Stephan Friel

Steve Friel is Professor of Saxophone at Eastern Washington University where he also teaches woodwind techniques, jazz band, classical and jazz chamber ensembles and is interim director of the symphonic band. Since arriving in Washington 2 years ago, Mr. Friel has performed with the Spokane Jazz Orchestra, Couer d'Alene Symphony, Spokane Civic Theater, Bob Curnow Big Band and is currently serving with the 133rd Washington, Army National Guard Band from Camp Murray, WA.

Mr. Friel has a vibrant performance schedule with orchestras, musical theaters, cover bands and independent artists. He has performed for Broadway equity shows, played lead alto for Natalie Cole and performed with Tony Bennett. Mr. Friel can be heard on several cd's from the University of North Texas' Wind Ensemble and Two O'Clock Lab Band. His military service includes Oklahoma National Guard, Army Reserves, Texas National Guard to include deploying to Iraq in 2010-2011 in support of Operation Enduring Freedom, and now with the Washington National Guard. He has served for 31 years.
