Kingston Trio Smash Hit: EWC Folk Jam Showalter

by Charmie Anderson
The Kingston Trio, the nation's number one recording stars, entertained an overflowing crowd in Showalter auditorium last Thursday. The auditorium was so packed that there wasn't even a good spot to stand in.
The three 21-year-old lads started with a bang with a favorite on the hit parade, "Sara Jane." Then the dynamic, versatile group continued the program taking the delighted audience through Spain, France, Bahama, Mexico and Africa,

Varied Listening At EW Record Library

Selections, consisting of the light classical and classical music?

The music library offers a varied selection of works to any Eastern Washington college student who desires to take advantage of such an opportunity, according to Wendell Exline, music library supervisor. "All students, not just music majors and minors, are invited to use the library," stated Exline.

Would you like to listen to main themes from many semi-classic and light classic pieces, compose a new addition to the library, "Where's the Melody" by Morton Gould and his orchestra.

If you prefer opera, "Vandessa" by the American composer, Samuel Barber, may suit your taste. Or perhaps Berlioz' "Harold in Italy" will appeal to you. This selection consists of a series of orchestral episodes in which a viola plays the part of a child named Harold.

A music library employee will be on duty from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m. and 6:30 p. m. to 8:30 p. m. Monday through Thursday and 1 p. m. to 5 p. m. Friday to take care of students' listening needs.

A large selection of 78 rpm records is available for student use and may be checked out for three days. However, long playing recordings must be heard in the library. Other library facilities include music scores and reference books, which may be used at the library and instrumental method books which can be checked out for two weeks.

with each member of the trio proving to be a skilled musician on the banjo, guitar, and bongo drums.

The boys did a take off on Lawrence Welk's television show and also sang a selection from their new album, which they said was entitled "John Foster Dulles."

The trio sang many popular songs including "Three Jolly Coachmen," "Banana," "Tom Dooley," "The Zombie Jam-boree," "Coplas," and their top hit, "Winoweh," an African hunting chant.

Eastern students participated in the grand finale dedicated to an "anti-sin campaign." Students joined by clapping as the trio played the bongos and guitars and sang "When The Saints Go Marching In."

The trio, clad in bright red sports shirts, slacks and loafers looked like typical collegians.

They got their start performing in college hangouts at Menlo College in California. They practiced for one week before they decided to work together professionally.

The group is on a two week tour and will travel from Spokane to Juarez, Mexico, where they will appear at the La Fiesta club. On January 10, they will be on the Perry Como television show.

Interspersed with "wows," "go man," "weird," and other "cat" language was a fine musical program, after which the Kingston Trio went to the Student Union for an autograph session and to get better acquainted with Eastern students.

Dorms Will Have Isle Food Service

Hamburgers, ham salad or tuna sandwiches, potato chips and white or chocolate milk will be on the menu each day Sunday through Thursday at the dorms from 9 to 10 in the evening.

The Isle-land staff is making this service available and will take special orders if called in early, said Frank MacCreary, food service manager.

MacCreary also said that any order of 10 pizzas or more will be delivered free from Spokane any evening.

Thanksgiving Dinner To Be In LA Hall

A Thanksgiving day dress dinner sponsored by AMS and AWS members in cooperation with the dining hall staff will be tomorrow at the usual dinner hour in the cafeteria, according to AWS secretary Garnett Royce.

In bringing Thanksgiving with all the trimmings to Eastern, AWS and AMS members wish to make students realize the true significance behind the holiday. They believe that it means "not only giving thanks for what has been given students materially, but that it means giving understanding, blessings and friendship to others."

After dinner, a social hour to carry on this idea of Thanksgiving will be held in the lounge of Louise Anderson hall. This hour will include a talent show by Eastern students and an all-sing, according to Peg Simms, who is in charge of the social hour.

Other committee chairmen for the affair are Janice Tachibana, dinner arrangements; and Yvonne Brucks is in charge of after dinner refreshments to be served in the lounge.

USCF Speakers Tonight and Sunday

Reverend Donald Butenshon, pastor of the Emanuel Lutheran Church of Cheney, will present information about the Lutheran Church at the USCF heritage meeting tonight in Louise Anderson hall.

Many Lutheran churches in the United States are now involved in a union, so Reverend Butenshon will touch on this subject in his talk.

Students wishing to attend this meeting may take their dinner trays into the small dining room of Anderson hall at 5:30 p. m. The Reverend's speech will begin at 6 o'clock.

Dr. Howard Redmon, Whitworth college faculty member, will speak on the "Dead Sea Scrolls" at the USCF meeting Sunday, Nov. 23 at 6 p. m. in the Student Union.

The chance finding of these scrolls in 1947 touched off a series of events which have excited Bible scholars as have few similar happenings in the Christian era, USCF leaders said.

In a cave on the western shore of the Dead Sea, a young Bedouin noticed some dark oblong objects wrapped in linen and covered with a layer of pitch. When he unwrapped the objects and discovered the scrolls, he was quite unaware that he had stumbled upon the greatest Biblical discovery of modern times.

These writings may challenge a variety of rooted traditions and some religious ideas, particularly the origin of Christianity, according to a book written on the scrolls by Edmund Wilson. Several other books have been published on the meaning and significance of the scrolls.

"All students and the public are invited to come to this meeting to hear Dr. Redmon speak," states USCF director Reverend Hadley Harper.

Band Clinic Will Draw Top School Musicians Saturday

Eastern faculty members and students will get a chance to hear EWCE's "Savage" band and area high school bands as they "read" new band publications, ranging from jazz to the classics, at the 12th annual Eastern Washington band clinic Saturday in Showalter auditorium from 8 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

Such selections as Persichetti's "Symphony for Band," which contains some interesting percussion parts, and a Sauter-Finnigan arrangement for band, "Concerto for Dixieland Combo and Band," will be played by talented students, who will be looking at the music for the first time.

As in past years, the EWCE "Savage" band will contribute a substantial number of selections to the clinic. Another annual participant will be the Eastern Washington high school honor band, consisting of top high school students in Eastern Washington who applied for membership and were selected on the basis of musical merit.

Rogers Band Here

Participating for the first time will be a local Eastern Washington band, Rogers high school in Spokane, and a guest band from Northern Idaho, Moscow high school.

Junior and senior high school and college music directors from Eastern Washington, Northern Idaho, Northeastern Oregon, and a fringe area of Montana are expected to attend the instructional and informational event.

Speaking of the clinic, W. W. Thomas, local chairman, explained, "It enables directors to buy materials economically that are suitable for their particular school demands."

In addition to hearing pieces performed by the various bands, directors will "sit in" on a reading session of their own.

DEAN ELECTED NCPA OFFICER

Daryl Hagie, dean of students at EWCE, was elected vice president at the annual conference of the Northwest College Personnel Association, held on the University of Washington campus, Oct. 30 and 31.

Dean Hagie was accompanied to the conference by Janet Douglas, dean of women; Glen Maier, director of the guidance center; and Clara Kessler, Foreign Student adviser.

Pre-Registration Now

Pre-registration for all students began Monday and will continue through Friday, according to Mrs. King, bursar.

Students must use registration cards stamped "pre-reg," and all fees must be paid by the end of the quarter or pre-registration will be cancelled.

Polio Shots

Mrs. Mabel Boyle, Spokane County Nurse, will be at the Legion hall from 10 to 12 November 24 to give polio, DPT, and Smallpox immunizations. She will be assisted by members of the American Legion Auxiliary.

ASC Enforces Sunday Dinner Dress Policy

Proper Sunday dinner attire in the Louise Anderson dining hall is henceforth to be enforced by an action taken by the Associated Student Body council last week.

Following an all-campus dorm survey which indicated an overwhelming student approval of dress-up for Sunday dinner, the council defined proper dress as that outlined in the Social Chairman's handbook.

According to the handbook, casual or dressier is to be worn to Sunday dinners in Louise Anderson dining hall. This will comprise dress slacks, sport shirt, sport coat, sweater, or better for the men.

Women should wear same as campus, perhaps a little dressier — skirt, sweater, blouse, dress, anklets, flats, saddles, knit suit, wool dress, tailored suit or dress, heels, flats, hose, sometimes gloves, bag and hat.

Council action has authorized the dining hall personnel — particularly the cashiers — to turn away persons improperly attired. Students who defy the order or otherwise give trouble will be referred to the Campus Council for disciplinary action.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

In regards to Mr. Rizzuti's letter in this column last week, I feel that my letter of two weeks ago had to be written. I have had many people approach me whom I had never met before nor since and agree 100 per cent with my article.

I will agree with you, Mr. Rizzuti, on some of your points, but not all of them. I will agree with you that a majority of the yelling has been from Sutton and Garry halls. However, after all of last week's horriblowing for Garry hall (in the Easterner), where was their representative at the Rally Committee Meeting, Wednesday, Nov. 12. By the way Garry hall, your neighbors from Hudson hall weren't present either.

Mr. Rizzuti, you say the blame for unorganization is on the shoulders of the students. I cannot agree with you on this point. I feel that it is the job of the cheerleaders to have and direct yells that will organize the students. I believe that they had not accomplished that goal. However, I feel that the cheerleaders did show a very good improvement at the Southern Oregon game and for this, I would like to congratulate them.

I was wondering Mr. Rizzuti, if your article was the opinion of the freshman class or yourself and your friends.

By the way for those concerned, this article was also written in its entirety by me.

Representatives of IRC Attend Regional Seminars in Seattle

Meg Karnes, Mrs. Ruth West and Den Powelson, members of the International club, represented the IRC at the regional meeting of the collegiate council of United Nations at the University of Washington last week.

The group attended the seminars in preparation for the model United Nations meeting at the University of Southern California some time in April.

Dr. Kenileth Hossum, co-adviser to the IRC, stated that the seminars acquainted the students with leadership development and organization on the college campus.

Dr. Hossum and Dr. Raymond Schults, assistant professor of history, attended a meeting of the trustees of the Citizenship Clearing House in Spokane last week.

The CCH organization was created to interest and assist college students in entering practical politics.

According to Hossum, the CCH has recognized the widespread reluctance of college graduates to engage in politics and has devoted itself to the goal of encouraging effective participation by young college men and women in the political life of their communities.

Miss Masaka Sawada, president of the IRC, stated that Lt. Col. Eccles Scott, professor of military science and tactics at Eastern, would be the speaker at the meeting of the IRC, Tuesday, at 7:30, in the ASB room. She said that Scott would speak on "Nuclear Armament and National Security."

Editor's Note

The editor wishes to advise readers that the letter to the editor last week signed 'Garry hall' was also counter-signed by Garry hall's President Bruce McQueen. No letter will be published in The Easterner unless a person or persons identified to the editorial staff takes full responsibility for it.

I. K. Pledges Do Bit; Revamp Directory

Intercollegiate Knight pledges dressed in shining armor did their service-bit for Eastern last week by revamping the outmoded school directory located just inside Shewalter hall.

The pledges volunteered their services when they learned the directory had not been modified in years even though new offices have been added to Eastern and many old offices changed. Roy Clayton, I. K. recorder, directed the activity.

Timbre Tests Were Given

Beep! Boop de beep bop! Satellite signals?

No, the strange beeping sounds emitting from the music building recently were only evidence that all music majors and minors were undergoing musical talent tests.

Administered to Eastern Washington college music students for the first time this year, the Seashore Measures of Musical Talents test covered pitch, rhythm, loudness, time, tonal memory, and timbre (tone quality).

W. W. Thomas, assistant professor of music and test administrator, stated that the test will not guarantee a student musical success. "However," Thomas added, "it does indicate shortcomings which can be worked on, and it helps a

PROSE "Idiots in Ditch"

by Dr. Ray Schults and Dr. Dana Harter

The blush of autumn was hardly on the brow of one of our erstwhile Eastern professors, when he looked darkly upon his fellow humans and their erring vehicular ways and rashly predicted — with ill earshot of 'friends' — that the season's first snowfall would find the ditches of the highways of our fair land "filled with idiot drivers."

The first snowfall indeed found a nearby ditch of the Spokane to Cheney highway somewhat overcrowded with two drivers who erred spectacularly and spun their vehicle from the roadway.

These were none other than the rash prognosticator himself, Dick Dell, and a friend, Orland Killin, who, having learned wisdom, is keeping silent.

Hall Director Feted

Monroe hall director Johil Fertakis was treated by his men to a free marriage 'show-er' last week and Bill Hanlen announced his engagement in plenty of time to share all the festivities.

Also doused — but just to clean them up — were the hall President Charlie Havells and Terry West, a boarder. Neither Mr. Fertakis nor Hanlen confided just whom the lucky women might be.

person to capitalize on his musical assets.

First tried in 1909, the nationwide tests have been repeatedly revised so that they now furnish valuable information to music teachers.

After giving the tests many times, Thomas observed, "During the hubbub of football season people don't do as well as the joudless section of the test."

South America, Japan Travelogue Topics

Clara Kessler will present slides and a narratioll on her trip to South America in tomorrow's travelogue series, designed to acquaint students with the many areas of the earth.

Next, week, Cecil Dupey will talk and show slides on Japan.

A coordinated map display, part of the recently acquired series of world maps, is now on display in the third floor hall. The display shows the relationship of different areas in climate, vegetation, soil and economies, said Francis J. Schadegg, geography instructor.

UNICEF Christmas greeting cards ordered by Eastern students through the International Relations club may be paid for and picked up Thursday and Friday between 10 a. m. and 1 p. m. in the Student Union lobby.

Eastern Cadets Receive Military Student Honors

The Distinguished Military Student honor has been received by 12 advanced student cadets enrolled in Eastern's ROTC program, Capt. O. M. Padgett, assistant professor of military science and tactics, announced.

The honor is bestowed on cadets who exhibit "exceptional promise in military proficiency and leadership common in officers in the regular army." To attain this distinction, a cadet must be ranked scholastically within the upper ten per cent of his regiment and maintain above average grades in his preferred academic course.

All advanced ROTC students participating in the summer camp activities duty are eligible for the honor.

A board composed of ROTC staff officers at EWCE makes the final selection for the military honor based on exceptional qualities of achievement, proficiency, leadership and professional promise.

A greater percentage of honor cadets from Eastern receive direct commissions in the regular army than from any college in the northwest, Lt. Col. Eccies Scott, commanding officer reported.

Cadet Lt. Col. Linton announced the promotion of 31 cadets.

Receiving the rank of cadet M/Sgt. were Ace Cossairt, Joseph Cyr, Michael McCallum, Gary Owsley, Donald Schiltz, and Fred Sharp. These men will perform the duties of platoon sergeants.

Promoted to cadet SFC were Bernard Carlson, Robert Caruso, Jerald Cerenzia, Robert Childress, Lawrence Eggleston, Gary Gillespie, George Gruber, Richard Jacks, James Krotcheck, Milo Kure, Darrell Maertens, John Merrick, Donald Ring, Ted Schultz and Richard Palmer.

Snowy Battle Won 34-0

Eastern Washington finished the 1958 grid season Saturday by defeating the Red Raiders of Southern Oregon 34-0 before some 500 half-frozen fans.

The Savages dominated the play for the entire game and before the Ashland club could run more than one play from scrimmage the Redmen had crossed the goal line twice.

On the fifth play of the contest senior quarterback, Jim Bauer, passed to senior end, Dave McWhirter, for the first Eastern score. The play covered 40 yards.

Bauer Scores

The first time the guests had possession of the ball they fumbled and it was recovered by McWhirter. Four plays later Bauer rolled out around his own right end on the visitors' 10 yard line. Finding blockers to use he raced into the end zone. Alfons Alt missed his second try for a point, so with nine minutes remaining on the clock the Savages led 13-0.

After the ball had changed hands twice the Red Raiders went into punt formation. Rich Whitehead shot for the kicker from his left end spot and blocked the kick and the ball shot high into the air, and down into the waiting arms of middle line backer, Alt. He made the remaining 28 yards for the third Eastern score untouched. He then added the extra point and the half ended 20-0.

Bauer Again

Willie Jones opened the second half by returning the kick off 23 yards to the Red Raider 35. Ten minutes later Jim Bauer fumbled 31 yards to end the 88 yard march with another six points. Bauer collected 54 yards in four plays during the tuff.

Dave McWhirter got his first rushing touchdown of the season as well as his first ten yards on the ground. With about a half a minute left in the final frame Bauer rolled out to the right followed by McWhirter from his left end position. McWhirter took the pitchout from Bauer and got the final Eastern tally.

Nearents Converts

Dick Nearents followed the TD with his first point of the year by putting the ball through the uprights to finish the afternoons scoring.

Willie Jones had considerable hard luck all day. He had well over 100 yards in rushing called back by penalties including one touchdown. Jones only got 14 yards from scrimmage but in eight kick returns he averaged 16 yards.

Nearents got a considerably large hand from the rooters when he took a pass from quarterback Leroy Faling on a tackle eligible play. Nearents was tackled on the two but the play was nullified by a clipping penalty.

The Savages stopped the Red Raiders ground attack completely, with the visitors ending with a minus 10 yards rushing. The Redmen compiled 225 yards by rushing and 115 in the air, 11 more than their opponents who had, in an earlier contest, completed 23 passes.

Jr. Varsity Finishes One Win, Tie, Loss

The junior varsity football team finished their season with a 1-1-1 record. They played the Walla Walla State Prison twice and West Valley high school. They won one and tied the prison and lost to the West Valley high school.

Coach Dick Watson reported that Bob Butler and Paul Lerch were his outstanding players for the team. "But the whole team did a great job," he said.

Few Hear Music Con

Only a handful of students and faculty members attended a student music convocation in Showalter auditorium last Thursday at 10 a.m.

Almost as many students lounged in the rotunda outside the auditorium, oblivious of the worthwhile entertainment they were missing.

The varied program included

Members enjoyed a dinner of prawns or steak at the BOF lodge in Spokane. After dinner music and dancing were featured for approximately 40 members, faculty advisers, and guests.

both classical and contemporary selections. Janice Morris' able performance on the piano was followed by a vocal offering by Deanna Hamilton, soprano. Two piano selections were then competently handled by Ellen Dubes.

Soprano Norma Staudacker's rendition of "Deh Vieni Non Tardar" (Marriage of Figaro) by Mozart displayed a great deal of musical expression. Janet Walker and Patty Lane provided variation with two well-received contemporary pieces, and Norma Cooper's accurate and precise handling of the clarinet solo, "Concerto in G minor" by Handel concluded the program.

Accompanists for the performers were W. L. Rowles, music department head, and Armand Boatman.

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE-BUT TODAY'S L&M GIVES YOU-

They said it couldn't be done! Only a few years ago, the four-minute mile seemed unattainable. But on May 6, 1954, the barrier was shattered, and since then, the feat has been repeated again and again. Last summer five men bettered four minutes in one race!

Vets Should Check Pay Certification

"Promptness and accuracy should be the rule for all veterans attending school this fall," Leonard A. Clemens, of the Veterans Administration office in Spokane suggested today.

The monthly certifications of training are keystones of the GI bill, Mr. Clemens said. They should be submitted to the VA as soon after the end of the month as possible.

The monthly certifications should be checked for accuracy, any change in training status or dependency should be noted. Inaccurate reports — particularly those where the veteran receives more money than he is entitled to — can cause trouble and delay.

"For veterans who are prompt and accurate, monthly checks should come regularly," Clemens said.

The Veterans Administration office is located at 206 Hutton building, Spokane.

National Teacher's Scholarships Given

An increase of approximately 75 new U. S. Government scholarships for study in Latin America during 1959-60 under the Inter-American Cultural convention program was announced by the International Educational Exchange service of the State department.

The Institute of International

Education, which administers the government student scholarship programs, will accept applications for the new grants until January 15, 1959.

Those who have already applied for IACC scholarships need not make out new applications, but should notify the institute that they wish to be considered for the additional grants.

The added scholarships provide for study in a variety of fields in Bolivia, Colombia, Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Paraguay, Uruguay and Venezuela. They cover round-trip transportation, tuition and maintenance for one academic year.

For eligibility, applicants should be United States citizens, not more than 35 years old, have a bachelor's degree or its equivalent before departure, knowledge of Spanish sufficient to live and study in the country concerned and good health. A demonstrated capacity for independent study is also necessary.

Applicants will be asked for a summary of their reasons for desiring to study in the country of their choice and for a preliminary plan of their proposed study. Successful candidates will be affiliated with educational institutions in their host country.

The national teacher examinations, prepared and administered annually by the educational testing service, will be given at over 250 testing centers throughout the United States on Saturday, February 7, 1959.

For further information regarding the examinations, check with the Education office here on campus or contact the Institute of International Education, 291 Geary Street, San Francisco 2, Calif.

UW Offers Atomic Study Fellowships

Radiological Physics fellowships offering subsistence, tuition, and graduate work and Atomic Energy Commission laboratory experience are available for graduates with adequate natural sciences preparation.

The University of Washington is offering $2500 subsistence, all tuition fees, allowances for nine months academic graduate work and three months Atomic Energy Commission experience in connection with the Hanford Atomic plants, said Dr. D. M. Thomson, biology instructor.

Dr. Thomson, in his report on the Idaho Falls Symposium on Health Physics Training, explained that this training program has continued since 1949, but the supply of graduates is only about half that needed to fill requests for trained individuals.

"The A. E. C.," said Dr. Thomson, "distinctly desires candidates eligible for graduate school. My personal opinion and that of many instructors at the symposium is that the type of individual who would be successful and satisfied in this type of work would be less or the student type and more of the executive-public relations type."

Radiological physics, sometimes known as health physics, may be defined as the new science and progression devoted to the study, evaluation and control of radiation hazards.

Beginning salary after the year or special training has risen to nearly $6,000, said Dr. Thomson. For anyone interested in learning more about the program, Dr. Thomson will hold an explanation session in room S 121 tomorrow at 10.
