Vets Face Change In Pay Forms

A new pay form for veterans attending college under the G. I. bill will have to be filled out beginning the week of May 2. Mrs. Win Glessner, veterans’ clerk, said.

The new forms are IBM cards with the names and claim numbers already printed on them. These should be checked for accuracy and veterans should allow more time to check and understand these new forms. Mrs. Glessner said.

Forms may be studied in advance at the veteran’s office. These monthly pay certificates are the responsibility of the veteran and to insure prompt payment, pay forms should be signed on time and checked for accuracy, she said.

There are approximately 20 unsung pay forms from last month, Mrs. Glessner said.

The EASTERNER

Your fellow students in the past have created an instrument of student government and you continue to support it; thereby indicating that you have and will do consider such an instrument as necessary and valuable. Furthermore, you have created a democratic government that relies upon your participation for direction and role—a subject recently discussed.

In this consideration we must provide the primary basis for any democratic student government and should set the stage for a functioning organization. But do they? Is the student council attempting to show a profit the union is much superior to ours. The survey further found that much youthful cheating stems from the materialist urge to get as much as possible often prevailed.

Your student government is a wonderful “training area” for would-be offenders. For the use of such a callous expression tends to encourage some cynics to speak of current students as the “cheat generation.”

You have not elected tyrants, regardless of some speculation. You have elected people to represent some of the interests. It is this chain reaction in American schools which has led to the situation where personal contacts were involved. But where individuals are more interested in personal gain than in overall growth of the failure of the preceding one, Merle Sather, Spokane, executive secretary of the Washington Association of Wheat Growers, were in agreement on the failures of the nation’s past farm programs.

Johnson said wheat is the state’s most important crop accounting for 20 per cent ($370,000,000) of the state’s gross income.

We are fighting an ideological cold war where the survival of the fittest seems hard, but it is necessary.”

Gene Dunlap, Ritzville, executive secretary of the Washington Association of Wheat Growers, were in agreement on the failures of the nation’s past farm programs.

Cartooning Humorist In Convocation Tomorrow

ByAM

What are the college social leaders planned to do for students this year? The first collection of Sahr­er's cartoons, "Through His­tory with J. Wesley Smith," was published by Vanguard Press in 1950. "Louder and Funnier," drawn from Sahrer's experiences as a public speaker, and circulated widely among the Toastmaster's clubs throughout the country, was published in 1953. The second edition of "Through History" is scheduled for publication next year.

In his lecture "Through History With J. Wesley Smith," Sahrer will illustrate his talk with sketches which he makes while speaking. A humorous sho business man, Sahrer has his own dry remarks and wry commen­taries remind one of his own experiences in his life story.

His philosophy is a simple one: To those who complain about the strain of modern times, Sahrer reminds them that walking down a pionee road with a lantern in the dust is likely to come across. Mr. Smith says, "If an Indian could be some­thing of a strain too."

Student Teacher Meet Is Tomorrow

Savage Triumph 3-2

PATTERSON’S FIELDING KEY

The EWCE Savages, thanks to the pitching of Don S. Patterson, now school president, defeated the Bellingham Vikings 3-2 in the final game of the 1926 baseball season.

Unfortunately, Dr. Patterson was pitching for the Vikings.

In the 11th inning of the game the Savages, who had air-tight ball, were aided by the Bellingham pitcher who muffed a ground ball, enabling Cheney to run in a tally clinching the game 3-2.

In the 11th inning an error on the part of Patterson’s team gave the Cheney Normal players the winning edge.

Weather Stops EWC Tracksters

Unseasonal snow and rain Saturday caused the Eastern-Central dual track meet scheduled for Woodward field, to be called off.

Track coach W. B. “Red” Reese said that because both schools have full schedules, the meet will probably have to be cancelled.

Eastern’s trackmen will face the University of Idaho in a dual meet at Moscow Saturday, weather permitting.

Tennis Team Splits Pair

Eastern’s tennis team brought its season record to 34-3 last weekend, defeating Gonzaga university 6-1 after bowing to a tough Central team, 5-2 on Friday.

Eastern meisters had a bad day against Central although non-eligible Mickey Soss and Roger Cromer showed good form in winning their respective matches.

Saturday was a different story however, as the Savages avenged an earlier 5-2 pasting of Gonzaga, giving them only three sets en route to their easy 6-1 victory.

Eastern only lost the number one singles in defeating Gonzaga. Eastern winners were Bill Wright, Cromer, Stan Peterson and Joohn Grosshans in the singles matches, and Soss and Wright, and Peterson and Grosshans in the doubles.

Pedestrian fatalities decreased last year, but still 102 were killed.

Superior Student Speaker Draws SRO Audience
By George Schee

Speaking before a standing-room-only crowd in the student union last Tuesday, Dr. Glenn Superior told the students that the first duty of the college is to improve the living conditions in the state of Washington. "We need to meet the needs of all groups," he said. "The state of the unschooled and unskilled is fast fading in today's world," he said. "The educated person does not close his books upon graduation, but keeps on acquiring wisdom."

One of the goals of higher education is through such discussions to find the greatest way towards insight. "A well-educated person does not close his books upon graduation, but keeps on acquiring wisdom," he said.

One of the goals of higher education is to be able to shape the character of the students and to develop new knowledge, but wisdom. Dr. Kendall said that the current system of eight years of grade school, four years of high school and four years of college has made us victims of the system. "We must be freed from tradition; we will make no progress striking with traditional, and if you break it, maybe you won't make any progress, but you've got a chance."

New Demands
"New demands are being placed on the colleges today. Students are finding a new way to bypass the old set of formulas on the road to knowledge. The problem of meeting the needs of superior students is certainly one of the main roads," he said.

"The leader must identify the superior student and then stimulate and maintain top quality work to further his development."

Bowlers Place 4th In PNW Meeting

EWCC's bowling team placed fourth in the Northwest Regional Bowling tournament last weekend, held at the University of Washington, in Seattle. The Eastern team bowled 2760 and 2788 for a total score of 5548, which gave the Savages fourth place in the region.

The Eastern team bowled on Saturday and won a total of 581 and 590, which gave the Savages fourth place in the region. Eastern's Friday game with Gonzaga was postponed, but yesterday's game against the Zags was still on the slate. The double-header against Whitworth has been rescheduled for 1:30 this afternoon at Eastern.
