present both sides of the question, he will shout, "There is no other side."

These people have no room for objective analysis. An open mind is dangerous and rational thinking is for children.

"Close your eyes, you poor misinformed Americans and we will deliver you from the Red disease which now grips our country."

Deliver us into what?

Funds For Angolan Project Roll In LA HALL LEADS WAY

A project to raise $5000 for higher education for 350 native Angolans has been adopted by the associated students of EWSC. Named "Project Angola," the plan is part of an international program of the World University Service to aid the natives who have fled Angola in the wake of clashes between Portuguese troops and native Angolans. Russia has offered them free education, but this offer has not been accepted.

NSA in cooperation with the ASB announced that the fund drive is underway with the "penny a buzz" program at Louise Anderson Hall, in which each man who calls for a girl must pay a penny, as must the girl.

Wax sculptures will be on sale soon and December 2 was "slave day" in which the 350 residents of Louise Anderson did errands, with the proceeds going to the fund drive.

DELAY SEEN IN ENDING MEN'S DORM
Papercraft is holding up the building of the new men's dorm, according to Daryl Hage, Dean of Student Affairs.

The lack of some forms has delayed the construction complete, Hage said. Until the forms are all in, the beds cannot go out for the building.

Faced Center bids will be sent out at the same time the dorm bids are released, he said. Construction of the two units of the building should be started one month from the date the bids are in.

The expected date for occupancy is still set for April 1963, Hage concluded.

Following the dinner there was a concert by the band for President Patterson. The program consisted of many of the numbers played at football halftime shows and featured a new march entitled "The Presentation March" which was written by Mr. William Maxson, director of Bands at EWSC, in commemoration of the occasion.

WEA Announces Winner of First Scholarship

The first WEA scholarship to be awarded to a student at Eastern Washington State College was given to Arlene Johnson, a freshman. The scholarship, sponsored by the Washington Educational Association, is one of the 8000 awards set up this year. One has been granted to each of the colleges. It is provided for a freshman who is preparing to teach and is given in grants over a four-year period.

Miss Johnson is a graduate of the honor class from Denver, Colorado. She is living in Cheney with her uncle, Dr. J. Eugene Fletcher.

I want to express my sincere thanks to the staff, faculty, and students for the flowers and get well cards I received during my recent hospitalization. The staff on the first floor of St. Luke's made my visit there a little more bearable. It meant so much to me. The kind acts will not be forgotten. Thanks again from the bottom of my heart.

Signed,
Hap Frandsen
