President's Letter:

All of us at Eastern deeply appreciate the effort of many parents and lay people interested in the education of our young college men and women. The recent decisions of the state Department of Education to consider the implementation of referendum 10 and 11 will mean that we shall presently present a superior program in the education of our students. The new facilities provided for in the referendum are not only provided for in the present program comparisons but will make the Eastern College of Pharmacy and Science a state and throughout the nation.

The students and faculty of Eastern are also grateful that the referendum has been passed. I am proud to have state-supported colleges, like Eastern. Just a little pride in the collective institutions will mean a step forward in educational welfare.

Dol. F. S. Pettit,
President

NSAPexy Condemns Segregation

Speaking on behalf of members of the National Student Association, Melba Peabody, president of the Pennsylvania chapter of the National Student Association, condemned yesterday to President Rockefeller, the action of the Board of Trustees in increasing tuition at the University of Pennsylvania. She stated that this action is a violation of the educational policies of the university and of the NAACP's opposition to segregation.

President Rockefeller has officially received the statement, which is a part of the NAACP's opposition to segregation. The university has said that it respects the right of students to organize and protest, but that it will not tolerate any form of discrimination.

Former Teacher Author of New Book on Fur Trade

By Isabel Ann Miller

"All the issues of the fur trade are explored in the new book of Mrs. Carl Drury's family history, "The Fur Trade of the Middle West."

In her book, Mrs. Drury brings to life the experiences of her ancestors in the fur trade. She notes that the fur trade was a major industry in the early days of the United States, and that it played a significant role in the development of the country.

The book is divided into five parts: The Early Days, The Middle Period, The Decline, The Revival, and The Future. Each part contains detailed information about the history of the fur trade, as well as personal anecdotes from the Drury family.

The book includes a wealth of information on the fur trade, from the early days of the colonies to the modern era of the fur industry. It is a must-read for anyone interested in the history of the fur trade.

The book is available from most major bookstores, or can be ordered directly from the publisher. It is a hardcover book, measuring 8 x 10 inches. The price is $25.00, plus shipping.
