This is the story of a group of student athletes. A group that is very special. These are the men who make up the Eastern Rifle team. The team has been around for a while, but this year they are really coming into their own. They have been working hard, and it shows in their results. The Eastern Rifle team has been invited to compete in several tournaments this year, and they have done very well. They have even won some medals.

The Eastern Rifle team consists of five members: Bill Tetrault, Greg Smith, Tom O'Brien, Bob Johnson, and John Brown. They have been working hard, and it shows in their results. Spokane Rabbi To Speak At USCF Meet Tomorrow

Rabbi William A. Sander son of Temple Beth Israel in Spokane will participate in the Jewish Chasid Agudath Society when he lectures on "What the Jews Believe" at the USCF "The History of American" meeting tomorrow evening at 6:30 in Logan Hall.

Sander son lectures on college campuses under auspices of the Jewish Chasid Agudath Society, an organization which creates better understanding of Jews and Judaism through education. Rabbi Sander son is a member of the Sons of the American Revolution and is also captain of Jewish chaplain of the United States. He received a commendation in the U.S. chaplaincy of the Navy from the U.S. Naval Chaplains' Service in honor of his services.

Fred Prusakow, a sophmore from Whatcom College, will tell his experiences and those of other people in a project entitled "Chosen People at the UW" at the USCF meeting Sunday, February 5, 6 p.m., in the Student Union.

Mr. Prusakow was part of an international student exchange program which sent a student in West Africa to the University of Ghana and another student in Ghana to the University of Minnesota.

Prusakow will also speak at an open meeting at the Shona House in Chico on Saturday where he will be an assistant of the college students of the U.S. who want to receive first-hand experience in the teaching hospital and craft program of Shona House.

"The USCF wishes to involve all students to attend this meeting in order to hear these two students share their experiences," state Ronald Hadley Harper.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

A Pure White Modern Filter is only the beginning of a W inston.

It's what's up front that counts.

Winston plants the FILTER-BLEND up front...fine, flavorful tobacco, specially processed for filter smoking.

Filter blend tobacco means more of what you like about cigarettes. It's the reason there's less nicotine and tar in a Winston. And you save a dollar on every pack.

Arctic Explorer, Bush Pilot Film-Lecture Tomorrow

Bob Hedlind, arctic explorer bush pilot, and author, will present a film-lecture titled "Arctic Penetrator" in the auditorium (College Hall) Thursday night. His lecture will be at 7:30.

Bob Hedlind spent three years shooting his film which records intimate details of life in the far north of both wild life and native Eskimo.

The film includes shots of wild wolves, great herds of reindeer, ice and arctic North. It also depicts life in the polar villages near the west coast of Arctic land and records the rugged life of missionaries who braved the area.

The Hedlind film has been called the "best complete picture of Arctic life ever made" by the recent trip of 12 years which Hedlind made to the Arctic North.

A bush pilot himself, he makes his living flying supplies and equipment to the outskirts of civilization and in emergencies for the first aid service flying hospitals during the flying seasons.

With his film lecture Hedlind will display a collection of Eskimo artifacts and implements.

Among the artifacts on his film shot is a full-sized Eskimo woman's coca, captured a few weeks ago and some Eskimo tools, used to make the most important parts of her life - the dog sledge, fishing her ege, making her shoes, tanning the hide. Sometimes I caught the adult Eskimo in their whole winter costume, so that you can see the color of their skin and a little bit of the entire person.

Another sequence for those interested in the Eskimo's fishing. He also plans to show some of their typical%clothing, enacting the scene.

Washington Fifth
In Teachers' Pay

The Washington State Education Council, a non-governmental organization recently formed, has prepared a report regarding the employment of teachers in Washington State.

The report contains information on various salary levels for teachers in Washington State. It includes data on the average salaries paid to teachers in different regions of the state and highlights the factors that influence teacher salaries.

The information is presented in a concise and accessible format, making it easy for educators and policymakers to understand the current state of teachers' pay in Washington State.

Job Interviews Scheduled for a Variety of Jobs

Representatives from the U.S. Department of Education and the Washington State Department of Education will be on campus at 11:00 today.

A group meeting will take place in the Business Education classroom in Monroe Hall for students interested in information on Civil Service employment.

Additionally, the report highlights the need for increased funding for education and the challenges faced by teachers in maintaining a high-quality education system.

The report concludes with a call for action to improve teacher salaries and working conditions, emphasizing the importance of teachers in shaping the future of education in Washington State.

For more information on the report and the organizations involved, please visit the website of the Washington State Education Council.
