EDITORIAL COMMENTS

The worth of Garry Hart's present article is a challenge to all.

Some school situations have lately, Garry Hart has been the first and foremost the the only hell in which to get things rolling.

During the week before Washcagow, we were the first to put our hands around the dream of a completely different audience among the students. We organized the committee right the start of the game and worked with them, but the high of the time to give a spirit and color to the whole effort during half the time.

Last week, and another "sneak" was planned on our campus when Garry Hart presented his "Theatre Deux-

We hope that we have not missed this opportunity in reaching out to you. All that we want is that everything is going to be all right.

To the Students of Eastern:

In regard to the week's events in this column, I feel that it would have been great had it had remained unsung. The fact that Mr. Teedman's efforts be not to write only a little bit of a problem that is being studied by many of our students as well as officers of the old guard.

The last known hand of the million dollar project — to which everyone has been assigned. And for which we have a large number of the most important and necessary of the work of the club. We need that hand in the right place. And if by the way, you haven't found a solution to the problem, Garry Hart is through with this. And you had better be ready for a few interminable subsends, before we are able to arrange our hands... —WE WILL! Now, back to more serious business. Spirit doesn't just happen, you, I mean you make it happen.

President's Letter:

All of us at Eastern deeply appreciate the efforts of the many parents and lay persons interested in the education of young college men and women. As a result of the recent observation of reform, we are considering the possibility of presenting a superior program in the liberal arts. We are working on the basis that our present programs are superior and will make the Eastern student more proficient in the liberal arts.

The students and faculty of Eastern are also grateful that the changes made in higher education have not been made in state-supported colleges, thus preventing us from following the ideas of institutions that will be guided by the Eastern Education Board.

NA So Prexy Condemns Segregation

Speaking on behalf of millions of American students, the NA So Student Association initiated a protest meeting against the Supreme Court decision that segregation is unconstitutional. The meeting was held in support of the NA So cause and in memory of those students who lost their lives in the civil rights movement.

The meeting was well attended and it was evident that many students are concerned about the issue of segregation.

The Student Association advises in particular the presence of those students who are not responsible for the current situation. We are all responsible for our actions and we are all responsible for the future.

The Student Association opposes the use of violence and nonviolent means to achieve their goals. We believe that all individuals have the right to be heard and that all voices should be respected.

We must all work together to achieve a peaceful and just society. We must not allow our differences to divide us, but rather, we must unite to build a better world.

We believe that all people deserve equal rights and opportunities. We must all work together to ensure that all people have access to education, healthcare, and other basic necessities.

We call for an end to all forms of discrimination and we demand equal rights for all people. We will continue to fight for justice and equality until we achieve our goal.

Alice in Wonderland

"Alice in Wonderland," a Children's Theater production directed by Carol Ann Miller, was presented in Martin Auditorium on April 28, 1969.

The play, made up of four parts, will be reviewed on Tuesday, May 5, at 7:30 p.m. in the Auditorium.

Elementary school children, will be under the direction of Carol Ann Miller, Assistant Professor of Drama and Production Manager. The show is to be performed at the elementary schools.

Mrs. Miller and her assistants are responsible for making the beautiful costumes and props which contribute to the colorful theme of the production.

The formal dress will follow the familiar characters from the story of "Alice in Wonderland," and suits are made by the school children themselves.

The children are responsible for the lighting, sound, and movement that make up the stage. They are all of them children of the theater. Alice and her companions will be played by the students in the play.

In addition to the children's ability, the costumes, lights, and scenery in the production are all made by the students. The play is also a part of the curriculum for the entire school.

The play is being produced by the Children's Theater Group, which is a part of the Martin School District.

The audience is invited to come and enjoy the performance. The play is open to all students and parents of the district.

Chinese Grad Wins J. Scholz Award

When Helen Hahn of Toledo, Ohio, won a $957 spring grant of the EWC student affairs program, she became the first student to be honored with the J. Scholz Award. The award was established to honor the memory of John J. Scholz, a long-time member of the University of Missouri's faculty.

The EWC quickly found itself with a new member of the executive board, John H. Powell, and a new president, Fredick R. Rigler. The university continued to develop, with new buildings and programs being added.

In addition to the awards and grants, the university also continued to expand its offerings, with new majors and programs being added every year. The university continued to grow, both in size and in prestige, and became a leading institution in the state and beyond.

Radio Alum Will Talk To Students

Oscar Schaff of the EWC will talk to students at the D. W. Buyer lecture on Saturday. Schaff, a 1960 alum, will discuss his experiences in the world of broadcasting.

Gridders Set For Final Game

By R. H. Higler

Eastern gridders are preparing for their final game of the 1958 season. Saturday when the Red Raiders of Southern Miss take on the Chaffey campus.

The game will be a good test of the season's progress for both teams and will determine who will finish second and third in the Southeastern Conference. A win for Chaffey would mean second place and a loss would put the Raiders back in third place.
