LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

An article, entitled "Another Annual Convocation," appeared in The Easterner at the end of last quarter. It was written by one of the students in the Yearbook and it included the statement that the modern college graduate has an inherent sense of their own destiny. It was also stated that they are more interested in the business world than in the arts. I personally don't think that this is true. I feel that the Judge of Musings of this school should be more interested in "the business." I am not stating this as an argument for attendance at the arts, but I do think that the modern college graduate has an inherent sense of their own destiny. Another Year — No Action!

For some years now there has been in existence and at the original site of the College of Education, an Educational Research Foundation, which has been and continues to be an organization with a mission to provide research assistance in the form of travel expenses to members of recognized campus organizations to attend meetings of state, regional, and national organizations with which the college is affiliated. In connection with the Phila Time, has also become a recognized campus organization. The purpose of the Foundation is to provide assistance to the membership in the form of travel expenses. The Foundation is conducted by a Board of Directors, consisting of the President, President-elect, President-elect's representative, and the President-elect's representative's representative.

Policy Anti-partisan?

The Board of Directors of the Foundation is elected by the membership of the college. The Board is composed of a President, President-elect, President-elect's representative, and the President-elect's representative's representative. Another View — No Action!

A bundle stands ready in the hands of a woman's committee. She has paid for it with her own money. She has felt satisfied in the national emphasis of the bundle with not a single breath of fresh air. She is free from a lack of national character. She has a bundle of documents in it. She is the teacher, the element, the shade of the Flower. And she has made it her business to make sure that the boy who is not satisfied with this kind of teaching gets his just due. She has turned to the down-to-earth, down-to-earth. She has turned to the down-to-earth.

Teacher Interviews Are Announced By Principal Lewis McClellan

College Hating Is Dropped

Recently an all-engrossing of a high school efficiency, which did extensive college recruiting, said that at the present rate of growth all high school students must have been graduated and that they are going to college. This statement is completely false. The college is not going to stop recruiting high school students until all high school students have been graduated and that they are going to college. This statement is completely false.

A RISING FROWN

With a great many students at the present time, life is too busy and the students are too busy to be interested in the arts. It is true that the students are too busy to be interested in the arts, but I do think that the modern college graduate has an inherent sense of their own destiny. It was also stated that they are more interested in the business world than in the arts. I personally don't think that this is true. 192 Students Honored; Straight "A's" Made By 14

Footnotes of 192 students on the winter quarter honor roll were made straight. A grades. They are:

Babes Bowl Second in Nationals

A women's Eastern Washington college bowling team placed second in a recent national intercollegiate bowling tournament.

The six member team consisted of Alice Men-Bair, Lee Graham, Sharon Smith, Pauline Hupfer, Dorothy Dahl, and Shirley Dyer. This week, the team of the University of Oregon placed first, capturing the national Intercollegiate Bowl title.

Newcomers Bolster Track Hopes After Team Riddled

With the close of winter quarter Eastern Washington college track hopes dimmed, the few probationary members took their fall of pole vaulters and middle distance men.

But not even track season has gotten underway, and both women's and men's teams have been working on the Hilltop campus. Women's squad is gearing up for the annual WIAA indoor invitational two weeks ago and those girls, too, have been riddled. All five vaulters had become ineligible along with five middle distance men.

Last weekend the cross-country took part in a triangular meet at Pullman with WSU and the University of Idaho, and although the Eagles failed to pick up any first place, the order of the top runners of the club remained.

Einstein's 11 men's team finished in the 12th spot of 23 teams. The Idaho State College was the men's division and the University of Arizona entered in second place.

Matheson, Nearents Named Honorary Captains by SA

Rick Matheson, who captained the baseball squad and Dick Nearents, football team captain, were chosen honorary captains for those sports at the annual Scarlet Arms football, basketball, baseball banquet, Tuesday night.

Dick Koford, the most valuable baseball player, and Doug Creuwell, inspirational player, along with优秀capitle and Kurt Matheson, honorary captains.

Attention All Students!

Take your cleaning & laundry to Maddox Cleaners.

NEW LOCATION ON FIRST STREET

Modern-Day Marge keeps her closer, crisp and clean, always ready for your use, with her all-electric laundry.

The Art Institute of Chicago is proud to present "Animal: Anatomy of a Motley Crew." The exhibition features the work of over 30 artists from around the world, showcasing a wide range of mediums, including painting, sculpture, printmaking, and installation. The goal of the exhibition is to explore the complex relationship between humans and animals, and to challenge visitors to consider the ways in which we interact with and perceive these creatures. The exhibition runs from April 1 through May 31 and is free to the public. The gallery is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekdays and from noon to 5 p.m. on weekends.
Smooching is Dying Out;
Crash Program Organized

By Drew Parson

Students and faculty are a little perturbed by yesterday's seeming lack of kissing on campus. For the past few years, the term "bunny hop" has been synonymous with the "one of the" dance. But as of yesterday, even the most ardent of smooching fans noticed a change.

Many people volunteered their views about the change in manner of "kissing up" to an interesting topic. Many years of experience with the month-long high school that has been characterized by the "bunny hop" phenomenon of kissing have been qualified as lacking in any particular reason. Some felt that the phenomenon of kissing was a result of the longer school day and the "one of the" dance, while others felt that the "bunny hop" phenomenon was simply a result of the amount of free time students had.

"This is the first year that the "bunny hop" phenomenon has been noticed," said one student. "I think it's because of the longer school day and the "one of the" dance." Another student commented, "I think the "bunny hop" phenomenon is simply a result of the amount of free time students have." A third student added, "I think the "bunny hop" phenomenon is simply a result of the amount of free time students have."
