Spokane Fairgrounds offers 9See Pacific Coast League baseball games during the summer. Tickets may be obtained from a college receptionist by presenting student ID or by going to the gate. Spokane plays league-leading Vancouver this week.

Creative Arts Program Varied

About 35 high school students from Washington, Idaho and Oregon are attending the Eastern Summer Arts Program at Eastern May 31 through July 4.

Now in its third year, the Creative Arts Series invites students to explore and experience the various areas of the Creative Arts. These areas are Art, Drama, Music and Radio-Television and Dance.

Many of the 10 days of classes and students either concentrate on one area of study or explore several different areas.

U. George Loshencher, Director of Fine Arts, said the variety of the students is born of the fact that they are held under scholarships presented to them by the local governments.

Numerous recreational opportunities are offered. Students may choose to do other activities participated with the cooperation of the H. P. E. department. There are also excursions for students to attend remember and Piano, and through these activities to experience life.

Using the two-week session will be the opportunity for these students to demonstrate the results of their studies. This program is open to the public.

A SUMMER SESSION SIP—With the return of students to Eastern's campus in full over the state, the days, too, are returning on campus. The atmosphere, broken on the long, warm evenings by the voices of odd, who cry on and used to "bene up for the summer."

ASC Announces Summer Set-Up

Bob Clark, ASC treasurer last year, was appointed ASC Summer Chairman and will carry all the duties of the regular student body, particularly the jobs of treasurer and secretary.

According to Clark, the main purpose of the summer chairman is to keep student government going between Spring and Fall quarters. Besides working with the Student Office and taking care of any correspondence there is, Clark will also finish planning and the National NSA convention to be held in August.

Until July 27, he will be in the student center daily from 2:30 until 5 p.m. after that he will be there mornings.

Tennis Team Scores Again

John Hansen, Ron Knudsen, Bill Wright and Keith Vind-In- men, members of EWSF's tennis team, placed fourth in a national tennis tournament.

Three Texas colleges took the top three positions in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics national team's tournament.

In the four-team tournament, EWSF received its sister university, Texas Christian, because it is the only team that receives the top seed.

ASC: Tennis Team Wins the Summer Session Championship

The tournament was held June 6 and 7 in Kelso.

Summer Session Openings Still Available

As of now, there are still openings available for the summer session. Students who wish to take part in the summer session should contact the Office of the Dean of Students, Martin Hall.

The summer session will consist of three parts: the first part will be held from June 2 to June 26, the second part from June 27 to July 11, and the third part from July 12 to July 26.

The summer session is open to all students who meet the prerequisites for the courses they wish to take.

The summer session is designed to provide students with the opportunity to complete their coursework in a more relaxed environment.

In addition to traditional classroom instruction, the summer session offers various extra-curricular activities, such as sports teams, music groups, and community service projects.

The summer session is an excellent opportunity for students to explore new interests, complete their degree requirements, or simply take a break from the regular academic year.

For more information about the summer session, please contact the Office of the Dean of Students at Martin Hall.
A Last Look at Birth Control

By Jack Hickman

It seems there has been a great deal of feeling aroused over an article entitled "Birth Control on Campus." I may be awakening a sleeping giant, but since much concern has been expressed by persons that I never thought our small journalistic endeavor, "The Easterner," would reach, I feel that one parting shot is needed.

If I have offended anyone as deeply as some of the letters we have received seem to imply, I am deeply sorry, but if some of these people so "morally outraged" would only look beyond their outraged noses they would see that there is a problem and that we would be fools not to accept a solution which is so very obvious. The article merely commented on this very sensible alternative to what are quite often involved in the problem, so why shouldn't comments be directed at this age group?

For those who are shocked to see such common sense in print (where "young people" can read!) I suggest that they turn to such torrid magazines as "Ladies Home Journal." McCalls, and that disgusting nasty magazine "The Penthouse Digest." (Recommended reading in most high schools.) Even this lovable little article was an article on those terrible little pills written by a Catholic mother who, in fact, condones them. If people are so concerned with the youth of our nation reading such facts of life, I suggest that they look a little farther; say into last week's "Life" magazine (a weekly with nationwide circulation, which I am sure many young people read). There they would find a very comprehensive study entitled "Homosexuality in America," complete with pictures. Isn't it terrible to see such common sense in print? I suggest that they turn to "Life." I hope this is all . . . Peace.

Some folks seem to think the best way to preserve freedom is the way Aunt Matilda preserved her prize china—don't let anybody use it—Changing Times.

QUESTION: DO YOU THINK WE SHOULD HAVE FREE COLLEGE EDUCATION FOR THOSE QUALIFIED?

J. Douglas Smith (Graduate): "I believe that any individual who has the ability and desires to benefit from college training should have the opportunity to do so. Although there may be better means of achieving this end, I would not oppose state-supported colleges. The cost of unemployment is so great that we, as a people, cannot afford not to invest in education."

Gloris Stuart (Junior): "Many people do not have the necessary desire for higher education until experience has proved that it is a necessity. When they are able to take the free education is no longer possible. For many, there is no motivation therefore I believe the free system is non-possible."

Bettie Jungersen (Junior): "Rather than free college education, the possibility of a two-year program. The standards must be rigid to limit the number of eligible for one obvious reason, to avoid government intervention in our educational system."

QUESTION FOR NEXT WEEK: UNEMPLOYMENT IS A PROBLEM FACING OUR STATE. WHAT SOLUTION DO YOU HAVE? Submit answers to the Eastern office, room 202, 305, before noon Friday.

Sam and Charlie Discuss Rights

Ed. Note: Tom Wilson, now an Eastern student, wrote a little piece for his old Alma Mater, Northwest Nazarene College, last quarter that afforded us with some interesting points and comments. The following is an excerpt of his piece.

By TOM WILSON

"Boy Charlie, those civil rights groups should be outlawed after observations in the hope it will do what they did at the World's Fair." "What would you do if you were colored and you couldn't live where you wanted, or eat where you wanted, or send your kids to a decent school? And if you did get your kids in a good school, how would you feel when they came home crying and asked why the white kids hated 'em and called 'em dirty names? You'd be pretty mad wouldn't you?"

"Well, maybe. Might even go out and stand in front of a few cars if you wanted, or eat where you were denied, or send your kids to a decent school. And if you did get your kids in a good school, how would you feel when they came home crying and asked why the white kids hated 'em and called 'em dirty names? You'd be pretty mad wouldn't you?"

"Well, er, ah, yeah, I guess so. You'd want to do things to improve the situation, wouldn't you?"

"Probably."

"Right, Sam. There are some guys in the senate that are nuts! It's not gonna make it through the House. After all what about some guys in the senate that are nuts! It's not gonna make it through the House.

"Sure I'd be mad, but I'd have some sense. After all what about some guys in the senate that are nuts! It's not gonna make it through the House. After all what about some guys in the senate that are nuts! It's not gonna make it through the House."
