MUSIC AT EASTERN WASHINGTON COLLEGE

Eastern Washington College of Education offers a well-rounded curriculum in applied music, music theory and music education. Expert instruction is available for nominal fees in piano, voice, violin, organ and wind instruments. All types of ensemble groups provide rich experience for the serious student in vocal and instrumental performance.

Organized in 1934 by the present director, William Lloyd Rowles, the A Cappella Choir has long maintained an enviable reputation. Its concerts on tour and for dinner meetings and conventions throughout the state have merited enthusiastic praise. The spring tour of the choir, April 20-25, will take the group to Wilbur, Grand Coulee, Coulee Dam, Omak, Okanogan, Cashmere, Wenatchee, Yakima, Selah, Toppenish, Sunnyside, Prosser, Pasco and Sprague.

MUSIC AT EASTERN WASHINGTON COLLEGE

Since 1937, with the exception of the war years, the division of music has developed superior bands. The present organization has achieved remarkably fine results since its inauguration last September through the dynamic leadership of the director, Benedict T. Hallgrimson. Many outstanding high school graduates and returned veterans, including scholarship winners, are members of the band.

Music scholarships, entitling winners to free private weekly lessons with faculty members, have been held by seventeen students during the current year. Automatic eligibility for a scholarship is effected through winning the highest rating in a regional competition-festival. Similar achievement in a district festival is important in making a bid for this honor. Personal auditions for interested candidates may be arranged at any time by appointment with the head of the division of music, Professor William Lloyd Rowles.
