Sallsbury Examinees Causes And Effects Of Russia-Red China Conflict

Sharon Belden

What is the source of conflict between Russia and Red China? Has it not been realized before? What effect will it have on the United States?

For most of the world, the question was not "coming," but "present," for the conflict was already here. Salisbury related that when he first studied the conflict he was shocked. People had been duped by the Communist attempts to make them believe that the conflict was not "coming," but "present," for the conflict was already here.

"Since Marx there has never been a doctrine so interpreted by conflict that it is split apart," Salisbury explained, "there are only two Socialist and their creed a meaningless theory suddenly unified. In Russia, the doctrine became the Bolshevik party, the party of Lenin, becoming the leader of the Bolshevik or majority party.

During this period, Salisbury attempted to find the real relationship between the two giants. The first tangible evidence he found was the Mongol region, a large country between Russia and China. Without visiting the country in 1959, Salisbury first noticed that all labor was done by the Chinese "blue army," so named because of their clothing. The reason for this, he found, was that these workers were sent at a "very low pay." Salisbury mentioned that when the work was completed, the workers were given "Mongol citizenship." This was explained by Salisbury as an attempt to place the "fifth column" inside the country.

The relationship of the Russians to the Chinese, Salisbury noted, was not necessarily not one of unity. The remoteness of the Russian people toward the Chinese was evident.

Salisbury cited several reasons for the Russia-Red China conflict, one of which was having geopolitical bases. First, Salisbury noted, was Communist sentiment for her many people. Her population of 900,000,000 is expected to reach 1 billion by 1970. While China needed, explained, s land. Since Russia's neighbor, her land is the most accessible to China.

The Russians, Salisbury said, are as well aware of this. Khuru, another form to explain, has been a prevalent form to explain, coming several years ago and existing in Russian society in the area along the Amur river. Russia has not reduced the military installation sent there to guard against the Japanese during the Sino-Japanese War.

Another area of conflict, Salisbury pointed out, comes from the fact that two nations are at a different stage of development. Russia is now the second industrial nation in the world. The people have struggled hard to achieve this and do not want to lose in a war.

On the other hand, Salisbury said, China is still working on industrialization. Being a have-not nation they need to expand and can gain from a war. Because they can not keep their people together by prosperity, they must thrive on fear of other nations. "Our lives complicate," Salisbury explained.

"Russians fear it." Although these nations may never meet with each other, Salisbury said, "they will come in contact and with each other for success in backward parts of the world." Presently the Chinese are attempting to move in on Cuba. Castro's policy, he said, is in line with that of Mao. Khru:chev, Salisbury sus­pected, will try to find another spot in which to exert his power.

Summarizing his opinion on how the conflict would affect the United States, Salisbury said, "Vulnerable areas will be benefited by this conflict, but at present we must have more discipline and determination."
At Eastern, the problem of the small campus seems to arise in one form or another. The Cheney Free Press does not have the facilities and students to, for instance, start newspapers. It is true that a daily newspaper can be run on a small campus, but it is a shame when genuine student interest is discouraged. When the students were all old veterans of the newspaper game, they could not be blamed for the suggestion that the newspaper should be shut down. The suggestion is ridiculous.

Dear Editor:

There is an old saying that "two chickens in every pot and two cars in every garage." This saying is used to illustrate the commonplace things that we take for granted in the world today. It is true that a daily newspaper is commonplace on Eastern's campus, but it is a shame when genuine student interest is discouraged. When the students were all old veterans of the newspaper game, they could not be blamed for the suggestion that the newspaper should be shut down. The suggestion is ridiculous.

Dear Editor:

I am writing to express my concern about the current state of the Cheney Free Press. As a student at Eastern Washington State College, I believe that a strong, independent student newspaper is crucial to fostering a healthy campus community. Unfortunately, recent changes to the newspaper's funding and editorial decision-making processes have raised concerns about its ability to serve its readers effectively.

First, let me address the issue of funding. The Cheney Free Press currently relies on a combination of advertising revenue and a small budget from Student Government to cover its operating costs. While this arrangement has allowed the newspaper to continue publishing, it has also limited its ability to cover important stories and investigative reporting. With the current economic climate, it is crucial that we find a more sustainable model for funding the newspaper.

Second, there have been concerns about the newspaper's editorial independence. As a student journalist, I understand the importance of having a voice in the direction of the paper. However, recent changes to the way the editorial board is selected and the topics that are covered have raised questions about the newspaper's commitment to covering a broad range of perspectives and issues.

In conclusion, I urge the Eastern Washington State College administration to take action to ensure the continued vitality of the Cheney Free Press. This involves finding a more sustainable funding model and ensuring the newspaper's editorial independence. A strong, independent student newspaper is essential to the health of our campus community.

Sincerely,

Thursday Night at the ASC
By Don Dressel

What's happening to the Associated Student Council? As soon as the weather started getting cool, it seemed the meetings became quite crowded. Perhaps the weather was the reason for some of the last week's meetings being held.

On Thursday night, the ASC met in the Student Center where they discussed the meetings held during the past week. There was a general discussion about the meetings and the results of the meetings. The council members were not satisfied with the lack of progress and decided to hold another meeting on Friday evening.

The council members also discussed the possibility of hosting a dance on Friday night. The dance was to be held in the Student Center and would be open to all students.

The council members also discussed the idea of having a barbecue on Saturday afternoon. The barbecue was to be held at the campus field and would be open to all students.

The council members also discussed the possibility of having a bonfire on Saturday evening. The bonfire was to be held at the campus field and would be open to all students.

The council members also discussed the idea of having a picnic on Sunday morning. The picnic was to be held at the campus field and would be open to all students.

The council members also discussed the idea of having a movie night on Monday evening. The movie night was to be held in the Student Center and would be open to all students.

The council members also discussed the idea of having a paper drive on Tuesday afternoon. The paper drive was to be held in the Student Center and would be open to all students.

The council members also discussed the idea of having a bake sale on Wednesday afternoon. The bake sale was to be held in the Student Center and would be open to all students.

The council members also discussed the idea of having a talent show on Thursday evening. The talent show was to be held in the Student Center and would be open to all students.

The council members also discussed the idea of having a scavenger hunt on Friday afternoon. The scavenger hunt was to be held in the Student Center and would be open to all students.

The council members also discussed the idea of having a trivia night on Saturday evening. The trivia night was to be held in the Student Center and would be open to all students.

The council members also discussed the idea of having a karaoke night on Sunday afternoon. The karaoke night was to be held in the Student Center and would be open to all students.

The council members also discussed the idea of having a movie marathon on Monday evening. The movie marathon was to be held in the Student Center and would be open to all students.

The council members also discussed the idea of having a game night on Tuesday evening. The game night was to be held in the Student Center and would be open to all students.

The council members also discussed the idea of having a day of service on Wednesday afternoon. The day of service was to be held in the Student Center and would be open to all students.

The council members also discussed the idea of having a charity concert on Thursday evening. The charity concert was to be held in the Student Center and would be open to all students.

The council members also discussed the idea of having a pet adoption event on Friday afternoon. The pet adoption event was to be held in the Student Center and would be open to all students.

The council members also discussed the idea of having a food drive on Saturday morning. The food drive was to be held in the Student Center and would be open to all students.

Four different ways to make going more fun than getting there

You can see why one of America's favorite outdoor sports is driving Chevrolets, with four entirely different kinds of cars to choose from. There's the Jet-smooth Chevrolet, about as luxurious as you can go without going overboard in price; the low-cost Chevy II, a good-looking car that would send any family packing; another family favorite, the sporty Corvair, whose rear-engine traction will make you think that ice and snow are kid stuff; and for pure adventure, America's only sport car, Corvette — now in two all-new versions with looks that can stop traffic like a rush-hour blizzard. Picked your favorite already? The next thing is to take the wheel at your Chevrolet dealer's. If that doesn't have you thinking of places to go, maybe you'd rather just have a ball around town!
EW Gymnasts Whip UBC, Beaten By U. Of Wash.

The University of Washington defeated Eastern Washington 105-23 in a gymnastics meet February 1, but the Savages bounced back to beat the University of British Columbia 74-35 on the following day.

Gunter Bohrmann, an import from Germany, paced the Huskies with 25 points. Bohrmann won three events as Washington took first in every event. Jim David picked up two firsts for Washington. Bob Hall, Harold Lyons, and Kjell Hansen, a Danish product, also won events for the Huskies.

Dan Winters of Eastern placed second in tumbling and Savage co-captain Ted Bryan was second in the still rings. Winters led Eastern with 8½ points.

Winters won three events and scored 19 points in the Savages' victory over British Columbia. Winters was first in free exercise, trampoline, and tumbling. Dick Brown was first on the horizontal bar and Chuck Messenger won the parallel bars for EWC.

Eastern had to forfeit matches in two divisions for lack of competitors.

Whitworth Tops Cold-Shooting EWC

The Whitworth Pirates defeated Eastern Washington 86-70 Saturday to improve their record to 11-6. The Pirates held the Pirates to a low shooting percentage and also managed to out-rebound the Savages 36-25.

Bob Hall, a Chicagoan, was third in the 100-yard freestyle. Jim Strom is the only returning letterman who will fend off the Huskies. Tibbits pointed out that two of Washington's top gymnasts, Gunter Bohrmann and Kjell Hansen, are from Germany and Denmark, respectively. Another, Bob Hall, is from Chicago.

The gymnasts got a chance to compete before a large crowd as part of the UW meet was at halftime and after the Washington-Portland basketball game.

Track coach Red Reese announced that he has 25 men turning out for track. Chuck Messenger, Evergreen conference pole-vault record holder, is the only returning letterman who will definitely compete this year. Dave Davis and Jim Stron are lettermen who may compete.

EW Rifle Team Wins

The Eastern Washington State College Army ROTC rifle team won an Inland Empire Rifle Conference meet Saturday, defeating Eastern Washington State University's Army ROTC team 1,379 to 1,377.

The University of Idaho Army ROTC team placed third. R. P. Smith of Idaho's Army ROTC team scored 288 of a possible 300 points to win top individual honors.

Attention Motorists

The City of Cheney has presently in effect an ordinance restricting overnight parking on city streets. The purpose of this ordinance is to enable city crews to plow snow without being hampered by parked cars. So that you may be informed of the provisions of that ordinance, they are printed below.

Ordinance D-45 - Article VIII, Sec. 76 (1). It shall be unlawful to park or to leave parked any vehicle on any street of the City of Cheney between the hours of 1 a.m. and 6 a.m. from December 1 to March 1.

It shall be unlawful to park or to leave parked any vehicle on any street of the City of Cheney except the central business district during heavy snowfall (heavy snowfall meaning a fall on the ground of two inches or more) at anytime between 4 p.m. and 7 a.m.

It should be noted that the last paragraph does not contain any time limits, but will go into effect with the advent of a snowfall of two or more inches, without warning.

Savages Make Final Home Appearance Against League-Leading PLU Knights

Eastern Washington makes its final home appearances of the 1963 basketball season this weekend. The Wildcats will play on Friday night and league-leading Pacific Lutheran Saturday.

The games are also the last regular season contests for the Wildcats, but they will play in the Everett Green conference tournament at Tacoma February 21-23.

Central whipped the Savages 94-48 at the start of conference action this year. Brad Wilson, 6'7 junior center, scored 22 points for the Wildcats in that game. Jerry Cote, Harold Biggan, Ron Olney also scored in double figures for CSWC. Jim Clifton, who missed that game, will be in the Wildcat lineup.

Pacific Lutheran boasts the league's top scorer, Tom Whalen, a junior center, gets plenty of help from Curt Gummell, Mark Fredericksen, Jim Castleberry, Dick Nelson, and Gus Kress.

Joe Allen, Eastern's leading scorer, hit 19 points against the Knights in the first round. Allen, Alex Woods, and Bob Frick have been the Savages' top scorers this season. Junior guard Dar Monasmith who has been scoring well lately, is another one the Savages will count on as they try to break their seven-game losing streak. Only one senior, Larry Gunn, will be in the Savage lineup.

Coach Red Reese may alter his starting lineup in an effort to turn around last week's losses to Gonzaga and Whitworth. The Savages managed only 82 points in the two games combined.

Rifle Team In Match

The Army ROTC Rifle team will participate in one of the NRA sectional matches, which will be held at Montana State college, Bozeman, Montana, Friday and Saturday, March 1 and 2.

Members of the team are:
Fred Wong, Rick Knowles, Jim Kimmell, Roger Graham, Allen Ellison, Norman Hicks, Don O. Clarke, Larry Harke, Gayle Hamm, Dave Taylor, Don Kinder, Roger Kas, Bud Drake, and Darryl Haggerty. Rick Nelson, Jerry Pederson, Terry Cripps, and Don C. Clark.

Members to travel to Bozeman will be selected from the above.

Rear Adm. B. Miller is coach.

The bounds of aprons are on women's teams. Soon beds the crown, soon will the giant eyeliner fade from view and be replaced by a stylish raccoon look. What will the women wear? How will they look? The time is now! The season is in full swing. The clothes are changing. The fashions are new.

"Well I know it's different but my legs get so tired." This seems to be what Dennis Lenz is thinking as he practices one of the many phases required for the successful gymnast.

'Zags Tromp Savages

Gonzaga University won its sixth straight "Cage Bowl" basketball game Tuesday night, trouncing Eastern Washington 80-40 at the Spokane Coliseum.

Gonzaga shot 42 per cent from the floor while Eastern could hit only 19 per cent. The Bulldogs also dominated the backboards, getting 77 rebounds to Eastern's 38.

Paced by Art Taylor the Bulldogs took a 14-3 lead early in the game. Taylor scored 14 points, all of them in the first half. Teammate John Rickman led all scorers with 16 points.

Alex Woods and Dar Monasmith each scored 13 points for the Savages. Monasmith scored the first and last baskets of the game.

All 12 of the Gonzaga players who got into the game figured in the scoring. Substitutes accounted for 47 of the Bulldogs' points as they played most of the game after the first 10 minutes.

Taylor was the game's leading rebounder with 12. Larry Gunn got 10 rebounds for Eastern.
