Dave Sherman, Eastern Student, Surveys Vienna Youth Festival

(Ed. note—Dave Sherman, senior political science major at EWCE, attended the seventh World Youth Festival in Vienna, Austria, as an official observer. This is the first in a series of articles on his impressions of the festival.)

By Dave Sherman

College students in every corner of the world are constantly reminded that the future belongs to youth. Therefore it is not surprising to find so many students actively engaged in programs which they feel will help to make the world a better place in which to live.

Dave Sherman feel will help to make the world a better place in which to live.

The Communists are quick to realize that these ambitious students are looking for projects which will help them to attain their goals. For this reason, the Communists have organized youth movements to channel the energies of youth. However, many of the movements are not associated with communism itself but are front organizations.

The professed aims of these Communist front organizations are invariably those which deserve the sympathy of honest men—peace, disarmament, democracy, the economic, scientific and educational advancement of mankind. Their real aims—demonstrated by the history of their activities, invariably are to promote the interests of the Soviet Union, damage and sabotage the free democracies who oppose communism, and tighten the hold of the USSR over its unhappy satellites.

The VIIIth World Youth Festival which has held in Vienna this summer was an event organized by two Communist front organizations — The World Federation of Democratic Youth and the International Union of Students. The festival was held in order to promote an exchange of cultural and scientific ideas.

Officially, no political issues are discussed but the Soviets present topics such as "Liberation for the Colonial Areas," and "How to Combat Imperialism."

The Soviet message is one of friendship from communist countries and exploitation by the western powers, which they charge with being solely responsible for the impoverished conditions of these areas.

By attracting thousands of youths from Asia, Africa, the Middle East and Latin America to a communist-organized event, in which the Soviets and Chinese are the star performers, and by creating a popular propaganda image of the festival in the minds of the youth back home, they hope to win these young people to the conviction that communist superiority is not only inevitable but desirable.

The young delegates from these areas are eager to win the respect of the international community and to achieve rapid modernization. The communists' tune of "quick industrialization technique available through the communist ideology" doesn't play to a deaf audience.

The Soviets feel that by demonstrating their ability to attract "representative" youth from all over the world they will prove that destiny is really with communism since it appeals so broadly to youth.

"A Savage Dream" This Year's Theme

Even Freud, who made dream-analysis a psychotherapy, may not have known what a savage dream. But EWCE people will soon see for themselves as their clubs and dormitory organizations set about decorating the campus for this year's Homecoming theme "A Savage Dream."

Many interpretations of "A Savage Dream" will appear in the form of stationary floats on lawns about the campus but particularly in front of Showalter hall, according to Ron Wolfe, Homecoming decorations chairman. There will also be a variety of interior dormitory decorations, he said.

This traditional student welcome to EWCE Alumni will be rewarded on October 23, when a team of faculty members judge the decorations and award eight prizes in all; two cups and two ribbons alike to the dormitory group and to the clubs.

"It is important," Wolfe said, "that representatives from all clubs and organizations wishing to participate attend tonight's planning meeting at 7 p. m. sharp in the old ASB room in Isle-land."

Commuter Election

Off-campus and commuting students are asked to attend a special meeting in the Isle-land lounge tomorrow at 12:30 p.m.

Purpose of the meeting, according to Paul Hooper, last year's commuter representative, is to nominate officers for the coming year.

General Praises Eastern ROTC Unit

Facilities available for ROTC here at Eastern are undoubtedly one of the best in the sixth army area, according to Major General Mudgett, deputy sixth army commander, after his visit here last week.

According to Lt. Col. Erwin G. Nilsen, Eastern ROTC commander, General Mudgett was especially impressed with the appearance and performance of the EWCE honor guard. He was also impressed with the cordiality and desire for cooperation between ROTC and the rest of the campus, especially the administrative and educational staffs.

The general, Col. Nilsen said, felt honored that so many took an interest in his visit here, especially when he met faculty members and administrative officials at Louise Anderson hall last Thursday evening.

Cadets Get DMS Honors

Six Eastern Washington College of Education senior ROTC cadets have been awarded the highest ROTC cadet honor of Distinguished Military Student.

Named for the honor were William H. Bumgardner, Moses Lake; Douglas R. Cresswell, Pasco; Darrell B. Maertens, Newport; Michael J. McCollum, Spokane; Jon W. McFarland, Dayton; and Donald L. State, Spokane.

"This award is based on leadership, outstanding military and academic status, extra curricular and campus activities, and potential as an army officer," Col. Nilsson said.

Earning this honor entitles these cadets to apply for a regular army commission upon graduation.

The honor is conferred upon the EWCE cadets at the discretion of Dr. Don S. Patterson, Eastern president, and Lt. Col. Erwin G. Nilsson, Eastern ROTC commanding officer.

Frosh Vote Oct. 15

Elections for permanent officers for the freshman class will be held tomorrow in the Isle-land from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. and in the dining hall of Louise Anderson from 4 to 8 p. m.

National Survival Depends On Education, Eastern President Tells Students

"The emerging relationship between the product of education and national survival is clearly a phenomenon of the past ten years," said Dr. Don S. Patterson to a large audience at the President's convocation last Friday.

"Overnight we have been brought face to face with the realization of the role education can play in national power and international relations," he added.

Dr. Patterson devoted much of his speech to explaining some of the ideas developed at the March, 1959, conference on higher education held in Chicago.

He repeatedly emphasized the importance of intellectual development and application in determining the future course of human events. Pointing out that intelligence is possessed by all races and all nations, he reminded his audience that only in its development and utilization can we hope to surpass others. "Knowledge is power. Knowledge can also mean continued freedom and greater security for all," he said.

"Our way of life is on trial . . . We must re-examine our philosophy of life, our cultural values, our basic convictions and the value judgments which have brought us to where we are today . . . We can neither turn back nor vegetate," he warned. "We not only need greater understanding of our Western Civilization, but we must build a better understanding of peoples of the rest of the world," he said.

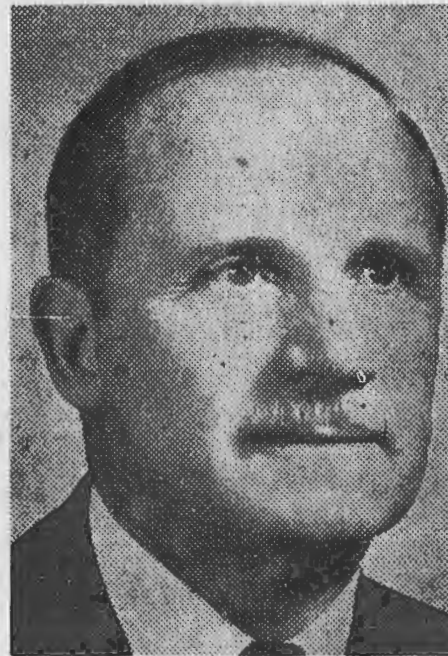

Warning that education for these times needs breadth as well as depth, he said, "It is very easy to keep on perpetuating traditions. To make a change of direction takes courage and wisdom."

In closing he said, "Here on this campus we have a continuing task to perform. It is one of more improvement in teaching; more appropriate and expanding programs; greater seriousness of purpose and better application of abilities on the part of students . . . Intellectual excellence will be our main stream toward future progress and achievement."

Legendary Mycenae Topic Of Speaker

"Mycenae", the capital city of the legendary King Agamemnon of ancient Greece will be the topic of Dr. George E. Mylonas when he appears in Showalter auditorium tomorrow at 10:10 a. m.

Dr. Mylonas is the president of the Archaeological Society of America and holds a host of honorary degrees. He was decorated for his work in excavating "Mycenae" by King Paul of Greece.

Dr. Mylonas is professor of archaeology and art at Washington university, St. Louis, Missouri. He also taught at the Institute of Advanced Studies at Princeton university.

IK's Initiate 11

The Tomahawk Chapter of the Intercollegiate Knights recently initiated 11 new members into their organization.

The new members participated in a pledge period and "hell week" last spring. The new Knights are: Terry Evans, Dale Gill, Dave Lewis, Clifford Janson, Horst Grosshans, Bruce Peters, Bob Johnson, Ed Harvill, John Vick, Marvin Morash and Dave Hansen.

Demo Solon Signed For Forum Talk

Democratic Congressman Stewart Udall of Tucson, Arizona, will be one of the speakers at a political forum to be held at Eastern October 29, Paul Hooper, president of the EWCE Associated Mens Students, said.

Udall is the second speaker signed for what is hoped to be an annual affair, Hooper said. Congressman Bob Wilson of Chula Vista, Calif., was announced earlier as the Republican speaker.

An outstanding academic figure is also expected to take part in the forum, Hooper said.

Sponsored jointly by the college's men students and the Spokane area Citizenship Clearing House, the all-day forum will be on "National Security and Its Conflict With Individual Liberties."

Recruiting Problems Of Athletic Department Need Consideration

The record of the EWCE football team this season has caused much concern on campus. In the interest of justice we would like to bring certain facts to the attention of the student body, faculty and alumni.

Coach Chissus is trying to field a football team without a trainer. He has had seven assistant coaches in seven years—all of them undergraduate students. No salaries are provided for full-time trainers or assistant coaches. Further, Chissus must do all his own scouting and recruiting, mostly during the regular football season.

He is hopelessly handicapped in his recruiting because of the lack of financial assistance for players. He has only $45 available for football scholarships and only 24 jobs available for players. (In 1953, when Chissus came to Eastern, there were 913 students enrolled and 33 jobs available for athletes). The athletic board is working on a fund to assist Chissus in this area, but lacks support from students and alumni.

On top of this, he must face the fact that WSU and the University of Washington will take the top 200 players every year, in spite of all he can do.

On the present squad of about 55, there are only 17 players who were on the squad last year. Only one has played three full seasons for Chissus. Most of his former players have gone to other schools where financial assistance was available, dropped out of college entirely, or have been forced to quit the squad in order to take a job.

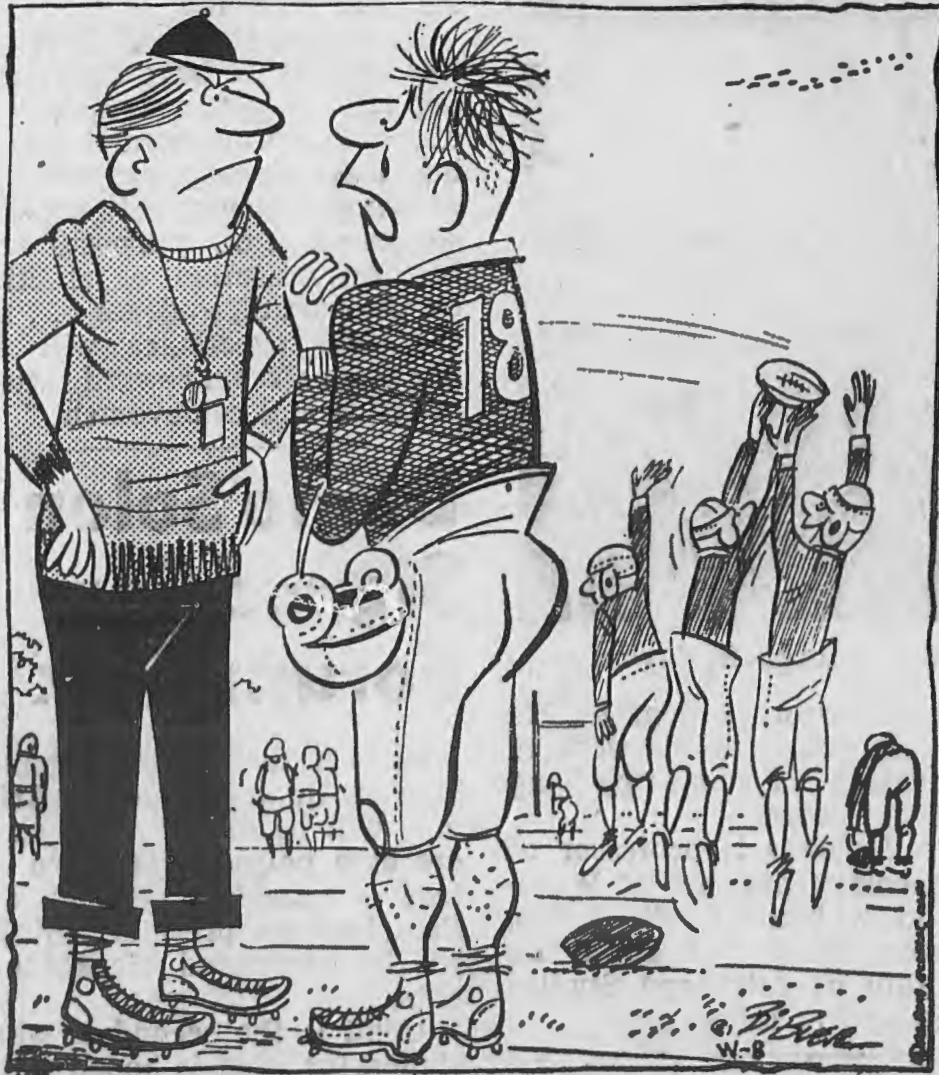

It is impossible to determine specifically what type and amount of assistance other Evergreen conference schools are giving to athletes, but the quality of players indicate that it must be extensive.

If we expect Chissus to field teams which can compete with these schools we must match them man for man and dollar for dollar in team, staff, and budget. The prestige and publicity which could be realized from a winning ball club is worth the cost.

We believe that Coach Chissus is doing the best possible job with the staff and facilities available to him. We believe the team is doing well as can be fairly expected of it.

But we do not believe that Eastern will win titles under these circumstances.—BB fact may force a reduction in estimated total figures for the year. I do not intend to argue the merits of either side in this column. Rather I wish to point out that there is a third side which is, as yet, not represented at the bargaining table. That side is the public—you and I.

ASB President Says

Student Council Discusses Perennial Questions

From time to time in this space some rather disassociated comments may appear. This is because it seems rather ridiculous to try to fill an entire column on one subject just for the sake of continuity.

Tom Ennis

To set the record straight—Judy Miller is your student body secretary. Mr. Herman, the editor, was in the Aleutian islands when Judy married Danny Miller, so I imagine the error might be excusable.

Some questions that the student council should discuss this year will be perennial ones. If at all possible the council hopes to take action that will dispose permanently of these problems.

Examples would be: What to do with Sacajawea, building a bell tower, finding an adequate student insurance plan and bringing the ASB constitution up to date.

Your student council meets each Thursday at 6 p. m. in room 109 (Student Center) of the

Sense Of Humor Missing

Contributors to the Editor are asked to keep their comments brief. All contributions are subject to necessary editing. No letter can be printed without proper signature. Signature will be withheld upon request but the Editor requires a signed letter.

Mr. Editor!

I can't help but wonder what type of education you are speaking of when you write an article such as that which appeared in last week's Easterner.

I hope you are not referring to you as the one being educated, certainly not and write an article such as that. Just what do you hope to accomplish by making such derogatory remarks as "congratulating Ed Chissus on de-emphasizing football in the Evergreen Conference."

How can you place yourself on such a high pedestal as to proclaim yourself as a judge of one's accomplishments, especially along a field to which you know absolutely nothing about?

I would think a person in your position should try to build up the school, rather than knock it by unsound and unjust remarks such as yours.

I can think of no student, who in the past history of Eastern, has contributed more to the cultural development of Eastern than Armand Boatman, yet you have the imprudence to publicly criticize and ridicule him. If you had half of the talent in literary writing that he possesses in the field of music, I'm sure such an article of this would have never appeared.

And finally to top everything off you have the audacity to make a comment such as you did about one of the top professors on Eastern's staff. Surely a person in your position must consider critically the articles which you write.

I can only resolve that you must have had some reason for writing such an article. Is it immaturity? Lack of common sense? Or just a desire to create a little frictional animosity? Well I can readily say that if its the latter Mr. Editor, you have accomplished the task. Judging from the campus conversations I am backed 100%.

So as a personal tip, clean up your remarks or move aside and let someone with a little more "common sense" fill your position. (Signed) Duane Traner and in so doing are robbing all of us of the material benefits of a higher standard of living.

The current stalemate in negotiations illustrates forcefully the need for some mechanism for representing the public interest in collective bargaining sessions involving basic industries.

The public must be protected from the selfishness and irresponsibility of the representatives of private economic groups. The nineteenth century philosophies of laissez faire and business unionism are equally obsolete in the present technology of mass production and mass distribution.

Both the companies and the unions have a responsibility which transcends their traditional roll as champions of the stockholders and workers exclusively. That responsibility is to the people—the ultimate consumers who must depend on the integrity and social responsibility of the companies and unions for the everyday necessities of life.

By Tom Ennis

Isle Union you can find the offices of your student body officers. If you have any suggestions for improvement of the college I would ask that you seek out your appropriate representative to student council; however, if you have any questions or comments I will be happy to listen to them either personally or through a note to me at Box 661.

There is no passageway through the student center to the bookstore. You can get to the bookstore through the Bali (Main Lounge) room without having to go outside during inclement weather.

Speaking about student council meetings again—These meetings are open to ALL students and interested faculty. Represented on the council are elected representatives of all of the classes, all the dormitories, off-campus commuter representative, associated men students, associated women students, married students and your five student body officers, as well as our faculty adviser, Dr. Harold K. Stevens. Dean of Students Daryl Hagie acts as unofficial adviser to the student council.

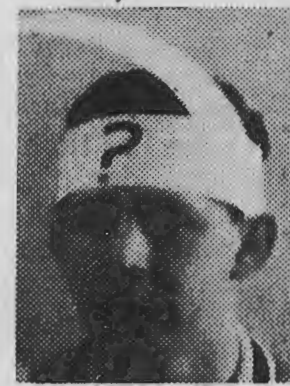

Representatives to the council are required to maintain a 2.25 cumulative grade point average to remain on the council.

Isle-land Has Exotic Names

Hey, have you caught the new exotic names for the different student union names? As you go down the hall you see such names as "Bali," "Capri," "Tahiti," "Vashon," "Men's," "Women's."

Congratulations to Sutton hall for posting a respectable 2.73 grade point average for last year. Other halls and averages were: Garry 2.62, Louise Anderson, 2.52, Monroe 2.50, Hudson 2.40 and Senior 2.40. By the way, the men edged out the women last year 2.56 to 2.49.

Chief Gary. Lawrence Welk is currently looking for a new "Champagne Lady" for his TV show. Any interested female vocalist may obtain further information on this subject by contacting me at "The Easterner" office.

Speaking of singers, Gary Owsley has formed a new singing group. They feature folk songs with special arrangements being done by Owsley. Their only problem to date is finding bookings and a suitable name for their group. If you have any ideas for a name drop them off at "The Easterner" office.

The current high cost of gasoline not only creates havoc with the commuter's pocketbook but also cuts into the poor service station operator's business. An example of this is a sign on a garage in Cheney: "This is a non-profit organization. We didn't mean to be but we are."

Here's one from the math department . . . The number of blasts from auto horns in a traffic jam is equal to the sum of the squares at the wheel.

If you're troubled by that loud noise in your car . . . let her do the driving.

Dr. Stevens plans on doing "Our Town" by Thornton Wilder for Eastern's first play of the season.

All you jazz fans can hear Armand Boatman's quartet every Sunday afternoon at Bojack's in Lewiston, Idaho. From what we hear it's a real swinging place.

Union Building Need Seen Back in 1954

"A student union is something a campus needs, and if we get behind and push it, we will have a student union building any college would be proud of." This bit of optimism came from Willard Jultuh, ASB president in 1954.

A record breaking crowd of 32 EWC drama students turned out for casting in the 1949 production of the Hart and Kaufman comedy, "You Can't Take It With You."

Eastern's student body was planning a campaign to win a particular type of award in 1944. The object of the contest? The rolling of bandages and purchasing of war stamps. The women of Senior and Monroe halls were organizing hiking groups for the fall quarter of '39. Naturally, this activity was stopped after the conversion of Monroe to a men's dorm.

The Savages, in 1934, were determined to down the Ellensburg team and to break a long-standing "jinx"—since 1925, Eastern had not been able to lick Ellensburg in a single game.

Dean Of Women To Be Honored

A reception will be held honoring Miss Mary Robinson, EWCE's new dean of women, tomorrow, October 15.

The reception will take place in the Isle-land lounge from 7:15 to 8:15 p. m., with women from Senior and Louise Anderson halls acting as hostesses.

A program will consist of incidental music, and refreshments will be served after the students have had an opportunity to become acquainted with Miss Robinson.

Though the event is to be sponsored by on-campus students, commuters are especially welcome and are encouraged to attend.

Queen's Buffet Set For Sunday

The Queen's Buffet, the traditional opening function of Homecoming, will be held October 18 6 to 8 p. m. in the Ball lounge.

Paul Barton will MC the event with entertainment supplied by Eastern's new singing trio, composed of Gary Owsley, Ron Jones and Ed Barnhardt. Gloria Schlenker will also add her voice to the festivities.

Tickets go on sale for $1 today at the student union. No tickets will be sold at the door.

Candidates Picked For Sacajawea

Max Purser, president of the senior class announced today the names of this year's candidates for Sacajawea.

The senior girls vying for the honorary position are: Sally Ator, Maggie Jefferies, Janice Tachibana, Carol Ulery, Louise Woollett and Gloria Ziterkoff.

New KEWC Staff Picked By Hamblin

Four students have been named by radio station manager Ed Hamblin to the fall quarter staff of KEWC. They are Gary Herman, Dick Heckroth, Wally Lane, and Gary Owsley.

Herman will do a special news show on Tuesday night emphasizing campus happenings and featuring local personalities.

Hamblin said that this year's programs will be designed primarily for the entertainment of the college student. "We will endeavor to present the best in music, news and sports," he added.

No definite date has been set for the beginning of broadcasting because the engineers are awaiting the arrival of new equipment.

Any student interested in auditioning for the KEWC staff can contact Hamblin at the station studios in the student union from 3 to 5 p. m.

Garry Hall Names New Officers

The Garry Hall slate of officers is now complete after further elections, which were necessitated by officers-elect leaving the hall; Dave Lewis, publicity chairman, said.

The complete list is now as follows: president, Bill Scamhorn; vice-president, Bill Dick; treasurer, Mike Peck; secretary, Bob McFarland; publicity chairman, Lewis; co-social chairmen, Bob Langdon and Jim Nettles; and intramurals co-ordinator, Bob Short. The ASB representative is Stan Rizutti.

In charge of the dorm's Homecoming activities is Bob McFarland.

Community Artist Series To Present 5 Attractions

A student-community artist series sponsored jointly by EWCE and the community of Cheney will present five attractions during the year, Mrs. Mark Ratcliffé, chairman, announced.

The programs will all be presented in Showalter auditorium. Ticket sales are under the direction of Mrs. J. P. Caldwell.

First attraction will be the National Ballet Theater of Finland, November 12. This will be followed by Rysard Bakst, Polish pianist, December 3. Two programs are scheduled for February, with Frances Yeend, soprano, to be heard February 3 and the Quartetto de Roma, February 9.

Final attraction of the series will be Jean Leon Destine and her Haitian dancers on April 25.

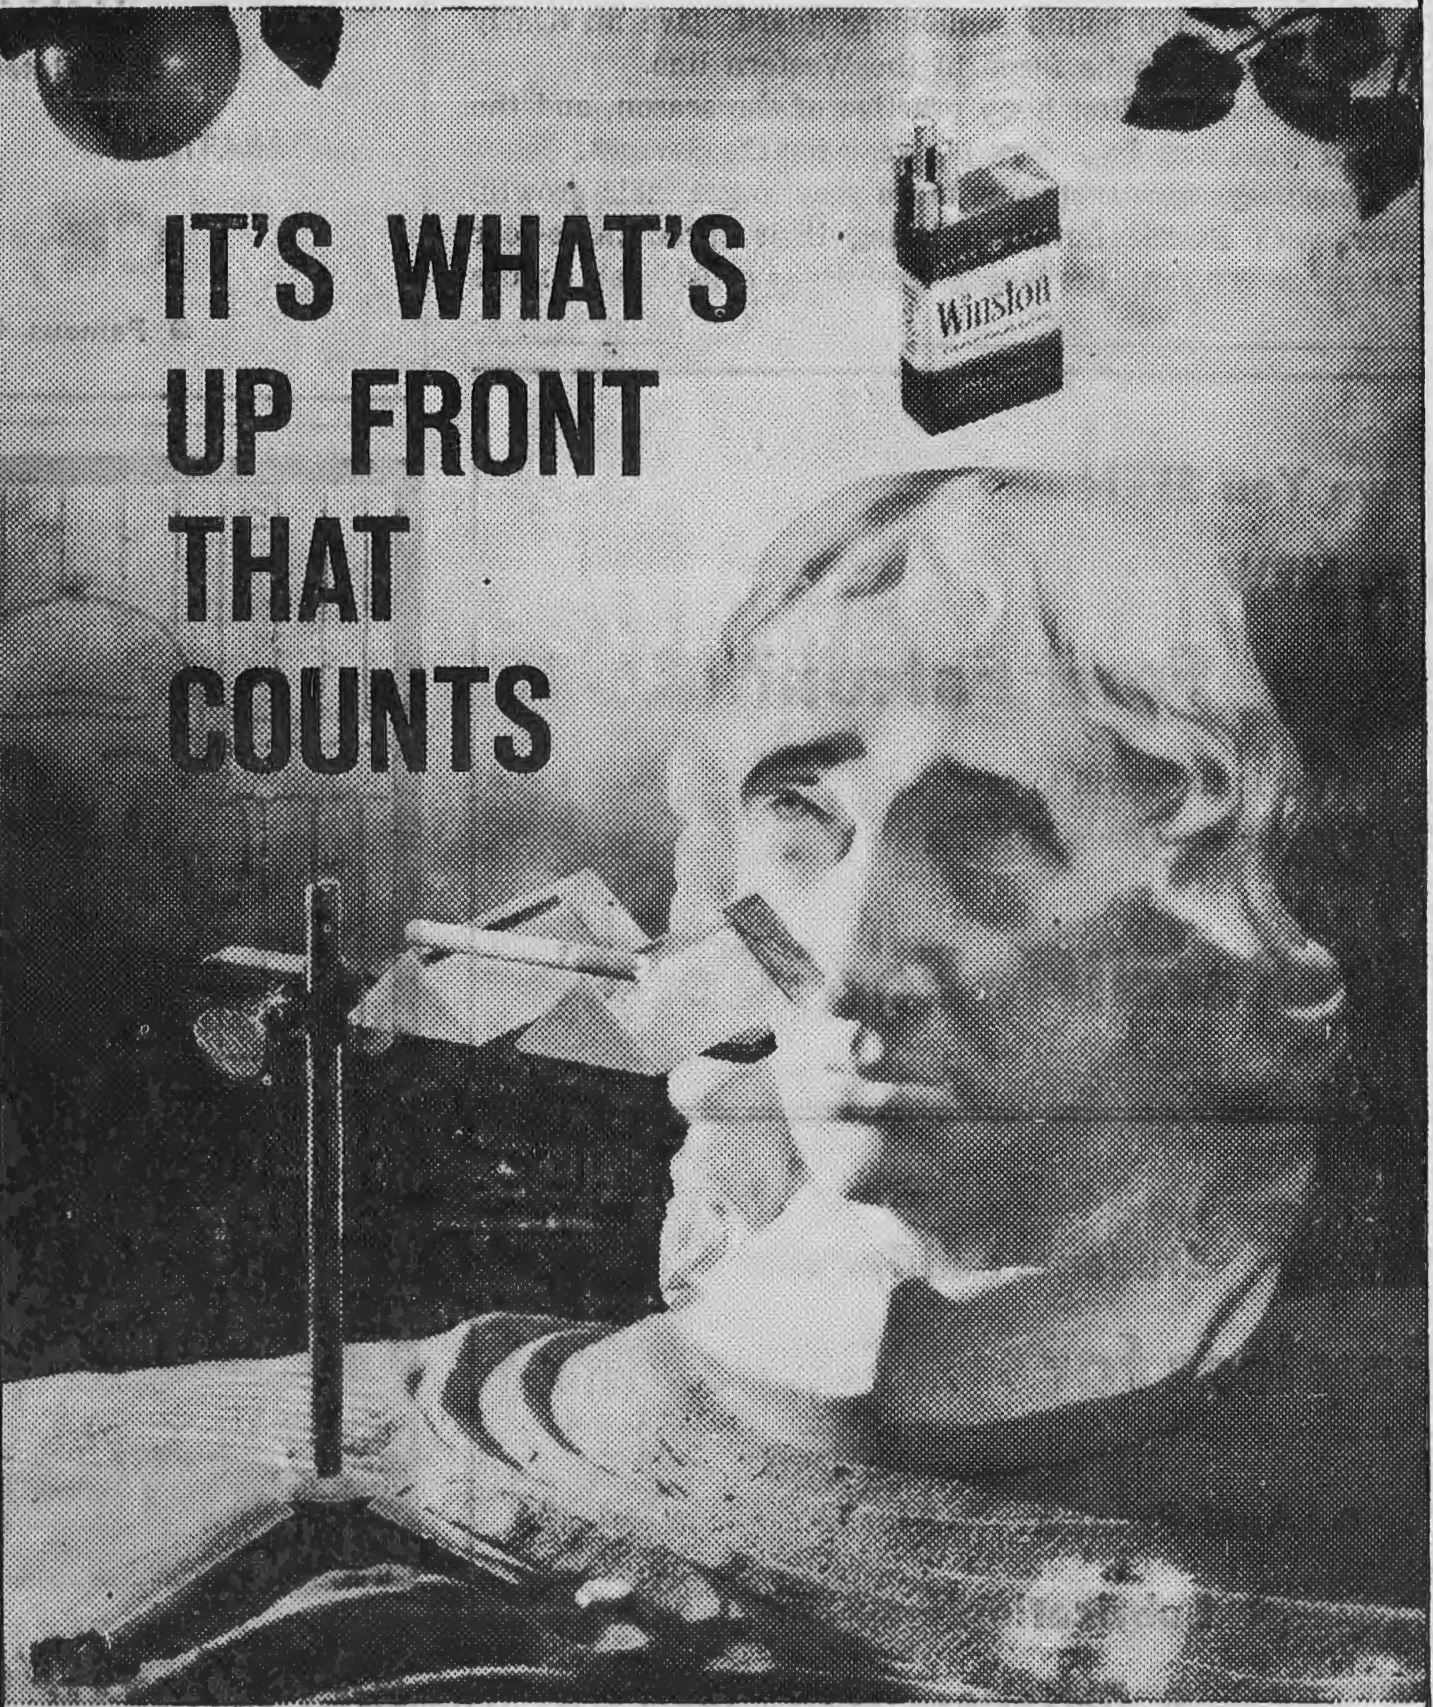

An Eastern Washington College faculty, student and community board of 12 members governs the series, with Dr. Harold K. Stevens, EWCE speech department chairman, as executive secretary.

ALUMNI OFFICE MOVES

Eastern's Alumni office, formerly located in 214 Showalter Hall, has been moved to 105A (Old Kinnikinick Office) in Showalter. The telephone number remains the same: BELmont 5-6221, Ext. 280.

LOOKING UP

With Al Ruddy

In looking over last year's record book we find that Evergreen conference football has taken on a look that was anything but expected by the pre-season prognosticators. Most of these fearless forecasters saw few if any changes in the league scene, sticking with Central and Western, who operated last year on the share plan for the title.

Al Ruddy

Whitworth and Pacific Lutheran which tied for the cellar spot in the 1958 season now look like the teams to beat. Whitworth, under the direction of Sam Adams, now in his second year as head football coach, has gone undefeated in four starts. They opened the conference action with a victory over Western two weeks ago and then banged out their second league win over Central last Saturday.

Pacific Lutheran, which has been at the bottom of the heap for several seasons, has this year displayed a really fine offense. Eastern head coach Ed Chissus labeled it one of the best and most varied attacks the circuit has seen in several seasons.

Western, the team picked most likely to succeed, is now at the bottom with two defeats. Central is even with a 1-1 record, along with Eastern. The College of Puget Sound has a 0-1 record. For what it's worth, my nod goes to the Savages for this week's action against the Central Washington Wildcats. The Ellensburg eleven doesn't have the poundage that the Vikings had, giving the Eastern line a bit more chance to defense.

An example of the weight differential in the two lines last week: Bob Miner, 170 pound sophomore guard, gave up nearly 40 pounds to the man he faced in the Western line.

Tomorrow sees the first hoop practice of the season, and the opening of what may be a very big year for the Savages. Coach "Red" Reese says give them one more year to get their growth. However, with Pacific Lutheran losing their three three-year all-conference veterans, the league looks to be considerably more open.

Savages Best Vikings 16-14 For Initial Win

A fired up Eastern Washington College football team riding on a 10-0 first half lead went on to defeat pre-conference favorite Western Washington 16-14 in a game played in pouring rain on the Cheney field last Saturday.

Led by veteran quarterback Jack England, and Eastern's two smallest men, Joe Evans and Alfons Alt, the Savages were unstoppable in the first half.

Little Joe scored Eastern's first touchdown and Alt kicked the extra point. In the second quarter Alt kicked a 16-yard field goal to put the Savages in what seemed to be a fairly comfortable half-time lead.

England set up both of Eastern's scores with his timely passes and fine faking.

In the second half the Savages again drew first blood as Stan Rhodes returned the kickoff to Eastern's 48. Fullback Tom Meier picked up 16 yards and England threw for 32 more in the drive that was capped by Evans' two-yard plunge.

That made the score 16-0 in favor of the Savages.

However, Western wasn't through as three plays later Don Ladines scampered 65 yards for the Viking's first score. They came right back in the fourth quarter as Ladines again scored, this time from 10 yards out, set up by a pass interception.

Eastern was able to run out the clock, though, as England stuck to the ground and the sticky fingered Savage backs held on for the remainder of the game.

Outstanding for the Savages was a hard charging defensive line led by Captain Bill Palmer, Ted Schultz, and linebacker Alt. They allowed the Vikings only three pass completions out of 16 attempts, three of them being intercepted by the alert Eastern secondary.

Schultz recovered the fumble that set up the first Eastern touchdown. Alt was a thorn in the Vikings' side all evening, as his red-dogging of the Western passer was definitely responsible for several sizeable losses.

All-American candidate Palmer as usual played an all-around fine game and substantiated his coaches' belief that he is the finest lineman in the Evergreen conference.

Eastern's offensive line should also get a pat on the back for their hustle in giving quarterback England ample time to get away his passes.

Tom Meier and Stan Rhodes were once again the leading ground gainers for Eastern. Meier picked up 68 yards in 24 carries and Rhodes also picked up 68 yard on only 12 carries.

Eastern will play the Central Washington Wildcats next week at Ellensburg, and will face CPS in two weeks for the Savages' homecoming. Eastern and Central each have 1-1 conference records. Central lost last week to Whitworth 19-0.

Mr. Funk & Mr. Wagnalls

"In re this matter of Good Taste," said Mr. Funk to his secretary, "take a definition."
 "Taste: sensations . . . excited . . . by the . . . action of the gustatory nerves . . ."
 "And add this," put in Mr. Wagnalls. "Taste: the faculty of . . . appreciating the beautiful . . ."
 "That," said Mr. Funk, "wraps it up. Mr. Wagnalls, will you join me in a Coca-Cola?"
 "So good in taste . . ."
 "And . . . in such good taste!"

Reese Starts Hoop Drills Tomorrow

More than 30 hopefuls are expected to greet head basketball coach W. B. "Red" Reese as the initial hoop practice of the year get underway tomorrow.

"This is the first time in five years that I've had all the squad back, except for those who graduated, and now we can start to get to work on our offense before the season is half way over," said Reese.

Seniors Few

Dick Koford and Doug Cresswell are the only seniors back from last year's squad, followed by Gary Roberts and Walt Hartman, who make up the junior portion of the club.

Roland DeBoer, who cracked the starting lineup about half way through the season last year, and then was later benched with a kidney injury, is one of the top sophomore prospects. Dave Danielson who replaced DeBoer at the post will be hard to beat out for a starting berth, according to Reese.

Ted Paterson, Vic Roberts and John Nugent are the others back from last year's varsity.

Gridders Ready For CWC Clash

Eastern gridders will be out for a repeat performance Saturday after last week's victory over Western Washington, as they go against last year's conference winners the Central Washington Wildcats.

Both clubs have registered a one win one loss record in conference action. Central stopped the College of Puget Sound in the opener, but lost to Whitworth 19-0 last week. Eastern got its initial victory of the season last week, downing Western 16-14.

CW coach "Abe" Poffenroth's crew is touted as being basically a ground unit, running from a wing-T and a single wing. They're considered green, but with enough talent and varied attack to make them very effective, at times.

Bridges Gone

"Corky" Bridges, two year all-conference halfback and little all-American, left a big hole to be filled in the Wildcat backfield when he graduated. However, Joe Mackey and Harvey Rath are doing the best to fill his gold studded shoes. They picked up 125 yards of the 190 yards gained rushing by the Ellensburg eleven last week.

"I think if we play football like we did last week we'll win this one," said coach Ed Chissus. "Central isn't as big as Western, so I think our line play should be better and last longer."

The starting lineup should be just about the same, according to Chissus. Gary Fuller, who was injured in the Western contest, may not be in uniform, which would call for an offensive right end change.

Dave Crowell, who did not see action last week because of a bruised rib, is expected to be back at right tackle. The coaching staff has labeled Crowell as one of the top linemen on the squad.

USCF To Sponsor Panel Discussion

The United Student's Christian Foundation will sponsor a series of panel discussions on the general topic, "The Image of Man," beginning on Thursday, October 15.

The speakers will endeavor to present different views of man both historical and contemporary. A question and answer period will follow each discussion in which the audience may participate.

This week Dr. Frank Nicol will present some views on the biological interpretation of the image of man.

The discussions will be held in the Tahiti room of the Student Union beginning at 7:15 p. m.

On Sunday, October 18, at 6:00 p. m. the USCF will begin a series of programs on the

Hair Raising Contest

The annual AMS sponsored Beard Growing Contest will end on October 23 at 3 p. m. according to Jim Krofchek, AMS social chairman. At this time the judging will take place in the student union lounge. Judges will be Dean of Women Miss Mary Robinson; Dean of Students Daryl Hagie and Assistant in Student Personnel, Don Williams.

There will be three divisions for the contest with a $5 prize for each winner. The three divisions will be: Best Growth, Best Trim and Best Try.

Talk Group Revival Seen

Revival of Eastern's public discussion squad is scheduled for this quarter, according to Dr. Carl L. Wilson, assistant professor.

The squad is being organized in conjunction with a speech class, public discussion, taught by Dr. Wilson. Members of the class are on the squad as part of their instruction in the class, Dr. Wilson added.

Meetings for the squad are scheduled for Monday evenings from 7 to 9 in S117.

"What should be the role of government in regulating organized labor?" has been chosen for the yearly topic.

Any Eastern student is eligible to participate, Dr. Wilson said, and speakers from the squad will be available for high school assemblies, luncheon groups, Parent Teacher associations and other civic group meetings.

Artpress Features Humphrey's Story

The fall issue of the Artpress, containing a chapter from student editor Lloyd Humphrey's novel as well as other short stories and poems, is off the press and will be on sale throughout the campus shortly.

The editors have received material from as far east as New York and Boston as well as work submitted by artists in California.

The Artpress has been included in Trace's international listing of small magazines.

"We hope to have a bigger and better issue appear around Thanksgiving," new editor Vaughn Albertson said.

"A lot of serious hard work, planning, and creative effort should make it the best yet. It is hoped to enlarge the publication to include essays as well as fictional material."

Albertson asked all students, old and new, interested in seeing their work published, to attend the next meeting of the Writers' club.

57 Cadet Teachers Now In 6 Districts

The professional education program of Eastern Washington College has placed 57 student teachers in six school districts during the current quarter.

At the Campus school, under the supervision of Dr. Robert W. Reid, are Faye Perrenoud, Janice Tachibana, Carol Ulery, Karen Wheeler and Loise Woollett.

Teaching in the Cheney public schools under Dr. Louis V. Grafious, are David Coe, Alice Disney, Robert Griffin, Jennie Loomer, Wanda Swegle and Bruce Wong.

Dr. Gerald Mercer, director of student teaching, is supervising cadets in the Clarkston public schools. They include Helen Anderson, Sally Bidne, Kathryn Lewis and Kathleen Wamsley. Also under Dr. Mercer's direction will be a lone cadet at Medical Lake, James Johnson.

In the Spokane public schools, the supervision will be shared by Dr. Mercer and James A. Barnes. Participating in this program are Kathryn Banister, Donald Beck, Carrell Blair, Ronald Cauvel, George Dye, Robert Gilmore, Elton Hanson, Warren Hyslop, Edward Jenkins, James Joireman, Carl Jones, Philip McClintock, Herbert Munro, Darrel Noah and Frank Novel.

Ann Riordan, Gail Sicilia, Dolores Jackson, Donald Nelson, Ronald Berg, Bessie Emery, Richard Jaeger, Betty Muraoka, Jackie Penning, Donald Sherfey, Judith Snider, Maria Spanopoulou and JoAnn Wixon.

Student Loan Board Meeting Scheduled

The Student Loan Committee will meet each Monday at 10:00 a. m. during fall quarter, according to Don T. Williams, assistant in student personnel service.

All money borrowed from the college loan fund is normally returned by the borrower within the quarter.

Loan application forms can be obtained from the secretary to the Dean of Students.

Williams reminds students living on campus that their second room and board payment of $48 will be due October 19.
