S-H Study Center Opens In Library

Eastern's new Socio-Humanities Study center, located in the space in Hargreaves library formerly occupied by the Instructional Materials center, officially opened yesterday.

Under the direction of Dr. Graham Conroy, assistant professor of humanities, the "S-bar-H" center will house books in the principal areas of humanities and social studies.

While all books in the socio-humanities field have not yet been moved from the regular library, they will be soon, Dr. Conroy said.

All books at the center will be marked "S-H" and the center will serve as a complete library, with a full-time staff and student help.

Tentative hours for the center are from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. Monday through Thursday and until 4:30 p. m. on Friday, Dr. Conroy said.

"Principal purpose of the new addition is to make books more accessible to students and to provide extra reading space," Dr. Conroy said.

"There will also be opportunities for counseling in writing student papers," he said.

Club Loans Money

Eastern's Bachelors' club has set up a short term emergency loan fund in the office of the dean of students.

Students may borrow up to $20 a month with no interest charged. However, there is a 25 cents charge for each loan, Dr. Daryl Hagie, dean of students, said.

Although no particular vacancies are listed, it is expected that they will have positions available on all levels, Ray Giles, director of placement, said.

Richard Lynch, assistant superintendent, Edwards, Calif., will be on campus to interview prospective teachers February 18, at 9 a. m. They have elementary, junior high and senior high school vacancies.

Mel Lindbloom, superintendent of schools, Quincy, Wash., will interview teacher candidates Friday, February 19, at 9 a. m. They have vacancies in grades 1, 4, 5, 6, 7th and 8th grade blocks, high school social studies and assistant football coach, social studies and English, also high school English and art, Giles said.

Vernon Smith, director of personnel, Vancouver public schools, Vancouver, Wash., will be on campus Tuesday and Wednesday, February 23, 24 at 9 a. m. to interview prospective teachers. Although no definite listings have been received from them, Giles said,

Quartetto di Roma Concert To Be Presented Friday

The Quartetto di Roma will present a concert at Showalter auditorium at Eastern Friday evening at 8:15 p. m.

Four outstanding artists comprise the piano and string group which will present works by Mozart, Faure and Brahms. The concert is a presentation of the Eastern Washington College student-artist series in conjunction with the community of Cheney.

The four individual artists of the Quartetto di Roma have been an integral part of one or the other of the Italian chamber music groups that have delighted music lovers of this country in recent years.

Pianist Ornella Santoliquido and cellist Massimo Amfiteatroff were both featured soloists of the Virtuosi di Roma and later toured this country as the Duo di Roma.

Violinist Arrigo Pelliccia is known from his two successful tours with the Quintetto Boccherini and violinist Bruno Giuranna scored an immense personal triumph in each concert of I Musici when he performed the solo parts on the difficult viola d'amore.

Together, these four outstanding artists form a quartet which is noted for its virtuosity as well as for its perfect ensemble, on whom outstanding reviewers have lavished such praise as "born musicians, masterful executants."

10 EWCE Women Attend AWS Meet

Ten Eastern women were delegates last weekend at an Associated Women Students convention at the University of Idaho, Moscow.

They included Mary Engstrom, Florence I. Samels, Irene L. Sherwood, Susan J. Keller, Janet A. Morrow, Nadine F. Pfeiff, Janiece and Patty Tachibana and Carol L. Ufery.

Karen Wheeler, a past president of Eastern's AWS, reported to the convention on her 1959 trip to the national intercollegiate AWS meeting in Arizona.

Defense Fund Has 5 Grand For EW

The student loan committee has reserved $5000 from Eastern's national defense loan fund for distribution to students needing help spring and summer sessions, Dr. Daryl Hagie, dean of students, said.

Students wishing to apply for financial aid must obtain application forms from the dean's office before March 4.

Appointments for loan interviews, scheduled for March 7 through 11, should be made upon returning the application blanks.

Recipients of the spring quarter loans will be notified by mail on March 14, Dr. Hagie said.

54 Band Members Ready For Tour In Eight Cities

Eastern's band, 54 strong, will leave next Tuesday for a four-day trip that will take them to high schools in eight cities where they will present concerts.

Foregoing next Monday's holiday, the band will rehearse that day at college.

First concerts will be Wednesday at Pasco high school in the morning, at Kennewick high school at noon and at Richland high school in the afternoon.

The next day the band will be at Grandview and Sunnyside high schools for morning concerts before making a jump to Clarkston for an evening program.

Next Friday the band will be at Lewiston, Idaho, and after a morning program will start back to Eastern, stopping at Colfax high school for a program.

Paul Hooper and Creed Morgan received the top number of votes for Associated Student Body president in last Thursday's primary election, and are the two candidates for that office in tomorrow's final ASB election.

Ray Raschko and Ed Fisher will be the two names on the ballot for ASB vice president.

Primary voting left Irene Sherwood and Phyl Sierra as the two remaining candidates for ASB secretary.

Dick Burger and Mick Soss emerged highest in the voting

Commuters To Meet

Eastern's commuter students will have a chance to meet the surviving candidates today in the Bali lounge at 10 a. m.

for five candidates for ASB treasurer, and will be entered in tomorrow's final balloting.

Garth Wheeler and Janet Morrow remain in the final race for ASB activities coordinator.

Votes for ASB president totaled the highest of any office, with 933 marking ballots for that office.

Total votes for each ASB presidential candidate were: Hooper (356), Morgan (227), Lael (178) and Dave Burger (169).

Other offices, total and individual vote:

ASB vice president (914); Raschko (560), Fisher (211) and Denny Martin (149).

ASB secretary (912); Sherwood (888), Sierra (307) and Roma Adams (217).

ASB treasurer (921); Burger (259), Soss (211), Bill Dick (191), Jerry Littlemore (181) and John Bowers (79).

ASB activities coordinator (908); Wheeler (613), Morrow (186) and Wayne Nettles (109).

Final balloting tomorrow will be in the student union all day.

Students must present their ASB cards to be eligible to vote.

W. W. Thomas, Eastern director of bands, will be in charge with two other music division faculty members accompanying the group. They are William W. Maxon and Wendell Exline, assistant professors of music.

The band will present modern band selections with some lighter numbers that are expected to be well-accepted by the high school listeners.

Two soloists will also be featured, Thomas said.

One will be Charles Borg, who will be heard in Mozart's "Rondo" as a clarinet solo. The other will be Bob Harper, featured on the trumpet in "Concertina for Trumpet and Band."

Harper's solo selection was written by the late T. Stewart Smith, a former Eastern instructor in woodwinds.

Tomorrow's Election Important To You

General elections tomorrow will result in the naming of five persons to be your student body officers for the 1960-1961 school year.

Last week eight of 18 candidates were eliminated in the primary election. At this election, 933 students voted out of a total of 1996 eligible voters. In other words, 46.9 per cent of the eligible voters turned out to cast their ballots.

If this figure is only duplicated at tomorrow's general election it will mean that only a little more than 23 per cent of the students at this college will have to vote for any candidate to have that candidate elected.

However, for each additional 20 voters over and above the 933, figure it will raise the percentage requirement by one per cent.

For example, if 1175 students turn out for the election this will equal 60 per cent of the student body and it will only be necessary for a candidate to have one-third of the eligible vote in order to be elected.

If you, the student body, only require 30 per cent of your membership to elect an officer you will have to live under next year's administration. Let us all get out and vote so that those persons elected to serve you in 1960-1961 will be a truly representative group and work for the betterment of the majority of the students at EWCE.

Advertising Brings Better Life

With the observance of Advertising Week, February 14-20, it seems appropriate to give some thought to the role of the advertising man in modern life and the satisfactions of advertising as a career.

Few will deny that we have achieved a "good life" in this country far exceeding that of any society since the beginning of time. There are many reasons for it, not the least of which is a national desire for self-betterment.

This is where advertising makes its contribution. It helps to keep us dissatisfied. It prods us into wanting better things, better experiences, a fuller, more enjoyable existence. This is not confined merely to gadgets like washing machines and television sets, but also includes books, stereophonic records, travel and sports of all kinds.

Even culture, it seems, progresses faster when aggressively sold.

The professional advertising man gains his own satisfactions out of the part he plays in maintaining this urge to self-betterment. He is a salesman for a better way of life, materially speaking. Now, in an age when we seem able to produce almost anything in any quantity, opportunities in this field are greater than ever.

Letter To The Editor

Road Blocks Hit As In Poor Taste

To the Editor:
 On the morning of February 11, 1960 on the highway into Cheney I was greeted by a strange sight.

A city police car was parked by the side of the highway with its emergency warning light flashing. Stop signs and traffic lane barricades were in place in order to funnel traffic into a single lane and cars were forced by these police methods to stop and receive election material in regard to our school election of ASB officers.

Is this practice legal?
 If it is legal, is it in good taste?

Why should one group have the sanction and assistance of the local police force in stopping traffic on the highway?

What effect does this practice have on the attitudes of non-students who are forced to stop, by emergency signals, and wait for someone to pass out information on our school election?

In conclusion, I would like to say that I consider this practice to be undemocratic, in very poor taste and one that should be prohibited immediately.

Co-eds Nix Males

In 1935 The Easterner said, only one co-ed in 400 named matrimony as a possible post-graduate goal. And in the case of the one exception, matrimony was her second choice.

Steadily growing in EWCE sport activities, fencing was gaining for itself a prominent place during 1940. The meeting place was the old library room on the third floor of the Ad building. The space was large and roomy and several combats could be carried on at one time. Those who wished to come and watch were welcome.

One of the most unusual devices for earning one's way through college was started in 1945 in Senior hall. One of the co-eds opened an up-to-date beauty salon in room 104. Customers were taken any time day or night.

Eastern had a new school song in 1950. "The Vagabond Song" had a good tune for a school song and was pitched low enough so everyone could sing it without straining the tonsils. However, it was the school song of North Central high school of Spokane. An original school song was regarded as a must for any college that wanted to be classified as "tops."

ASB President Says

By Tom Ennis

Fact Is Often Fiction, And Vice Versa

The following is fiction, but based on fact as most readers can readily testify:

"Hey, Bill, you going to vote tomorrow?"

"Nah, I don't know anybody that's runnin'."

Tom Ennis

"Well, you ought to vote. You know they've got voting machines."

"No kiddin', but what the heck, my vote doesn't make any difference anyway; besides, student government doesn't interest me."

"Ya' know Bill, I'm interested, but what with havin' to commute it makes it pretty difficult to become active."

"What difference does it make anyway, they don't care what the heck happens to the commuters anyway."

"Oh, I wouldn't say that, I think most of the people are interested in what happens to the whole school."

"If they're so interested, why don't they do something about givin' us commuters something for our money?"

"Like what should they give us."

"How should I know, maybe lower book prices, or lower food prices. It's their job to do something about these things, not mine."

"Have you ever mentioned these things to anybody that can do anything about them?"

"What difference does it make? They don't pay any attention to what the other students say. They just do what they want to, and nothing else."

"How do you know that?"

"Human nature. . . . That's what I'd probably do if I were in their place."

"I wouldn't judge everyone by what you would do, Bill. They might be interested in what you have to say."

At this point the dialogue ends, but I would also ask this not-so-mythical Bill to register his opinions with persons who are in a position to do something about it, and not to his buddy across the booth. This is the best way I know of starting a groundless rumor. Conceive your opinions in ignorance and then expound them as if they were quoted from the Bible.

This dialogue and commentary is simply a request that students tell those persons who are in a position to do something what their opinions are, and to implore that students find out the facts before they start expounding.

Bonsor Has Birth Control Answer

Much was said about birth control during the IRC sponsored convocation last Thursday. Four of our professors voiced opinions on the subject but no solution was offered. Actually Thomas K. Bonsor, assistant professor of economics, has the answer and in fact is practicing it . . . it's called bachelorhood.

Last week I mentioned that KREM disc jockey Jim Johnston, would send the winner of his anti-TV contest to Dismal, Washington, which is rumored to be just south of Cheney. Jim tells me that Dismal is Cheney or was it Cheney is Dismal?

The local law enforcement group will begin cracking down on those individuals who insist in speeding around campus and in particular on Seventh street near the campus school. There will be no more warning tickets issued. Cheney citizens are quite concerned over the flagrant disregard of their traffic laws by some of Eastern's students.

There is only enough money left in the national defense loan fund to meet the needs of 11 students. Preference is given to students majoring in math, science or foreign languages.

Students whose cumulative grade point average was below 2.50 were unable to compete successfully for a loan last quarter. Since there is a shortage of money you would think that the senate would appropriate more or at least spend some of the money they are now using investigating rock and roll and disc jockeys on education instead of seeking headlines.

TO BE NEW CITIZENS—Sandy and Stefan Harlan, right, adopted children of M/Sgt. Jack Harlan of Eastern's ROTC detachment, and Mrs. Harlan, pose with American flags to celebrate their impending citizenship March 11. Seated between the Harlans is John, 9, another adopted child.

A DREAM IS COMING TRUE

Orphans To Be Citizens

By Stan Peterson

A dream come true!

On March 11, Sandy and Stefan Harlan, adopted children of M/Sgt. and Mrs. Jack Harlan of Cheney, will become naturalized citizens of the United States.

M/Sgt. Harlan is stationed with the Reserve Officer Training Corps unit at Eastern.

Sandy and Stefan, unrelated before their adoptions, were born in the same hospital in Munich. Stefan was 2½ years old when he was adopted from the Hansel and Gretel orphanage in Oberammergau, Germany, in April, 1955.

Sandy was adopted in August of that same year when she was only eight days old.

M/Sgt. Harlan was transferred to Seattle in 1957. Before leaving Germany, the children were granted visas from the American consul in Munich, but had to wait three years to become United States citizens, and must also live two of the three years in the United States.

M/Sgt. Harlan was again transferred, this time to Cheney, to the ROTC unit at Eastern, in 1958.

Stefan, now 7, is enrolled in the campus school in the second grade. Sandy, who will be five in August, attends nursery school at the college preschool center.

In addition to Sandy and Stefan, the Harlans have another son, John, 9, who was adopted in Seattle. He also attends the campus school and is in the fourth grade.

Special guests at the party were Rupert Thackray, exchange teacher from England, and Mrs. Celia Allen, assistant professor of education and psychology at EWC.

Bookstore, Annual Troubles Not New

A rumor has made rapid headway around campuses at Western Washington college these past few weeks, and is violently reacclaimed each time a student empties his pockets over the bookstore counter.

The rumor-mongers hold that the bookstore racketeers are making a mint at the expense of the student who is forced to pay highly inflated prices for required texts.

Prof Gives Advice

Patrick McManus, EWC instructor in English, recently wrote an article for the Sunday edition of the Spokesman Review stating that college students should choose their majors early and stick with them.

He also brought out in his article that employers usually consider indecision is a sign of immaturity and that they are likely not hire one who is liable to quit after the first year or two.

Huge Foreign Aid Bill Urged By EW Professor

An Eastern professor suggested that the United States spend five billion dollars a year over a 50-year period to expand economic assistance to under-developed countries.

Thomas W. Bonsor, assistant professor of history and economics at EWCE, also said that the U. S. government should provide birth control information if the government of an under-developed country should ask for it.

Bonsor's remarks were made before almost 500 EWCE students meeting to hear a panel discussion on the controversial question of birth control and the population explosion in the student union last Thursday. The meeting was sponsored by the college's International Relations club.

Two other EWCE professors were also on the panel. Dr. Duncan Thomson, assistant professor of biology, said that population was bound to increase because of ample food throughout the world and because we have found means of protection from early death.

Francis J. Schadegg, associate professor of geography and head of Eastern's geography-geology department, said that population is not a problem.

"We don't use even a infinitesimal part of the power available in the world," he said. "We are a long way from any problem of immediacy as far as the capacity of the land is concerned. There are tremendous land areas that are almost unoccupied."

Speaking on the moral issue, Schadegg said, "We have the means in natural continence to control birth rates if there ever should be any threat to overpopulation."

Dr. Earle K. Stewart, EWCE assistant professor of sociology, in moderating the panel, pointed out four factors which determine the balance of population.

These are the amount of available land, the knowledge of society in how to use the land, the level or standard of living and the number of people who can be accommodated in light of these factors.

Whole 'Medea' Cast Termed 'Excellent'

Alpha Spence, starring as "Medea" in the play of the same name, displayed a great dramatic talent during her performances last Wednesday and Thursday nights.

In the annual college play presented by the speech department and under the direction and production of Dr. Harold Stevens, Miss Spence held the audience completely captivated during both presentations.

Not only was she magnificent in her role but the whole cast did an outstanding job in portraying their characters. Marilyn McIntyre certainly could not go without mention in her supporting role as the nurse to Medea. Her description of the death of Creon was done so well that it left the whole audience gasping.

Stan Rizzuti was every pound a king in his portrayal of Creon. Once again he showed that he is a very capable and talented actor.

Donald Corrier's portrayal of Jason was extremely well done. The rest of the supporting cast of Wesley Stoff, Paul Barton, Marilyn McIntyre, Bob Bruya, Karen Heindel, Shan Eggers, Pat Hatcher, Janet Hough, Sandra Norris, Matt Finnegan, Peggy Stevens and Kathy Stevens added to the overall excellence of the production.

The special effects and lighting created by Dr. Stevens and stage manager Marvin Morasch were on a par with the acting, in other words superb.—C. D.

Geography Club Sets Oregon Trip

Eastern's Geography-Geology club is sponsoring a visit to Oregon State college and a field study trip of the Oregon coast.

The four-day trip starts February 18, presenting an opportunity for upper division students of Eastern to become acquainted with graduate departments in geography and in geology at Oregon State college.

Clifford A. Rajala, assistant professor of geography and geology, and director of the trip, will present an illustrated lecture on Iran at the graduate seminar at OSC.

Anyone interested in the trip may contact the club or the department, Francis J. Schadegg, head of the geography-geology department, said.

The meeting was a workshop for planning future FTA clubs, Kingsley said, and was the first of its kind ever held in the state.

Miss Wiley Elected

Miss Nan K. Wiley, associate professor of art at EWC, who has served as vice president, recording secretary and treasurer of the Spokane Art Board, has just been elected president of the organization.

One of the duties of the board is to present the Pacific Northwest Art exhibition, to be held in the Cheney Cowles Memorial museum this May.

Bear Is Door Prize

A teddy bear will be given as door prize at next Friday night's mixer sponsored by the senior class. The mixer will be held in the Bali lounge from 9:30 to 12.

In honor of George Washington's birthday, there will be a cherry pie eating contest between one EWCE student and one Whitworth student.

5th Annual Rifle Meet Is Saturday

The fifth annual EWC invitational rifle match will be held Saturday, February 20, from 9:30 a. m. to 4 p. m., M/Sgt. Jack Harlan of Eastern's Reserve Officer Training corps, said.

In addition to Eastern's ROTC team, there will be air force ROTC teams from Central Washington college and the University of Washington and ROTC teams from Montana State university, Gonzaga university, and Washington State university.

The University of Idaho will enter army, navy and air force ROTC teams, Sgt. Harlan said.

Eastern's number one team is composed of David Meredith, Gary Gillespie, Gary Conner, Dennis Higgins and Roger Bean.

Members of team two are Max Hatch, Leonard Kropp, Edward Scully, Richard Knowles and William Scamahorn, Sgt. Harlan said.

Can the Savages win one out of three?

That's the big question facing coach "Red" Reese and his cagers in his race with the closing of the hoop season for his 500th coaching win.

Now just one game away from the coaching elite roles, with a victory over the University of Puget Sound, Reese will take his quintet against the Evergreen conference sixth place team, the Whitworth Pirates, for a weekend home and home series.

The two teams have met twice this season, each winning one. Eastern, still in the cellar and a half game behind the Pirates, could take sixth place in the loop standings should they get the initial win in the series that starts at Eastern Friday.

The Savages, splitting on last week's road trip, now have a season record of eight wins and 15 losses and have marked three wins against eight losses in conference action.

Dick Koford and Dave Danielson, who sparked the Redmen in their 64-61 victory over the Loggers of UPS, are the expected post starters for Friday night.

In the last two games Koford collected a total of 39 points, getting 28 against Puget Sound. He, too, proved the difference on the boards as he pulled down 20 rebounds.

Danielson, making excellent progress since about mid-season, picked up 30 points in two nights running and picked off 15 rebounds in the second half against UPS.

Ted Paterson, probably the most improved player off last years basically freshman squad, can be almost sure of a starting assignment. He has been throwing in about 10 points a game and has drawn praise from the coaching staff for his play-making and back-board ability.

Gary Roberts and Doug Cresswell are the expected starters at the front spots. However, since Roberts has returned after a few days sickness two weeks ago, he has not shown his usual form. He got less than 10 points last week-end.

Savages Lose To Central, Stop Puget Sound 64-61

Coach "Red" Reese moved one game closer to the magic circle of 500 wins last week-end, as Eastern lost a close one to Central, 65-55, but picked up win number 499 on Saturday, upending the University of Puget Sound, 64-61.

On Saturday the Savages moved to an early 17-10 lead with 10 minutes remaining in the first half, but UPS came on fast to go ahead at 21-19. Then Dick Koford hit a hot streak to give the lead to the Savages, but UPS held on for a 33-30 lead at halftime.

UPS started fast in the second half to build up a seven point lead, but Dave Danielson and Koford teamed up to give the lead back to the Savages, 41-39.

Eastern extended its lead to 56-48, with five minutes remaining, but saw it dwindle to one point with a minute to go. At this point, Logger star Scott Weatherwax had two chances to put his team ahead on free throws, but missed every attempt.

Koford played brilliantly as he scored 28 points and picked off 20 rebounds for the game. Danielson, who only scored one point in the first half, came on strong in the second to score 15 more, and pick off 15 rebounds.

On Friday night at Ellensburg, the Savages fell apart in the second half to give the Wildcats the victory.

Eastern once again started off fast and held an eight point lead at 11-3, and once again at 18-10, but the Wildcats led by Phil Fitterer gained the lead at 26-25. Eastern held the half time lead, 28-27.

In the second half, the lead changed hands four times in the first 10 minutes, but from there on out, it was all Central. Eastern failed to score a point in the next six minutes and Central held a 53-41 lead with four minutes to go.

Swim Team Splits Pair Of Meetings

The EWC swimming team finished up its home season last weekend with one win and one loss.

Eastern's loss was to the University of Puget Sound, 62-30, Friday afternoon. UPS is last year's conference champs.

Eastern won only three first places, Grayson Hand taking the 50- and 100-yard free style and Clair McKie the one-meter diving.

Saturday Eastern won over Central Washington 57½ to 34½. Eastern got nine first places.

Dick Burger won the 220- and 440-yard freestyle. Hand won the 50- and 100-yard free style. McKie took the one-meter diving and the 200-yard individual medley. Bob Short won the 200-yard butterfly breast stroke and the team of Hand, Short, Burger and McKie won the 400-yard freestyle relay.

A tremendous effort was turned in by the team of Anderson, Ross, Short and Shultz in the 400-yard medley relay. By the time Eastern's third man, Bob Short, left the pool's edge, he was one lap behind Central's third man. Short turned on the speed and came out ahead by about one-third of a lap. Ted Shultz, Eastern's anchor man, finished in good style for the win.

This weekend the swimming team travels to the University of Idaho and Montana State for meets on Friday and Saturday.

KEWC Men Make Good

By Gary Herman
On the air . . . This signal first flashed at the studios of KEWC in 1950. Since then, over 90 positions in the broadcasting profession and related fields have been filled by radio students trained by Miss Daphne Dodds and her student instructors at the campus station.

It all started in 1949, when Ernie Afaganis was assigned to promote a campus radio station as part of his public relations work for Miss Dodds. He did such a good job that Eastern had its own station on the air in April of 1950.

KEWC has been on the air ever since, except for last fall quarter when operations were discontinued while engineers installed equipment in the new studios at the student union building.

1956 Ford Crown Victoria. Spotless condition, $1595.00. Don MA 4-9241 or FA 5-5197.

Employers of radio people from Eastern have been pleased with the training that the students received at KEWC.

Chance For Experience

Bob Lewis, a former radi-speech major at Eastern and currently employed as a cameraman at KREM-TV, explains it this way:

"At KEWC a student has a chance to gain experience in every facet of production. This invaluable experience has really paid off for me in the broadcasting field."

KEWC is run primarily by the students. The station is headed by a student manager and all other administrative and production posts are held by students.

The students do all the announcing, copy writing, directing, selling, promotion, scripting, and news gathering. It is this opportunity to gain experience in all modes of operation that makes a radio-speech ma-job from Eastern valuable to his employer.

Most students usually go to work at smaller stations after they leave KEWC. At these stations an announcer is usually called upon to do numerous jobs. Experience in a great number of positions has led to fast promotions for KEWC-trained people.

An example of this is Ed Carle. Ed was promoted to manager of radio station KLER in Orofino, Idaho, after being there less than three months.

In Administrative Posts

Other students who have advanced into administrative posts are Jim Lambros, manager of KIML in Gillette, Wyoming; Dave Evans, manager of the TV station in Idaho Falls; Jim Berry, owner of the radio station in Ephrata; Keith Tran-tow, adviser for network policy at NBC; Phil Stinemates, director of TV at Okinawa, and Walt Shaar, TV program director at KREM in Spokane.

Other former students who are working in the Inland Empire include Jim Avery, KN-EW; Earl Kazmark, KLYK; Lee Connors, KNEW; John Andrist, KHQ-TV; Stan Witter, KZUN; Sally Geremonte, KXLY; Ron MacArthur, KLEW-TV, Lewiston; Dick White, KPEG; Pete Peterson, KLER, John Andrist, KHQ-TV and Dick Soss, KLRC, Lewiston.

Not all of Eastern's radio students have remained in contact with the school but those who have written their whereabouts include Ernie Afaganis, CFRN, Edmonton, Alberta; Norm Davis, KOBY, San Francisco; Roger Gross, teaching radio and television at the University of Minnesota; Jerry Williams, announcer at a Topeka, Kansas station and Tal Tripp, announcing in Portland.

Currently there are three Eastern students working in the communications media in Spokane. They are Gary Herman, KREM-TV; Al Ruddy, The Spokesman-Review and Tom Ennis, United Press International.

Thus in 10 short years, Miss Dodds and the energetic and talented students who have followed her lead have built radio station KEWC into an excellent training place for tomorrow's leaders in the broadcasting field.

Eastern can well be proud of KEWC.

STEP IN IT— STEP OUT IN IT

Get the quiet proof of Chevrolet's superior performance on the road—No other car in the low-priced three can match the borne-on-the-wind sensation you get from a ride in the 1960 Chevrolet. But that's not surprising when you consider to what lengths Chevy has gone to provide for your comfort at no extra cost to you. As you drive, count the ways Chevrolet has been thoughtful:

Supple Full Coil suspension—Coil springs at all four wheels melt bumps as no other suspension can. Taking the punch out of rough roads is their only function—they don't have to anchor the rear axle.

Butyl rubber body mounts—Thicker, newly designed body mounts further insulate you from the road.

Body by Fisher—Only Chevy in its field offers the polish and craftsmanship of Body by Fisher.

Foam cushioned seats—Chevy offers foam cushioned seats in both front and rear in all series but one.

Safety-Girder frame—X-built and not merely X-braced, the Safety-Girder frame affords greater rigidity to minimize twisting and squeaks.

Hydraulic valve lifters—Oil hushed hydraulic valve lifters reduce engine noise to a whisper.

Cushioned steering shaft—A universal joint and cushioned coupling keep those annoying road tremors from the steering wheel.

Precision balanced wheels and tires—Here again Chevy has shown concern for your comfort by eliminating vibration in this vital area—tire life is longer, too.

Easy steering ratio—Chevy's high ratio Ball Race steering takes the work out of steering for you.

Superior weight distribution—Chevy rides better, handles better and stops better because the car's weight is more equally divided between the front and rear wheels.

Wide choice of power teams—Choose from 24 different power combinations to satisfy the itchiest driving foot—more than any other car.

Now—fast delivery, favorable deals! See your local authorized Chevrolet dealer!

SHARPSHOOTER—Dave Meredith, captain of Eastern's ROTC rifle team, draws a bead on the target. Meredith was high scorer for Eastern in last weekend's meet at the University of Idaho and will see action again Saturday at Eastern's fifth annual invitational rifle match.

Rifle Team Is 6th In Idaho ROTC Meet

Eastern's ROTC rifle team finished sixth in the University of Idaho army invitational rifle meet over the weekend at Moscow, M/Sgt. Jack Harlan reported.

Eleven teams were entered and Idaho's navy ROTC took the meet with 1365 points.

Eastern had 1318 points, Harlan said, with Dave Meredith's 279 being the individual high.

Only Two Enter UPS Tyro Meet

Only two of five scheduled Eastern forensic students entered the Tyro tournament at University of Puget Sound over the weekend, Dr. Carl Wilson, assistant professor of speech, said.

They were Betty Barker and Marilyn Doering. Mrs. Barker survived two preliminary rounds and semi-finals of the tournament and tied for fourth, in oratory.

$500 Contest Open

Your opinion may be worth $500.

During the months of February and March, Reed and Barton will be giving away awards totaling $2050 in a "Silver Opinion Competition."

Open to women students, entrant lists what she considers the six best combinations of patterns for silver, china and crystal.

Dolores McNees at Louise Anderson hall may be contacted for further information and entry blanks.

Gymnasts Drop Pair

EWC gymnasts dropped two meets last weekend on the coast. They were defeated by the University of British Columbia, 103-41, and by the University of Washington, 100-44.

The UBC team shut out the Savages' by taking nine first places. Eastern's lone win, on the high bar by Jack Benson, came on Saturday in the meet with the University of Washington.

This weekend the Savages will meet the same two teams, the University of British Columbia Friday at 5 p. m., and the University of Washington Saturday at 2 p. m. in the field-house.

Safety Tip: Don't drive the "high" way!

The Big Question

What would you like to see in The Easterner?

James H. Flynn—I'd like to see more information and views on regional and national news that affects the college student.

John T. Walton—I would like to see the front page used for more important issues than social club publicity.

Herman Frump—I would like them to print The Easterner on softer paper.

Stan Rizzuzti—I would like to have the editor request an occasional critical comment by party or parties involved in campus mudslinging.

Jene McNaught—I would like to see a summary report from the ASB council each week to facilitate student knowledge of its activities.

Milo Kurle—More controversial material, an increase in the editorial page and more letters to the editors.
