Patterson and Johns Await Answer From Washington

A request for $265,000 was made in Seattle last week for additional funds for construction of a new $15-story dorm and a food service center on Eastern's campus.

Fred Johns, comptroller, made the request.

As the Easterner goes to press today, Jan. Friday, word has not yet been received as to the outcome of the request.

Fred Johns explained that the papers were held up in Washington, D.C., due to the absence of one of the men who is responsible for making such loans.

By the time the next edition of the Easterner goes to press the full answer to the $265,000 request will be received.

SOUNDING BOARD

Old Story With New Twist

By Don Dressel

It was, as most mystery stories will, a dark, rainy night; one might call it a night for crimes if one’s mind tended to wander in that direction. A knock on the door, an invitation to come in and a welcome cloud of warmth replaces the dampness outside. The raincoat is taken and stored in the closet.

Just a short walk into the dim room, and it is easy to see that it is a friendly, party-like atmosphere. Many faces are recognizable, among others so familiar. A photograph is pulled into the light around the usual group of “Platter Pickers” found at all such affairs.

Numerous attention is paid to the slow, low music emitted from the player, for how the warmth has been acquired, a new urge is now forming.

There she stands, a whistling siren, light tornadoes, and arms stretched invitingly toward you. “Yes, it’s going to be a great one...AND THEN...AND THEN...”

It seems the roof has fallen, pandemonium has broken out, the place is a complete madhouse. What is it? What has happened? A voice comes from the photograph...“got a new dance and it goes like this—name of the dance is the Peppermint Twist!”

You believe this is the new sound that has oaken the U.S. by storm.

Many words have been written about the Twist, and probably there are many more coming to a play. But you must try before you receive full benefit from the new "crave." If yes, the same as I, are prone to be a little, shall we say, chubbily, around the middle, this is the answer. With arms going one direction, and the decree reigning in the opposite direction, it stands to reason that the middle is going to catch the strain. Perhaps, if you’re the backward, “can’t-dance type,” with the proverbial left left set, here is a dance where you stand still, or at least your feet do. There are probably many reasons for the popularity of the Twist. Even doctors like the twist paid by persons with aching, twisted backs!

After all has been said, pro and con, the dance continues to gain popularity, and it is a lot of fun. No doubt you will all be twisting up a storm at the next mixer at Eastern. As for me, I’ve tried it, and I can say that the cost more than price of a miser-

From The Editor

Bob Stevens

Must ye realize from the story on the front page that the EASTERNER has received complaints from the dramatic department, the most provoking being that by Dr. Harold K. Stevens.

For those of you who were not fortunate enough to be present at the A. S. Council, meeting, you missed one of the most flailing dramatic productions of the year. It is the apparent feeling of those concerned with the recent play “Fashion” that the play was poorly presented and is due largely to the incompetence of myself and my staff. For this I am truly sorry if our means appear inferior. When the time comes for other similar circumstances within another body, Those who make public presentations are expected to produce professional service. We constantly strive to give the students the best paper possible in accordance with our own limitations. This coverage was indeed a vacation for you during that time. The production, evidently, started long ago as you have been ignoring student presentations, student reactions, and yes, student dramatic plays for quite some time.

The small paragraph reduced from article in the Cheney Free Press, and inserted in a small corner of your paper, was not indicative of a student which you are so disparaged with yourself such as The Easterner is supposed to represent. Is it not your obligation to your forefathers and the present local and current events? Is it not your proper to tell us of the opportunities for learning and enjoyment available to you at Eastern? Admitted, the misspelling, the cast was indeed carried on your terms of performance. This is the answer of “Fashion” out of your "daily" and informative copy.

It would seem to us that the majority of students have seen more films than original stage shows. “Why be bound when you can have your time on the television?” Our judgment is that your present public-pushing policy is that of the entire production. If this is the case, I beg forgiveness.

All those concerned with “Fashion” spent long hours and went to considerable trouble making the play a success. When such a production is not well attended, there is considerable cause for disappointment. However, each and every member of the cast put forth honest and sincere effort and is to be commended for this alone. But these same people also cherish the value of hard work are unable to understand similar circumstances within another body. Those who make public presentations are expected to produce professional service.

When such a production is not well attended, there is considerable cause for disappointment. However, each and everyone member of the cast were entirely dependent upon the EASTERNER for any publicity which the play might receive. Two members of my staff promised him sufficient coverage. This was not given. As a result of a miscasting concerning the deadline by the reporter assigned to the story, very little material appeared in my own paper. It seems when the time the play appeared. I was apparently granted the job of unofficial publicity relations for the entire production. If this is the case, I beg forgiveness.

Upon learning of the error, both reporters presented their apologies to Dr. Stevens. However, this was insufficient. During Dr. Stevens brief oration, he mentioned the fact that he and the members of the cast were entirely dependent upon the EASTERNER for any publicity which the play might receive. Two members of my staff promised him sufficient coverage. This was not given. As a result of a miscasting concerning the deadline by the reporter assigned to the story, very little material appeared in my own paper. It seems when the time the play appeared. I was apparently granted the job of unofficial publicity relations for the entire production. If this is the case, I beg forgiveness.

The prime function of the student cast of “Fashion.” The prime function of the student cast of “Fashion” was to be honest efforts were put forth to grab articles that fit your format and to include the contents of your articles and decide whether or not it fills another type of format; that of a current student informing the public.

There's an old saying that if you don't get caught a crime hasn't been committed. It is one of those things that are true, but there is a lot of crime on this campus that hasn't been committed—because no one has been caught.

The campus police say they have been getting the students "lost" a wide variety of items ranging from books to clothes. It's not surprising that not everyone students "find" these items, because they think they have been stolen.

Eastern's students hold as undying trust for their fellow students. It is so nice for those who believe an open door is an invitation to help themselves.

Dory Hagie, Dean of Students, said that the big getaway of the departmental honorary club was organized in 1948. The Scribes were chiefly responsible for it, but it was the initiative that resulted in the student managed radio station, ZEW.

Two members of the departmental honorary club were held the direction in the Intercollegiate Broadcast Association, which was recognized by the American Press Association of Intercollegiate Broadcasting.

Active participation in the annual Western Conference of Radio and Television is a tradition with the Scribes. The Scribes required that all members be college in number, have attend- class chair in the library. They have not been part of the department.

Many activities are to be scheduled by the Scribes in the next eight weeks to 1962. The conference's five day trip to Los Angeles, where the conference delegation's expenses were to be paid, is a good sized problem in transportation. This trip is to be paid by the Scribes.

New Science Building Opens May

Anyone desiring to be among the first to use the new Science building will have to enroll for the summer quarter of 1962.

The giant structure overlooking the Eastern campus is to be completed by May 1. All Science classes for the summer quarter will be held in the modern building. The professor will greatly increase the room and facilities which the Science Department has need for many years.

Furnishing the new building is a good sized problem in itself. Office equipment and laboratory equipment, as well as other furnishings, will be taken into consideration when purchasing the furniture.

The new building will be open to the public to be displayed by Dr. John L. Douglas who received a grant of over $80,000 from the Petroleum Research Fund of the American Chemical Society for the project. He will start research in the spring.

In addition to this, some "sweat" is being sealed off the brass plates on the doors and sashes. Perhaps the day a door falls off because the screws are gone from the hinges, the "sweat" will be over.

The book store only reported a 69 cent set and a 79 cent Athlete supporter for this year's volume. The library reported a large loss, too. Books seem to be a favorite item for campus crooks. They are stolen from cars, the cafeteria, and out of rooms. More are stolen toward the end of the quarter when finals are near and they should read their assigned book.

The book that should be placed on the top for bitting for being the one most desired to steal is Setton and Winkler's "The Atomic Age and the European Civilization." Forty-three out of the library's estimated 66 stolen or at least not returned were books on this subject.

Savages Drop Two Conference Tests

WERU dropped a pair of Evergreen conference basketball games this weekend. Friday night the Savages lost to Central Washington 82-52 and the next night Puget Sound took a 68-58 decision.

Eastern led Central 31-20 at the half but slumped in the second half while the Wildcats were coming on strong. Phil Fitterer and Joe Keilman in Central led the scoring with 20 and 19 points respectively.

Dick Hanson, with 12, was the only Savage to reach double figures.

Puget Sound scored its last 12 points at the free throw line in defeating Eastern. The Loggers had a final margin of 19 to eight on free throws. Eastern was ahead 27-26 at halftime but Puget Sound was able to stay ahead in the second half.

Ray Carey, of Syracuse, and Bill Hanson each scored 17 points for Puget Sound. Carey was six of the Loggers' 13 free throws, Dick Cromie added 14 for Puget Sound.

Joe Allen of Eastern took game honors with 14 for the Loggers.

BY WALT HARRMAN

The past weekend brought nothing but disaster for Evergreen athletic teams as the basketball teams lost a pair of games, the swimming team was trounced twice and the gymnastic team lost its opening dual meet.

Savage basketballers were dropped by UPS and Central, the swimming team lost to UPS and Western, and the gymnastic lost its opener to Washington State.

A wide variety of officials marking the two weekend contests in basketball as the Cougars grabbed into a strong lead in the game, and the Saturday night game saw 21 whistles blown against the Savages to 11 for Western. Plays which are being called on the East side of the mountains don't seem to have any effect on West-side officials and vice-versa, so it is very hard for a traveling team to adjust to a set style of play. The only logical conclusion to the problem should transpire in the form of a mandatory of conference officials to try to bring some regularity to these important conference games. Such has definitely been lacking in games thus far, not only to the Eastern's but to all others.

Swimmers Sink Underneath

The swimming team ran into perhaps the strongest crew of swimmers last Friday when it enlisted in the battles of the West. The Savages were hit by Puget Sound. The inevitable result was a solid 68-10 decision for the Loggers. Next weekend the Eastern band gets its chance for revenge for a 54-49 defeat by Western last Saturday. The Savages, tired from their Friday encounter, were knocked out in the meeting against Western, and the Saturday contest should prove to be a real thriller.

The Savages basketball team fought gallantly before bowing to Washington State last Saturday in Pullman by a 52-53 count. Bill Loomis and Jerry Neyland captured two victories for the Savages in the track and field events respectively.

Savages Fall

By JERRY GARNER

The EWU basketball team received a major setback last weekend in its quest for an Evergreen conference championship by dropping a pair of weekend games with Central Washington and the University of Puget Sound. The Savages were dropped by the Wildcats on Friday night 62-52 at Ellensburg and were edged by UPS on Saturday 65-52 in Tacoma.

On Friday night the Savage showing was strong and the Wildcats took advantage of it. A game highlighted by a wild fist-swinging free-for-all in the closing minutes of play.

Dick Hanson paced Eastern scorers with 12 points, the only Savage in double figures. Phil Fitterer collected 11 for the winners with Jeff Keilman and Tom Keilman adding 10 of them coming in the first half, and was matched by Jeff Keilman who took up the slack in the second half. Fitterer who also picked up 18.

Dick McLean and Harold Riggin added 14 apiece in the Logan.

On Saturday night the Savage outfit handled, out-shot, and out-played a huge UPS team, but they also couldn't find the Loggers in a very loosely and inconsistently called game.

The big-rugged team from Tacoma were called on a mere 11 charges during the entire evening, eight of them in the second half. The Loggers were given 26 gift bounces for the day as compared to 14 for the Savages.

Roy Carey, Bob Sprague and Bill Hanson each had 19 points for the winners with Dick Crow adding 11 rebounds for the Loggers but the scoring column.

Eastern was led in rebounding and scoring by Jon Albert. Albert picked up 23 points and 11 rebounds for the game.

Next weekend the Savages have a single game, coming on Saturday night against arch rival Whitworth at Cheney.

Whitworth has a 9-3 record 1-3, but seasonal records favor the Savages 8-4 to 4-4 for the conference play Eastern's schedule.

Karl Morrison, head of the art department, conducted a study on "Freshmen's Choices of Favorite Paintings." Another study, "Proposed Art Program for Superior Art Students Entering at Freshmen," was made by the members of the Art Department staff.

The students were given a chance to evaluate Art 101, in the study, "Students' Evaluation of Art 101, Introduction to Art." A fourth study, by Robert Hanrahan, Opal Fleckenstein, and Karl Morrison, entitled "Creative Project," The Art Free, 3rd Edition.

Sculture, ceramics, and a variety of paintings by students of Shadle Park High School are on exhibition in the art department's "Gallery of Slides" series this month is "The Nature of Nature," slides by Stanley Paulson, art teacher at Lewis and Clark High School in Spokane. Mr. Paulson's slides have the programmatic flair, as he was a student of the late Edward Weston. His art is fresh and beautiful.

To Cheater Not to Cheat

"By Karen S. Kushner"

"That seems to be the one good rule in the game of cheating, which every student must follow in order to become adept at winning. Without constantly remembering this rule the unfortunate fel­low playing this game is apt to lose with disastrous consequences.

"Cheaters (those receiving illegitimate aid in examinations) have many methods of acquiring information at the time of the exam. Among the best are: copying test answers, taking notes on other people's test papers, and making slides to cover the test in an exam is easily accessible.

"Why Cheat?"

In objective exams, multiple choice for instance, it took, by one ceed as acquir­ing the answers to an exam without the aid of others. This is done in many ways: (1) by writing the answers on a piece of gum, later showing the evid­ence; (2) by tracing the an­sers on the bulletin board and the prof. will notice; (3) for the only way, by writing them on the inside of the leg above the knee; (4) by pawing through wastebaskets near dup­licating machines. All these methods have been tried in the past.

"Teacher's Starting Pay Up $218 in 1961"

Beginning teachers' salaries showed an increase of $218 per year, of which the previous year, the annual report of the placement office showed.

IS STUDYING NECESSARY?

Once there were three roommates and their names were Walter Puzaik, Casimir Ring, and LeRoy Melkans. They were all taking English Lit. and they were all very friendly, weighing types and they all smoked Marlboro Cigarettes as you would expect from such a jolly lot. For Melkans is the very essence of the very spirit of amiability, and very soul of conceit, with its tobacco so mild and flavorful, its peak so majestic and flip-top, its filter so pure and white, and you will find when you smoke Melkans that the world is filled with sombre silence and pored over their books and then, squinty and pool our knowledge !

They flung their beanies into the air and danced a gavotte and, which had lit thirty or forty Marlboros and ran out to pursue the pleasure Walter, alas, went searching for love and was soon going steady with a coed named Invicta Breadstuff, a handsome lass, but, just kept on bowling and in the end, alas, she left Walter for a nature lover and they used their free time to go for long walks or swimming. I believe these books allow the reader to become acquainted with outstanding works of many poets, each with their own book, writing.

BY GRADUATION, I BELIEVE EVERY COLLEGE STUDENT SHOULD HAVE A STUDY GUIDE.

Students’ Grades Show Improvement

Eastern has seen a lot of change in the last year, but the most important one is the appearance of better students. In the fall quarter of 1960, 4.2% of the students were on the honor roll. Last quarter 11.8% made it.

Despite the negative side, 15.4% were on probation in the fall of 1960. Of those, only 15% were on probation in the fall of 1961. All students in the fall of 1961 were on probation, but 32.3% were wondering if they were doing in the fall of 1961. Students swinging from the trees on Showalter lawn, but the average student.
