Acknowledgments

So many things I'm grateful for, so little space! Thank you Dr. Graves, for welcoming me into this journey, supporting my passions, and sharing with me your devotion for creating beautiful music. Thank you Mom and Dad, for getting me started in piano and for encouraging me to keep doing the things I love. Thank you Aud, for putting up with a pandemic full of my practicing and for humoring me with Christmas duets. Thank you Kathryn, for being an amazing duo partner and for sharing so many laughs over a lot of fun music. Thank you Mr. Rednour, for all those wonderful insights and stories of yours that always got me thinking (and also usually laughing). Thank you Rose and Mrs. Brown, for kindling my initial enjoyment of playing piano. Thank you to my friends and extended family, for supporting me and taking an interest in my passion for music. And thank you God, for filling me with a love of music-making in the first place. I am so grateful for these past four years. I never could've imagined that something that began as a simple music minor would've resulted in experiences and connections that have made my time in college and my life in general so much richer.
