Acrediting Team Rates EWC A Superior College

A team of investigating educators has submitted a report calling Western Washington College a "superior college of its kind."

The team came from an accrediting team which last month made a firsthand study of the school and its programs for the Higher Education Commission of the Northwest Association of Schools and Colleges. The group was headed by Dr. William H. Barnes, associate dean of Menlo College.

The commission accreditated the college for a three-year period. The report praised the quality of the Board of Trustees, the quality of the curriculum, the faculty, the administration, and the student body.

Saskatoon Study Made

During the visitation by the educators, a special study of the college's teacher training program was made by representatives of the National Council of Teachers Education.

Cagers To Meet Whitman Again Sat. At Othello

With three contests under the Eastern cagers' belts I think it is apparent they have a considerable distance to go before they will be top power in the conference over 1500 men.

This week several games were played. Some inspired moments with tossing little to be desired, but also in all three games there has been moments when looked like a mediocre college club.

These moments cost them the Washington State game, in the second half the play and free throw was far from adequate. In the Whitman contest they had another good first half but they didn't hold it. It was not particularly the lack of team play but individual performance was the most noticeable. Despite the defeat our forwards played at times and left some perfect shots open, but Eastern could not seem to take advantage of the breaks.

If the SH trials attempted at least half of them were simple layups or taps, but only few field goals were converted for a poor 21 out 100 percent.

Themedium department the opponents grabbed 11 off the Eastern bench. At one time have have done our best and have taken the lead but Eastern tried of again at the end.

Coach Tom Robe is still looking for the right five, and be seem to have one now, or at least a combination that is. That's plenty of guards to develop the plans for best combination.

Eastern Wins By 1

Eastern Washington almost collected 12 points lead with a 12-0 run in the 8 game remaining Saturday in their 49-46 win over the Whitman Missionaries.

The first of the last eight minutes of the Swaggers went consecutively down the road. Moore and White put 12 and came within six points of the Missionaries after back and forth from those two and later score from the field to close the margin again White man brought the ball down, and Gary Roberts was inside to aidi them. With the basket and a foul on Roberts to cap the 12-0 run. Eastern had 12 20, 10, and in the second half. Eastern would not lose the lead again in the game and White man 12-0 run in the second half. Eastern had 12 20, 10, and in the second half. Eastern would not lose the lead again in the game and White man 12-0 run in the second half. Eastern had 12 20, 10, and 0.

The last thing that Eastern head coach Donald Copeland did was to pray that the Missionaries would not make a three point shot in the last minute. They didn't.

What I found to be the most interesting part of the article was the description of the Christmas car parade. The author mentions how the streets were filled with cars decorated for the holiday season, adding a festive touch to the event. It was a unique experience to see the cars lined up and waiting for the parade to begin. The parade was a great way to bring the community together and start the holiday season with a bang.

The article also mentions the variety of cars that were showcased during the parade. From classic cars to modern-day models, there was something for everyone to enjoy. It was fascinating to see how each car had its own unique design and style, adding to the overall atmosphere of the event. The author also notes how the parade was a great opportunity to appreciate the engineering and craftsmanship that went into creating these cars.

In conclusion, the article "Relationship Between the Deckle" is an excellent read for anyone interested in cars and holidays.
