Win at Radford

On the ftrme he bight for the Evergreen conference chamionship? That’s the biggest questions for the Eastern Washington college crews, and one that they alone can answer.

The win at Radford was a perfect send-off for the Evergreen skaters.
The team has been practicing hard and will need to maintain their form to compete in the conference.

One of the brightest highlights has been the display of the four-man crew of the Western Washington College. The team has been practicing hard and will need to maintain their form to compete in the conference.

Dick Nordby, in his third year of college, has impressed everyone with his skill and determination. He has shown improvement in every event and is now considered one of the best skaters in the country.

All this is in line with the team’s goal of winning the Evergreen championship. Of course, there is still a lot of work to do before the rest of the season starts.

Pacific Lutheran, the perennial power of the league, has been nearing the end of the season. The team has been practicing hard and is ready to make another run for the championship.

The first game of the season will be against University of British Columbia. The team is looking forward to the challenge of their first opponent.

The Evergreen men will need to be at their best to have a chance at winning the championship.

Ever Wonder Where Your Fees Are Going

by Tim Ernr, A&M Treasurer

This article is the first of a two-part series that will be appearing in The Easterner in an attempt to explain to EWU students just where their money is going in the Eastern Washington College ROTC department. The main portion of the money is used for pay for each quarter, and there is a "pie" showing just how your fees are "cut up." May don't expect to find out how the details of the disbursement of your fees. Because of space limitations in The Easterner there can only be part of the information for each fee. However, if you combine the information in this week's with the next article this fall, you should have a complete picture of where your money goes.

We explain the ingredients of the pie please note that it is distributed as follows:

A. Enlisted Fee
B. Associated Student Body Fee
C. Associated Student Body Fee (Student Union Bond)

This article will be devoted to explaining "A" and "B." Section A

The amount marked "A" is charged to all students enrolled in the ROTC. The greater part of the "enlistment fee" is an amount determined by the Board of Trustees of the College of the state of Washington as a proper amount to defray the cost of many of the books. Have you ever needed any of these for reference work, study or recreation? Have you ever had to buy a book for one of your classes? These books are not for sale, and therefore you are forced to purchase them. The cost of these books is one of the major items in the American society. Some of these books are for the use of students, as well as for the general public.

The amount marked "B" is levied on all students and non-students as an additional fee. This fee is collected at the beginning of each semester and is used to defray the cost of books, supplies, and other expenses necessary for the operation of the ROTC program. These supplies are items used by students and non-students alike.

The amount marked "C" is levied on all students and non-students as an additional fee. This fee is collected at the beginning of each semester and is used to defray the cost of books, supplies, and other expenses necessary for the operation of the ROTC program. These supplies are items used by students and non-students alike.

The amount marked "D" is levied on all students and non-students as an additional fee. This fee is collected at the beginning of each semester and is used to defray the cost of books, supplies, and other expenses necessary for the operation of the ROTC program. These supplies are items used by students and non-students alike.

The amount marked "E" is levied on all students and non-students as an additional fee. This fee is collected at the beginning of each semester and is used to defray the cost of books, supplies, and other expenses necessary for the operation of the ROTC program. These supplies are items used by students and non-students alike.

The amount marked "F" is levied on all students and non-students as an additional fee. This fee is collected at the beginning of each semester and is used to defray the cost of books, supplies, and other expenses necessary for the operation of the ROTC program. These supplies are items used by students and non-students alike.

The amount marked "G" is levied on all students and non-students as an additional fee. This fee is collected at the beginning of each semester and is used to defray the cost of books, supplies, and other expenses necessary for the operation of the ROTC program. These supplies are items used by students and non-students alike.

The amount marked "H" is levied on all students and non-students as an additional fee. This fee is collected at the beginning of each semester and is used to defray the cost of books, supplies, and other expenses necessary for the operation of the ROTC program. These supplies are items used by students and non-students alike.

The amount marked "I" is levied on all students and non-students as an additional fee. This fee is collected at the beginning of each semester and is used to defray the cost of books, supplies, and other expenses necessary for the operation of the ROTC program. These supplies are items used by students and non-students alike.

The amount marked "J" is levied on all students and non-students as an additional fee. This fee is collected at the beginning of each semester and is used to defray the cost of books, supplies, and other expenses necessary for the operation of the ROTC program. These supplies are items used by students and non-students alike.

The amount marked "K" is levied on all students and non-students as an additional fee. This fee is collected at the beginning of each semester and is used to defray the cost of books, supplies, and other expenses necessary for the operation of the ROTC program. These supplies are items used by students and non-students alike.

The amount marked "L" is levied on all students and non-students as an additional fee. This fee is collected at the beginning of each semester and is used to defray the cost of books, supplies, and other expenses necessary for the operation of the ROTC program. These supplies are items used by students and non-students alike.
