New Group Formed By Bandsmen

An honorary group for outstanding men and women members of Eastern's band has been formed under the direction of William L. Mason, assistant professor of music, said Mason. The Mason is advisor of the club to be known as the Podium. A Spokane man, David E. Burger, has been elected president, Mason said. Other officers are Melvin L. Hotchkiss, first vice president; and Florence Samels, Spokane, secretary-treasurer.

A total of 45 members of the EWCE band have been named as charter members. Membership is restricted to those bandsmen who demonstrate above-average musical ability, forceful student leadership traits and strong support of the basic program, Mason said.

Schadegg Elected Head Of Ed Group

Eastern's Delta Pi chapter of Phi Delta Kappa, national professional fraternity for men in education, has elected Dr. Charles J. Schadegg, EWCE geography department chairman, as president. Other new officers include Lee T. Lamer, principal of Bethel elementary school, Cheney, vice president; Wilmer Siegenthaler, EWCE alumnus, treasurer; and Norman Bone, EWCE mathematics instructor, secretary.

Dr. Walter L. Powers, associate professor of education at Eastern, is adviser. The fraternity, newly organized on the EWCS campus last year, is dedicated to research, service and leadership in education. First research project for the group is an analysis of the practical program for school administrators in the state.

VOLUME 10 CHENEY, WASHINGTON JUNE 1, 1960

NEAR RETIREMENT—William Lloyd Rowles, head of Eastern's music division, who will retire soon after 31 years at the college's music division.

Eastern will see one of the leading music educators in the Inland Empire when William Lloyd Rowles retires June 13 after 31 years as head of the college's music division.

Rowles came to what was then Cheney State Normal School in 1929, and since then has seen the school grow from a normal school for teachers to a state college where more than half the students are preparing for fields other than teaching.

Rowles also has seen his own division grow. There were five instructors in music in 1929; now, the division has 10, plus three part-time instructors.

All music activities at the school were directed by Rowles in his first years here. It wasn't until 1937 that the college obtained a full-time band and orchestra director.

The program of yearly operettas produced by the music division was instated by Rowles, and in 1963 he organized one of the first a cappella choirs in state colleges. He continued in charge of choral music until 1960.

While most of Rowles' students went on to become music teachers, some have gone on for advanced degrees and college teaching, or participated professionally in opera and on the concert stage.

First thing on the program following his retirement is a trip to Europe, Rowles said. With Mrs. Rowles, he will spend about nine months on a tour of the continent, where they will pick up a new German car.

After that, Rowles says he plans to take it easy, indulging in his hobby of gardening, and in reading.

"I've never had enough time to read," he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowles have two children, William L. Jr., an architect in Los Angeles, and Mary Elizabeth (Mrs. Jolene) Banks of Spokane, the mother of two children.

So between gardening and visiting his grandchildren, it will be an easy life for William Lloyd Rows in after 31 years as head of Eastern's music division.

Degrees will be awarded to 142 graduates of Eastern Washington College of Education in commencement exercises Sunday (June 5) at 2 p.m. in the college gym.

Registrar C. W. Quinty, Jr. said 98 seniors will be awarded bachelor of arts in education degrees; 41 will receive bachelor of arts degrees, and 23 will be awarded master of education degrees.

EWCE president Dr. Don S. Patterson will preside.

Candidates for bachelor of arts in education degrees will be presented by Dr. Roland B. Lewis, head of the EWCE education division. William L. Rowles, music division head, will present candidates for the degree.

Luncheon Planned For MA Graduates

The EWCE college is sponsoring a luncheon for all masters of education graduates of 1960. Joseph B. Huizing, secretary of the Alumni association, said. The luncheon will be held in the small dining room of Louise Anderson Hall at noon June 5, Hall said. Special guests will include Dr. and Mrs. R. R. Morrison and Dr. and Mrs. Roland L. Bauer.

A special booklet is being prepared to give to each graduate. Half the booklet is the name of all those who received their M.A. this year and also their life history up until this time.

Some Problems Still With Us

This is the last column of the year, and I should imagine the last one I will write for a school paper. I will not use this space to thank people, because I can do that in person much better.

Supposedly I should pour forth with some profound observations on student government during the past year. This I will only do in the way which they relate to the next administration of student government.

Some of the problems that existed at the beginning of the year are still with us. Reorganization is still going on and will continue to do so during next year I am sure. Scajewas is on the way towards being a dead issue.

If I am correct in my supposition, there will be an all-school leadership retreat in the fall which will be much better, in my opinion, than the spring retreat held last year.

There will be many changes next year. Some will be in personnel and some will be in procedure. If these are to be changes for the better, then it will be the responsibility next year of those persons in a position of leadership on campus to mold public opinion so that these changes can be realized.

Only with the help of each and every one of you students who will be around next year can these elected persons do the job that is expected of them.

Student apathy will never be entirely dissipated. There will always be the fellow who says “Let George do it, or Paul, or Ray, or Irene, or Garth or Dick, or anyone except me.”

The question from the Soviet point of view is one of survival. East Germany, and indeed all of the Russian holdings, must be re-united by the rather simple process of having free elections and a vote of the people. The West cannot simply be content with a situation where the difference between East and West. This same short distance has provided the escape route for thousands of East Germans who have wished to leave East Germany, and indeed all of the Russian holdings, must be re-united by the rather simple process of having free elections and a vote of the people. The West cannot simply be content with a situation where the difference between East and West.

The ill-fated summit meeting that was to discuss this problem was used by the Soviets to create more uncertainty in an already disturbed situation. It was the hope of the West that any compromise could be made on the question of this city. This now appears more doubtful than ever.

Even as recently as last weekend was there talk by Khrushchev of some sort of agreement on this city, in some six to eight months. Later there will be a different paper of our country.

There is only one way to deal with the Russians and that is from a position of obvious power. They not only don’t recognize any form of international law, they do not believe in honor or principle, they never will.

What compromise can be made with the Russians? A look at the past will show that treaties, agreements and promises mean nothing at all to the men of the Kremlin. In the more than 30 years that this government has been in existence it has entered into almost 1000 agreements of one sort or another, and has broken its word to virtually every country with which it has ever made an agreement.

In order to make a treaty with the Russians we must be in a position to enforce the terms of any treaty by armed force. An armistice will be useless.

As long as the people of Russia are ruled by such men as Khrushchev there can be no trust between us, and without trust there can be no real treaty, agreement or compromise. CHENEN HIGH MAY BECOME EW BUILDING

Cheney high school students have been coming to classes at Eastern as part of the college’s honors program.

It may not be long before Eastern students may be going to classes at Cheney high school.

The college board of trustees last week were told by Richard C. Langton, Cheney superintendent of schools, that the high school building was valued at $250,000, the land at $40,000, and that the Cheney school district would sell it to the college for that.

The Cheney district is planning a new high school. Eastern’s board of trustees named two board members, Harvey Brickman and Joe Smith, to investigate the offer. The high school building would probably be used by Eastern’s division of language and literature, and enable it to provide enlarged speech and foreign language classes.

In other action, the board accepted the resignation of John Curry, assistant professor of sociology; Edward S. Baldwin, assistant professor of education, and of Anne Johnson, student union food service director.

The board also appointed William D. Thomas, acting assistant professor of education, as assistant professor of English; Ted McDonald, reappointed as visiting assistant professor of history; Everett Bagley, reappointed as visiting instructor in business education, and Jeanne Foster Wardian as part-time visiting assistant professor of voice.

SIT-IN SUPPORT SALE

Forty dollars was collected between Whitworth college and Eastern in sympathy demonstrations held last week at the colleges.

Eastern’s United Student Christian Foundation and Whitworth’s Christian Fellowship staged the demonstrations as an indication of their sympathy for, and support of Negro students involved in racial non-violent sit-in demonstration in the South.

The two organizations sold black ribbons for 10 cents each for both moral and financial support for Negro students involved.

The money collected for the ribbons was divided equally between the Eastern and Whitworth organizations.

Rev. Haskell Harper, USCSP adviser said the main purpose of the demonstration was not to pay money, but to get students to identify themselves with the movement. The demonstration was a success, Harper said.

NEW TELEPROMPTER—Ed Hamble, KEWC’s station manager, demonstrates the use of a new teleprompter machine to a class in radio production and programming. The teleprompter, the type used at most TV stations, will be used by the TV announcing classes to give the students experience with professional equipment.

JAB, JAB, JAB!—First stop in the route to the blood letting was the registration table where Wes Stroft survives the blood-alcohol test given by ROTC Sponsor Gay Sisich. The next blood-curdling shot shows Wes winning his Red Badge of Courage with the help of Carol Sulpizio, one of the ROTC Sponsor corps who helped the Spokane Blood Bank make its collections. One hundred seventy-eight pints were collected in last Thursday’s drive which fell short of previous efforts and was hampered by the lack of adequate space. Competition among campus living groups for the largest turnout was won by Hudson hall with 30 per cent of the residents giving blood. The winner’s plaque, donated by the Cheney Chamber of Commerce, will be presented by EWC President Dr. Don S. Patterson. The blood drive is to be a semi-annual event sponsored by the Evergreen company of the Association of United States Army.
Frost Orientations

Heads Are Named

With the choosing of the committees and committee heads for next fall quarter’s freshmen orientation, assistant general chairman Dave Burger, looking forward to one of Eastern’s most successful orientation weeks.

ASB Committee

Naming Delayed

Most of the final selections of persons for ASB committee posts will be made until April 23. ASB president Paul Hooper said.

The committee and some of the committee members are being chosen at the present time, but the majority of committee workers will not be appointed until the fall quarter begins.

"Therefore, if you have not been notified do not assume that your application has been disregarded," Hooper added.

Fossey is Speaker

"Why Music in A Scientific Age," was the topic of speech given by Dr. Wallace Fossey, assistant professor of music at Eastern, last week at a meeting of the Spokane Choral Directors’ Guild.

Japanes Wedding

A foreign student who graduated in 1959 from Eastern, Nasako Sawada, was recently married at the Miyako hotel in Kyoto, Japan, to Akira Hira, shown here cutting the cake after their wedding. Mrs. Javely graduated from Eastern with honors, and received both a B. A. in education and a B. A. with a major in English. Mr. Javely is manager of an electric condenser factory in Tokyo.

Vet’s Pay Forms

Veterans’ pay forms covering the May pay period are now available for signature, Mrs. Wynn Glessner, veteran’s assistant, said.

For most veterans, these pay forms will include the entire month of May, but veterans who have been student workers will have to be paid in accordance with the final date of their work.

Pay forms for the 10 days of June may be signed any time after June 5, the week of final exams, the assistant said.

30 Grades in One-Year Program

More than 30 college or university graduates are now enrolled in Eastern’s minimum time teacher preparation program for graduates with a liberal arts or science degree.

Dr. Roland B. Lewis, head of the EWCCE education division, said last week that the present program, new this year, allows students with bachelor’s degrees and pre-professional requirements generally in three regular college quarters. Additional units can usually be met during the regular quarter, one summer session and two other quarters.

Students generally complete courses in introduction to education and educational psychology in the first quarter.

During a second or third quarter, they complete practice teaching.

The final quarter is devoted to preparation for the state certification examination of individuals to find a challenging profession, and if all goes well the material of each chair.

Starting with the commercial chairs sell for from $250 to $600, one cushion requires a half aisle of gluing together. Lacquer is added in the final act.
Carpenter, Fuller, Seth Win In NAIA Meet, To Compete In Nationals at Sioux Falls

Four Eastern trackmen took first places in the NAIA district meet last Saturday at Whitworth, and although no team scores were kept, Eastern was the unofficial district champion.

Clyde Carpenter won the mile in 4:16.5, a new record, breaking the old mark of 4:21.4 which Carpenter set in 1960. He also finished fourth in the 880. He also finished fourth in the 880.

Gary Fuller took first in the 120 yard high hurdles in the record time of 14.4, breaking the old record of 14.5. Fuller was third in the 220 low hurdles.

Larry Seth, competing in the hop, step and jump, won it with 45-7. This was a new event for the district meet. Seth also got a second in the broad jump and tied for third in the high jump.

Glenn Gunderson, with a heave of 207-10¼, took first place in the javelin.

NAIA coaches, meeting after Saturday's event, picked 10 athletes to compete in the NAIA nationals this weekend in Sioux Falls, S. D. They picked three from Eastern—Carpenter, Fuller and Seth—and two from Whitworth, UPS, Central, Western, Seattle Pacific and Whitman each had one.

The Savages, leading the field in unofficial team scoring, had 45 points in the meet. Central was second with 42.

Others gaining points for Eastern were Stapleton, with thirds in the 100 and 220; Frederick, third in the mile; Ekholm, second in the shot put; Davis, third in the shot put; Clark, second in the pole vault; Rhoades and Liberty, tied for third in the pole vault.

Carpenter, Fuller and Seth weren't the only record breakers in the meet. University of Puget Sound's Jack Higgins took the 100 in 10.2 and also won the 220. Coaches and the press voted him the outstanding athlete in the meet.

Whitworth's Fred Shaffer set a new district record of 10-2, and Daryle Russell, another Pirate, broke the 440 record of 2:09.2.

Four records fell in the intramural track meet held last week as men from Hudson hall out-pointed all comers to win over Sutton, Garry and the commuters 78½ to 55½, 10-2, respectively.

Of the four records which fell, three were set by Hudson men. Bob Bender turned in an outstanding performance by setting a new record of 21 feet 2 inches in the broad jump and a new record in the 100 yard dash of 10.3. Bender was a busy man all day as he was also first in the low hurdles.

Dan Suphin set a new record in the javelin with a toss of 147 feet 6 inches, bettering the old mark by 2 feet 11 inches.

Garry's Tom Fletcher also set a new record in the 880 by running the distance in 2:09.2. The old mark was 2:11.5.

Hudson's Ed Thill and Sutton's Willie Strite tied the old record at 5 feet, 9 inches in the high jump.

It's easy as TF. (Yes, you can do it in the bathtub.) Assuming that you have first visited your friendly tobacco conist, simply light your first Winston and smoke it. Reasoning backwards, the discovery proceeds as follows: first, you will notice a delightful flavor, in the class of fresh coffee or of bread baking. Obviously, such flavor cannot come from the filter. Therefore, it's what's up front that counts: Winston's Filter-Blend. The tobaccos are selected for flavor and mildness, then specially processed for filter smoking. This extra step is the real difference between Winston and all other filter cigarettes. Besides, it's why Winston is America's best-selling filter cigarette.

New budgets this year are those for the Literary Art Press and the Citizenship Clearing House. The Literary Art Press fund is set up to help defray costs of printing for two issues next year.

The Citizenship Clearing House is a non-partisan group which enables interested college students in politics. These funds were allocated for a legislative seminar to be conducted by the group in Olympia next year.

Burger said that the men's athletics budget consisted approximately 35 per cent of the funds allocated, and he further stated that these funds are used to carry on all inter-collegiate athletics in which EWCE participates.

He explained that student benefits are reflected in the salaries for the past office personnel in the alumni office and the stage manager.

"Punds allowed for '87-'88," said Burger, "are used for only those expenses that are paid in advance, and that are due by the beginning of the year.

He explained that student union programming as the use of many of the new services offered in the union this year, such as art exhibits, bowling centers, and dance halls, will be paid for by the student union.

"Sport is a budget that was started just this past year and these funds are used for housing, travel, and food, and are for the benefit of all athletic teams," said Burger.

Up to graduation from Eastern, Mrs. Irving plans to live in the Spokane area, where her daughters, four granddaughters and many friends are located.

Alumni Get Letters from Wayne Hall

Letters were mailed last week to alumni and friends of the alumni association to announce that the letter fellowship fund, and the scholarships for students who have earned an A or a B grade induct are being established. The alumni association, said, will be used to aid deserving students in financial need. Provision has been made so that eligible students with average and above grades may be honored.

For students of merit who have from a C to an A or B grade induct have been established. For students with average or higher, scholarships will be awarded.

The alumni board felt that by adopting these regulations, the Alumni Association can be equipped to receive much-needed additional assistance from its friends. The provision for one dollar a year being invested, each alumni will be used toward the purchase of a new residence on the campus, and the present one is only worn and serviceable.

Mrs. Irving Retires

HOUSEKEEPER FOR 10 YEARS

Mrs. Annie Irving, Louise Anderson hall director, will retire at the end of the summer quarter after 10 years of service at EWCE.

After serving as housemother at WSU, where she began her housemothering career in 1938, Mrs. Irving served in that capacity at Whitman, and, in 1940-44, at Oregon State college.

She arrived at Eastern in September, 1949 and spent her first two years here working in the food service at Monroe hall.

When Louise Anderson hall opened April 1, 1951, Mrs. Irving took over as hall director. Since that time, she has noted a great many changes on-campus, including, she says, the dormitory hours for women (formerly midnight on weekdays).

"Perhaps one of the most interesting changes I have seen," Mrs. Irving recalls, "has been the change in the school's government. From one largely controlled by the administration to one controlled to a greater extent, by the students."

"It seems," she said, "that the students are gradually accepting more and more responsibility, in many matters."

I have enjoyed working with the young people through these years in very much, I will miss them and the school when I leave, for I have loved growing with each of them."

Housemothering, Mrs. Irving would, at times, peculiarly dull. She surprisingly remembers one moment when the electricity at the dorm went out just at the dinner hour.

"The boys on campus made the most of it. We galloped the candles in the dorm and lit a big fire in the fireplace. The boys downstairs, however, organized very well and blew them out as soon as we lit them. I had to walk a good many of them back down the stairs."

Upon "graduation" from Eastern, Mrs. Irving plans to live in the Spokane area, where her daughter, four granddaughters and many friends are located.

"Perhaps one of the most interesting changes I have seen," Mrs. Irving recalls, "has been the change in the school's government. From one largely controlled by the administration to one controlled to a greater extent, by the students."

"It seems," she said, "that the students are gradually accepting more and more responsibility, in many matters."

I have enjoyed working with the young people through these years in very much, I will miss them and the school when I leave, for I have loved growing with each of them."

Housemothering, Mrs. Irving would, at times, peculiarly dull. She surprisingly remembers one moment when the electricity at the dorm went out just at the dinner hour.

"The boys on campus made the most of it. We galloped the candles in the dorm and lit a big fire in the fireplace. The boys downstairs, however, organized very well and blew them out as soon as we lit them. I had to walk a good many of them back down the stairs."

Upon "graduation" from Eastern, Mrs. Irving plans to live in the Spokane area, where her daughter, four granddaughters and many friends are located.

Alumni Get Letters from Wayne Hall

Letters were mailed last week to alumni and friends of the alumni association to announce that the letter fellowship fund, and the scholarships for students who have earned an A or a B grade induct are being established. The alumni association, said, will be used to aid deserving students in financial need. Provision has been made so that eligible students with average and above grades may be honored.

For students of merit who have from a C to an A or B grade induct have been established. For students with average or higher, scholarships will be awarded.

The alumni board felt that by adopting these regulations, the Alumni Association can be equipped to receive much-needed additional assistance from its friends. The provision for one dollar a year being invested, each alumni will be used toward the purchase of a new residence on the campus, and the present one is only worn and serviceable.

"Sport is a budget that was started just this past year and these funds are used for housing, travel, and food, and are for the benefit of all athletic teams," said Burger.
